Duncan's Digest

Welcome to the latest edition of the Almanac, when the evenings are drawing in, and the rain keeps on falling. The final extended length of the season is now behind us, which I believe finished off another successful year of outdoor activities. As always, some lessons learned which hopefully means these annual calendar highlights will continue to go from strength to strength.

Our 2 - 4 year mining inspection went very well last month. We have been implementing several changes around the place. We have been advised by HM Mining inspectorate to move towards being an independent mine from the "Tour Side" so that will be a focus over the coming 6 months.

The big thing we are really struggling with is communication to the club and the outside world. The loss of Website functionality and forums is I think hitting us hard. Rest assured the new website is well under construction but is a mammoth task. We would hope to see it live by the end of the year, but in the meantime, keep an eye on the events page, drop us an e-mail or give us a call in the shop.

I'd like to just remind everyone the finished rendered walls do not require painting meaning they are maintenance free. This plan breaks down when people draw on them in chalk, so please don't. It very much doesn't come off, and whilst you might believe it's great for your dungeon, or a particular encounter it will be there for years and years and isn't good or cool for the hundreds of other dungeons that will see it. I'd also like to take a moment to remind people that littering the caves, including pushing sweet wrappers into chalk walls or hiding cans is completely unacceptable; please help keep the caves looking clean and tidy.

See you soon.

Duncan

Will's World

Welcome to this hopefully only a little bit late Almanac! (Edit: Ok, fairly late it turns out) I'm going to blame extended lengths and stag dos.

Quite an exciting issue this one with lots of new abilities, a new race, status for dodgy Ishmaics, a new conclave and an exciting new system effect for green wizards <innocent whistling>.

Lee and I are also talking about resurrecting the guild boards, so any ideas as to what they could do to add to our pot would be welcomed! I've already had "earning a guild point a quarter" taken off the table sadly. Apparently Lee wants people to actually go and play dungeons or something, crazy.

I think I am up to date with standard contracts, however apparently a batch got lost in the post, so I am trying to figure out which email went astray. If you submitted a standard contract and haven't had it back, let me know because it almost certainly has been done.

Guild updates

We've lost two guilds this Almanac, the Churches of Primal Darkness and the Sun, which I found quite serendipitous. And the Church of the Destroyer has lost a tier. Clearly too much religion going on on Primus. We have however gained a couple! See if you can spot them (viva la revolution).

Editors Notes

As always, please don't stress if there are errors. Simply email me; as soon as this is published the January 2024 (oh wow, a new year…) edition gets created.

As always, keep on messaging me to get contract updates, anything that requires putting in the Almanac make sure you email me instead!

See you underground!

Will

GSM's corner

And so the final Almanac of 2023 comes around. Thanks to Will for taking on the editing of it, it's been a massive burden and gives me more time to fail your points apps and write dungeons to murderise everyone 😊

After a couple of years of stagnating I'm back on with source books as I have a little more free time, so keep an eye on the forums for me asking for input into them (Baronies book is the next and already a good chunk of the way through). There is also the potential return of lucky dip points apps as I've had a few ideas, so keep your eyes peeled for more on those.

What else is there? Well a couple of reminders first.

10k checks – When you reach 10k (or 30k) please sort out a quick check. This is just to run through abilities, make sure nothing is crazy, get stuff signed on. It's normally quick, and also means if you've got questions on how you think things stack but Greenaway has told you different you can ask me with everything in front of you.

Regaining power for active non-standards. There is a post on the forums about it, so far only one person has come and asked me about abilities and getting power back for them. I'm happy to check things either by email or in person, worst I can say is no you can't get it back.

Tempo. I did an explanation on this a couple of Almanacs ago, as a short reminder tempo (the published versions) break if:

- You stop for a prepped total
- You change encounters
- You are travelling around (Tempoing a mittlenacht walk is ok, tempoing while you fight around area A between different rituals isn't).
- There is an end to the fighting (a short break in a defender while monsters run around the corner revise stats and then come back is ok. Anything more than a minute is likely the end).

I am also looking at possible changes to Tempo to bring it back to closer to where it was intended. On the table at the minute is reducing it to 15 minutes. This seems more reasonable as most encounters other than defenders shouldn't last this long, and having to power up 2 or 3 times in a defender likely fits with the statting for the number of encounters it is replacing.

Discipline. The ability is different in 3 or 4 places, the reason being writing things over time rather than in one go. To make it clear regardless of where you get it from Discipline grants immunity to:

1. Domination Effects
2. Fear
3. Emotion attacks
4. Insanity

There is another surprise in the Almanac for you though, the return of some new abilities to buy! See the System Effects section below.

CC stuff

CC's continue apace, I am (at the time of writing) up to date again. Apologies for the delay over the summer, but the influx of extended length items meant something had to give and I assumed people (except Armstrong) would rather have points apps back than CC's.

A couple of reminders on things.

Prestige – This uses 1 CP. There is no requirement to set it, it's entirely up to you as a ref. Prestige can be given to some, all, or none of the party for this point. It could also be used to give Notoriety if you think someone deserves it. A person does not need to be working on a contract to gain prestige, it does serve other purposes notably New Years Honours, but I sometimes check how much people have when looking at CC's to see where they stand.

Being good enough to earn prestige does not mean you have to get it towards a contract. It's very possible you were good but didn't do anything relevant because the opportunity wasn't there.

On Contracts there have been a few instances of them not being properly dealt with, so some clear rules:

- Only the person named on a contract can work on it unless it says otherwise.
- You need to show, or at least tell, the ref what contract you are working on at the start of the dungeon.
- Before putting a contract on the debrief sheet the ref must have seen the contract and read it.

System Effects

The below are normally in effect at least until the next Almanac, though please do check the forums as these may change at short notice due to dramatic events.

Effects that are specific to a region are listed under the relevant entries in City Updates.

Demon Touched Benefits

Characters that are demon touched may select one of the below benefits. It is permissible to not select a patron to gain power from, but disadvantages are still suffered.

People are reminded that Demon Touched powers may grow or fade depending on the actions of other players. It is very possible through game play to adjust which supernatural forces are in ascendance at any time, and which patrons can offer people power.

Disadvantages
All demon touched (regardless of the benefits they claim) answer alignment checks as evil and are affected by repels and prots as if evil. Use of any of the Demon Touched powers is a non-goodly act (for example for the purposes of Bless/Paladins). Demon Touched may choose to benefit from one of the below Demons patronage. This may be changed dungeon to dungeon. They alternatively may choose not to draw on any power, but still suffer the above disadvantages. Tribal Demon Touched must select the Totems Shadow.

Benefits

The Imbaiu	Gains True Believer Tryst. (Does not grant Ley Believer).
The Cabals Box	This can only be gained by individuals restored to life by the Obsidian Cabal box (if you know you know). Gains X + 3 mana of innates of standard Black or Onyx spells, or if within the priest bracket X spirits worth of innates of standard evil miracles. Innates must be chosen at the start of the dungeon, and X equals the number of Demon Touched of the Cabals Box on dungeon (including self).
Shadow of the First Evil	The individuals alignment becomes evil if it wasn't already. They are additionally considered Ostracised by the Empire of Glass. They gain an innate "Corruption" that can work in one of three ways. First as a spiritual deny power vs a goodly miracle. Second as a pure force vs a goodly spiritual effect. Third it can be used to remove a protection from evil spirits or Stronghold of Goodness.
The Totems Shadow	Tribal Creatures can only claim this power. It may also be claimed by non-tribal creatures. Gains unimpeded by water, as per Aquatic elf. If slain gains a dying effect of Mantic Drown vs the slayer. Gains 12 mana worth of innates of published black spells chosen at the start of the dungeon. Can cast extinguish touch at will for 1 TBLP. Alternatively, may choose to gain 4th level dark elf innates.
Istarias, Demon of Written Knowledge	Gains a mantic comm 2 1/day but requires the question to be fully written out in a language other than common using IC pen and paper. Each question asked costs the user, or someone willing, a level of resistance for an hour.

Troubled Times – Business System Effect

Until further notice, all businesses now generate less money. The modifier is now – 4 rather than – 3.

Additionally, should a 1 be rolled, the business in question can now not be used for six months. This is to be recorded on the business card when this happens.

Please contact will@labyrinthe.co.uk with IC enquiries as to what has happened.

Destruction of the Green Mana Font – System Effect

With the destruction of the Font of the Green Mana Dragon all wizards that do not hold green as a colour are at minus 2 casting levels for green spells (Draconic guidance applies).

The % chance for making normal scrolls of green spells is reduced by 10% (so ritual prep grants 90% chance of success), and all advanced makes for green spells (teaching scrolls, items, green mana swords etc.) have their difficulty increased by 2 %.

Enlightened Silverfolk – Playable race as a result of a Campaign

The Enlightened Silverfolk (or just "The Enlightened" as they refer to themselves) were until recently a spent force, having fought and lost a civil war for the "soul" of their people against their cousins the Silverfolk. A war that came at a great cost including the death of their Gods at the hands of the Silverfolk's own divine patrons.

In recent months however, one of the remaining few Enlightened gathered together the remains of his people and via temporal rites reinfused the dying race with Vitae, granting those remains a new hope that they might yet survive and overcome their fallen brethren.

All Enlightened have fought a generations long war against the Silverfolk, and they are not willing to let bygones be bygones; they will always do their utmost to destroy evil silverfolk when they find them.

All Enlightened take an ordered and balanced view of existence in an effort to avoid falling to the way of the Silverfolk, or embracing the chaotic approach of moral superiority; intellectual superiority is enough.

Due to the design and rituals used in the creation of the Silverfolk plague by Ka'Leth (herself one of the Enlightened) the Enlightened Silverfolk are not infected by it.

The Enlightened are not outlawed as a race, but with so much of their race destroyed they remain a people struggling to reestablish themselves.

LARP Rules:

- Enlightened Silverfolk are as per Silverfolk but must be L/N or N/N in alignment.
- Rather than a need to kill all non-silverfolk neuronicists they must instead seek to kill all evil Silverfolk. Failure to do so results in them gaining no points for the dungeon.
- They can be classes as per a Silverfolk, but may not start in the priest bracket though they can multi-class into it. In addition they can be:
    - "Kensai" (Blade Master in the west) (life as per Drowe Pathfinder)
    - Monks (life as per Silverfolk Spirit warrior)
    - Silver Warden (life as per Slayer).

New Abilities

After a break of a couple of years the new abilities return. As before these are broadly based on things that seem missing from the system, either because I've spotted it or loads of people keep applying for them. They are here to test, so I am more than happy to change things if needed and always welcome feedback on how they are working. Previously I tried to stick to one class, or the like, and I'm likely to do similar next year, but for this one it's a mix.

First though, some "clarifications".

Warrior Subclass - Hardened Body (Table 5 Warrior ability) is now available to all 1st Class Warrior Subclasses, not just warrior.

Rogue – Not a new ability but they can now buy + 5 specialists as a Wizard. I honestly have no idea how this got missed but it must have been gone a while.

Rapid Concealment	Cost: 50pts, Max 4	T: 9
Available To: 1st Class Scout bracket
From Solitaire: Each purchase of this ability reduces the rest time for solitaire by 3 minutes, but never below 2 minutes, and not with other reductions in the reset time.

Draw the Concealment Close	Cost: 40pts	T:10
Available To: 1st Class Scout bracket
From Solitaire: Instead of the normal benefits the scout may use Magical or Spiritual Concealment to re-enter Solitaire instantly rather than having to wait 15 minutes.

All of the following abilities can be stacked to apply vs multiple power bases; for example Defense against the Spirits and Magic do work together to allow purely mantic blows to be parried

Defence against the spirits	Cost: 75pts	T: 9
Available To: 1st Class Monk or Budoka
From Tables + 1 SAC. Published parries (Forearm/Leg, Upper Arm/Leg) may now be applied to purely spiritual blows. All other restrictions remain unchanged.

Defence against Magic	Cost: 75pts	T: 9
Available To: 1st Class Monk, Budoka, or Power Master
From Tables + 1 MAC. Published parries (Forearm/Leg, Upper Arm/Leg) may now be applied to purely Magical blows. All other restrictions remain unchanged.

Defence against the Mind	Cost: 50pts	T: 9
Available To: 1st Class Monk, Budoka
From Tables + 1 NAC and Mind block. Published parries (Forearm/Leg, Upper Arm/Leg) may now be applied to purely Neuronic blows. All other restrictions remain unchanged.

Ward against the spirits	Cost: +75pts	T: 10
Available To: 1st Class Monk or Budoka
From Defence against the spirit and tables + 2 SAC. Published parries (Forearm/Leg, Upper Arm/Leg) may now be applied to spiritual touch effects, but not cast miracles (So yes to Quad + Cause Serious, but not a cast cause serious that is channelled). All other restrictions remain unchanged.

Ward against Magic	Cost: 75pts	T: 10
Available To: 1st Class Monk, Budoka, or Powermaster
From Defence against Magic and tables + 2 MAC. Published parries (Forearm/Leg, Upper Arm/Leg) may now be applied to Magical touch effects, but not cast spells (So yes to Quad + Shock, but not a cast Shock that is channelled). All other restrictions remain unchanged.

Ward against the Mind	Cost: +50pts	T: 10
Available To: 1st Class Monk or Budoka
From Defence against the Mind and tables + 2 NAC. Published parries (Forearm/Leg, Upper Arm/Leg) may now be applied to Neuronic touch effects on weapon blows, but not "cast" touch range neuronics. All other restrictions remain unchanged.

Ward against The physical	Cost: 50pts	T: 10
Available To: 1st Class Monk or Budoka
From two purchases of the tables ability Hardened Body. Published parries (Forearm/Leg, Upper Arm/Leg) may now be applied to physical touch effects (including EP), but not to cast evocations. All other restrictions remain unchanged.

Mercenary Meanderings

The Mighty Zohir and his very full Sack

Let me tell you, children of Galahbhad, a story of The Mighty Zohir. Gather around the fire, feel its warmth and let us see his exploits in the dancing flames.

As we all know, The Mighty Zohir is a generous man. But did you know, that on the eve of the dawn, it is he who leaves casyaks for the children to find when they wake? But why does one man have such a task? It is my job to tell this tale, and your job to listen, so that all will know of the works of The Mighty Zohir.

Many moons ago, when The Mighty Zohir was working with the great poet Ru Bin Paul, he would treat the wounds of those who were hurt at the performances. One thing we all know of The Mighty Zohir, is that he is an honest man, and has never told a lie. This is not true however, of the great poet Ru Bin Paul. One day, at one of the performances near the Final Dawn, The Mighty Zohir overheard the great poet Ru Bin Paul telling a small child that they would wake up at the dawn with a new casyak. The child was amazed, but then said, with the innocence that comes from childhood;

"But great poet Ru Bin Paul, what about the others in my Hetyan, will they get new casyaks too?"

"Why, young child, you are good to think of your Hetyan first, yes, I will make sure all children in your Hetyan receive new casyaks on the dawn."

The Mighty Zohir was thrilled to hear that the great poet Ru Bin Paul was going to give such a gift, but as the child and his family walked away excitedly discussing their new casyaks, he heard the great poet Ru Bin Paul say to his aide "we will have to move on, I don't want that Hetyan coming back here when they wake up and don't have the casyaks."

The Mighty Zohir was saddened by this, and used some of his meagre earnings to purchase several casyaks and on the eve of the dawn, snuck into the tents of the Hetyan to put a casyak at the foot of each child's bed.

As he placed the casyak at the foot of the child who had met the great poet Ru Bin Paul, the child awoke and said;

"Are you working for the great poet Ru Bin Paul?"

"Yes" said The Mighty Zohir "I have brought you all a casyak like the great poet Ru Bin Paul has promised"

"But what about the other Hetyans in Galahbhad? We should think about our clan before our Hetyan, and our Hetyan before ourselves."

The Mighty Zohir knew this to be true, and so said;

"I will bring a casyak to all of the Hetyans in Galahbhad."

"But what about the Salahmen? We should think of Ishma before our clans, our clans before our Hetyan and our Hetyan before ourselves." The Mighty Zohir was so moved by the child's plea that he agreed.

"I will bring a casyak to all the Hetyans in Clan Salahmen too."

The child suddenly cried, "But I have a friend in Clan Harazeen. We should honour these other clans too!" The Mighty Zohir again agreed;

"I will bring a casyak to all the Hetyans in Clan Harazeen too."

The child then said "We once helped a family from the Rain Clan who were passing through these lands, we should make sure they are not forgotten"

The Mighty Zohir again agreed, "I will bring a casyak to all the Hetyans in Clan Rain and indeed, before we forget Clan Benhai too. We should also not forget our cousins in Clan Buladjin. I will bring a casyak to them all."

"Mighty Zohir, you are kind and just, take this sack so that you can carry all these casyaks." The child handed The Mighty Zohir a sack that was in his tent, and the Mighty Zohir went to fill it with casyaks for every child in all the Clans of Ishma.

Luckily, The Mighty Zohir knew a merchant in the Great Bazaar of Galahbhad, who stayed open very late for all sorts of reasons. After he had purchased enough Casyaks for every child in all the clans if Ishma, his sack was very full and fit to burst.

He clapped his hands three times and The Storm of Silence appeared at his feet. However, as The Mighty Zohir looked at the moon, he could tell that he would not have enough time to get to every tent of every child in all of Ishma. And so he drew back his bow, and it shone with all the Colours of the Seven Winds, all the Spheres of Spirituality and all the Base Metals it can be. And he loosed an arrow at the moon, which struck true and pinned it in place.

The Mighty Zohir then took his very full sack on The Storm of Silence and flew all across Ishma, making sure to leave a casyak at the foot of the bed of every child in all the clans of Ishma. Once he was done, he used a blink spell from a trinket to travel to the moon and pulled the arrow from it, letting it continue its journey across the sky.

The next day, the crowd at the great poet Ru Bin Paul's performance was the biggest it had ever been, all of the children wearing new casyaks. Many of the children sang thanks to the great poet Ru Bin Paul, but one voice shouted over the rest;

"It was not the great poet Ru Bin Paul who gifted these to you, but the Mighty Zohir with a very full sack!"

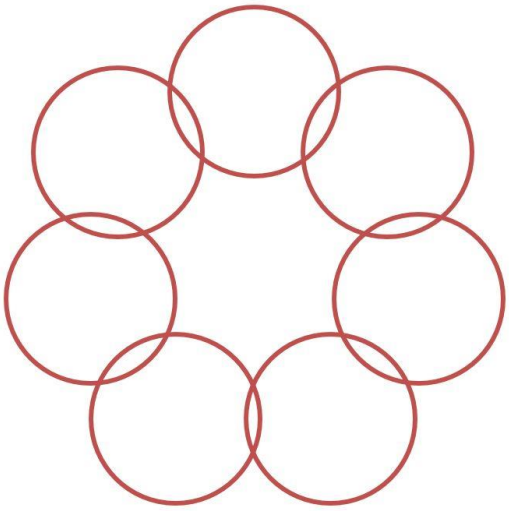

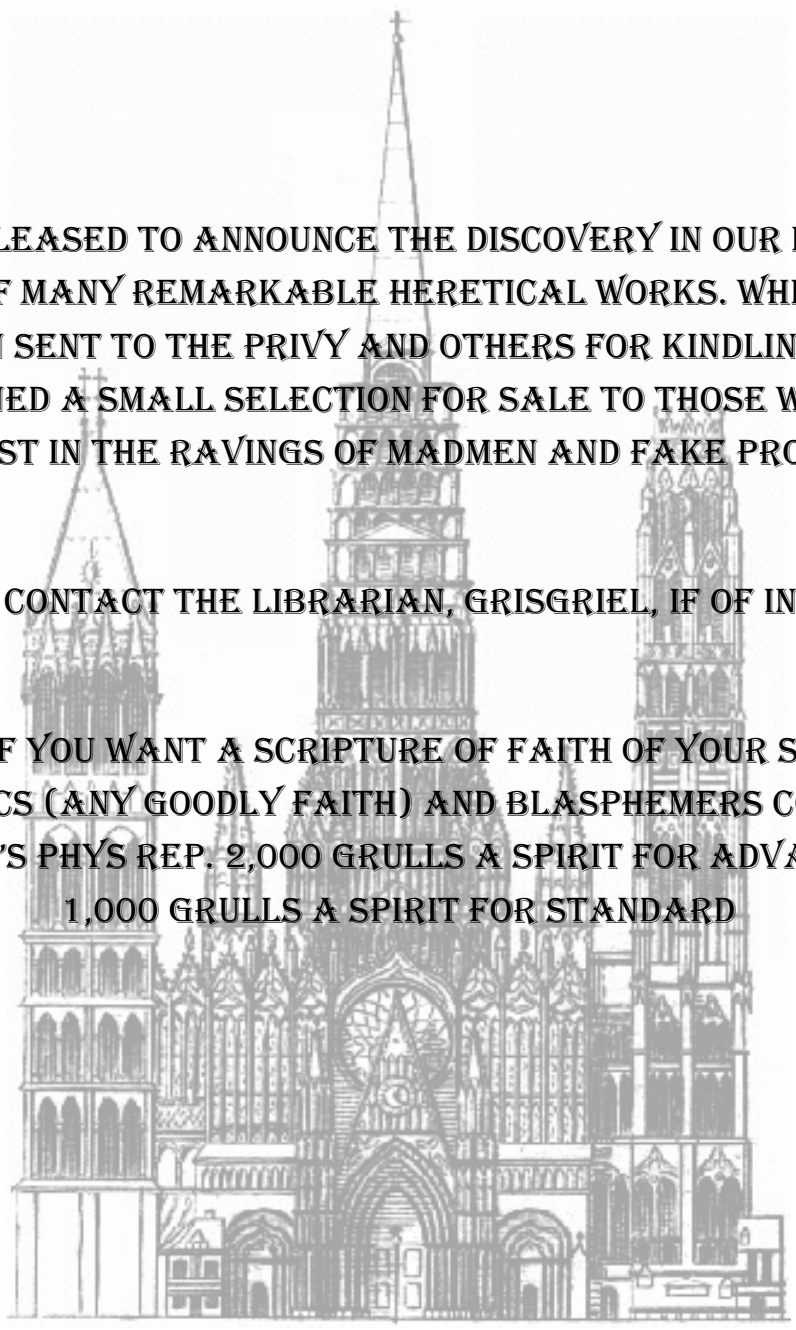

The Mighty Zohir, however, was a humble man and said "It doesn't matter who got you these new casyaks, what matters is that you all have wonderful new casyaks."

The great poet Ru bin Paul was so moved by The Mighty Zohir's humility, that he paid the Mighty Zohir all the grulls that the casyaks cost.

And so now, every night before the Dawn, the great poet Ru bin Paul buys casyaks for all the children in all the clans in Ishma, and The Mighty Zohir fires an arrow into the moon, and delivers them all in one night.

Now, if you'd like a replica Storm of Silence, go and see that man over there, if you'd like an Official Mighty Zohir casyak it's that man over there, and a Genuine Gine Bone Mighty Zohir bow, with realistic Seven Wind colours then follow me...

We are pleased to announce the discovery in our library's vaults of many remarkable heretical works. Whilst many have been sent to the privy and others for kindling we have retained a small selection for sale to those with an interest in the ravings of madmen and fake prophets.

Please contact the librarian, Grisgriel, if of interest.

Retirement notice

Amadou Pyreborn wishes to announce his retirement from the mercenary community.
Having achieved all that he could hope for with such ringing endorsements as:

"A drastically dangerous idiot" Brahm

"The most evil corrupt creature with no redeeming features" Reshtar

"He said something…next thing we know is everyone…turned to ash" Tempora

He feels his time is done.
He remains available to take on budding apprentices and to write scrolls for those venturing out.
Please contact at the Towers of High Magery.

A Matter of Business

To my fellow Members of the Order of Mercenaries*: As I am sure it cannot have gone unnoticed, there has for some time now, been some issues caused by undue influence upon the Empire's economy and the personal Businesses of many Mercenaries.*

Initial investigations revealed a distinct plot that cause this. Those responsible, whilst having acted in a hostile manner, have followed this path not without some reason. I am therefore looking to hire our guild to try to resolve the issue. It is my aim that, if at all possible, this be done amicably and equitably for those whose grievances have fostered the situation. I hope that our organisation can employ diplomacy rather than just mere force and I am willing to open my own coffers to offer bonus payment in the event of an ultimately peaceful resolution.

Sire Halfblack

OOC: I've booked three Order of Mercenary Max 5,250 Guild Specials on: Sat 20/01/24*, Sun* 25/02/24 and Sat 30/03/24*. To be refereed by the esteemed Mr David "Devious & Dangerous" Fisher. There are no Advisors but, if nearer the time, spaces remain suitable guests will be considered.*

Positions of Power

What follows are the current positions of power within the Empire of Glass and beyond. When holding positions of power the following applies:

A player can only have one character holding a senior (listed in the Almanac) position within each department/area. They are free to have the same character in different departments/areas, or different characters in different departments/areas. This just stops a player having two characters in the same department/area.

News From the Empire

Alguz

City Spirit: Galdor Kallah Lord: ???

Governor	Magistrate	Watch Captain	Commisant	Stadtus	Craftenguilder	Mennihaft
Galdor Bogginson	Lucian Flynn	Delphi Lux	Shard	Radiant	Nanimo	Vacant

The Alguz City Hall

Mercenaries hired by the city council have their standard potion allowance paid for.

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- "Enlightened I" Alignment becomes Goodly [unless immune to alignment change].
- Perm Paladinic Bless - lost / reversed in the same circumstances as a Paladin.
- Gains +3/1 life in the style of a perm Enhance Spirit.
- Blessed by the Alg 1/day – Acts as a mantic walk through water self, but may be cast on other Alguz.

Kallah.2ND TIER

- Lay Believer Talthar – if already possessed for another faith this ability overrides that membership whilst active.
- +6/2 life [total] from +3/1 life above.
- Gains a second Blessed by the Alg, and both may now be used on anyone Goodly.

3RD TIER

- Word of Renewal – Gains Holy Word "Renewal" (as per the Paladin Healing Holy Word) 1/day.
- Can choose to lose both Blessed by the Alg and instead become unimpeded by Water (as per Aquatic
- Elf).
- +12/4 life [total] from +6/2 life above, still as per an Enhanced Spirit.

The Alg, the indomitable river of the Empire, possessed of a Spirit so mighty that not even Magiarch Kerisdorn had been able to dam its power when Glorianave had acted to weaken the other Magiocracies by cutting them off from the river borne flow of power that emanated from the Throne of Glass.

The Spirit of Alg, known quite rightly as The Great Alg was a merry, indulgent and hedonistic fellow, and had at times even enjoyed worship and "enjoyed" his worshippers in his Temple on an Isle in the Alg. The Tranquil had long wished to visit the spirit and so had taken his small boat and leisurely sailed up the River Brackenthorn from Lake Halgar to Alguz. Tsu-Ling was aware that, at that Final Dawn when the Talthari had withdrawn Alguz from Primus into their heaven that many of the Spirits had ceased to be. Not The Great Alg; he had been expelled from Alguz and flushed down the Brackenthorn to settle on the estates of a Halgar Noble until what had been done had been reversed and The Great Alg was able to return home. Any other river spirit so exiled would undoubtedly have disappeared but The Great Alg was above such weakness.

The peace of the beautiful exterior of the marble temple contrasted somewhat with what Tsu-Ling found within; The Great Alg, a large, loudly snoring toga clad fat man, asleep at noon upon a stone recliner, a laurel wreath interwoven with grapes improbably perched upon his head. Cast upon the stone floor about him were a number of empty flagons, spilt wine and equally passed out were nubile worshippers in various states of undress.

It was not a sight Tsu-Ling had been unprepared for. He gave it some thought and decided to come back later, maybe dropping by unannounced wasn't such a good idea after all. Perhaps he'd visit the Temple to Mithras instead. That Temple shared something in kind with The Midnight Lagoon, one of the oldest and most mystical of the Islands in his Tranquil Ocean, in that, sometimes, it was a gate way to The White Reach. By a strange confluence of circumstances and the tides of time, he was technically one of the past Cartasals of The Reach.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The Monks in Telmans sloop were busy. Thor had ordered the curiosity shops of Alguz searched for trinkets, relics, and anything else they though would be of use, and Grisgriel would be very happy with more books to catalogue and review.

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- Gains Discern Nature of Undead as per priest and discern Demonkind.
- 1/day after 10 secs observation, may discern a target Undead's dismiss name (cf. reveal unknown Undead), or vs a demon gains a lucky idea about their nature.

2ND TIER

- 1/day may destroy (as per hand of purity, but death from casting damage is not permanent) an Undead or Demonkind of up to 4th level by touch. This will cost the Kallah 6 TBLP per dismiss/resistance level.
- Gains an innate Shield of Purity (as demon slayer) 1/day, but the reduction also applies vs Undead.

3RD TIER

- Gains an additional 'destroy' (from 2nd tier) innate. These innates may now be used to destroy Undead up to 6th level or demons up to 8th level (still costing 6 TBLP per dismiss/resistance level of the creature destroyed)
- Traitors Shield as tables
- Gain Immunity to Insanity

~~~~~~

The small village of Raven's Sumit had a new Squire. It had been several years since the death of the previous one, and while every effort was made by House Hadensford to ensure the rituals of marriage were conducted it was not easy. Then a sudden, and rather unexpected change. At the request of Isiah Buggledexter Duke Hadensford had gifted the lands to the, rapidly becoming famous, Loxley. He, and his band of mercenaries, had arrived to clear out the old ritual chamber and ensure his marriage to the land was a success.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The priests at the Cathedral returned as the sun was rising. They had been out in the rural lands spreading the word of hope amongst the poor souls that preferred the night. Some in the faith, not least Harpell, thought trying to speak to the dead that walked Bildteve was foolish but while Thor had been in the city he had done the same, so the priests continued to try and give some respite to the poor creatures that suffered in the darkness.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Lucius was seen walking between his own personal libraries and the Enclave ones, cross referring and taking notes. This went on for most of the month before his habits changed. Now he was busy in the Arcanum ritual stores hunting for things; a candle here, some specific thread there, a skull, even a strange powder that when burnt creates a mist.

Then on the night of the new moon he went to the arcanum mages and arranged for their aid in the ritual.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The servants had been working hard on the ruins of the old grand hall. It had remained untouched for the decade it had been in Primus, but now it had a purpose, and so Lucius had ordered the restoration to begin. It would be a slow process but one that would be worth it when the great windows were replaced, and of course a roof added. It would probably be easier to start from scratch but easy wasn't the D'treal way.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

A party was held at the newly held barony of Raven's summit. There appeared to only be two drinks available; a smoky blue concoction said to have been invented in the Screaming Isles and finding favour in noble circles and in Halgar, and a variety of beers newly created by a local brewery. Both found favour although it was the surprised look on the faces of the undead nobles attending who found that they could actually taste the food and drink for perhaps the first time in a very long period. A strange eclectic mix of happy souls.

It had been almost a year since the rumours that the Church of Mortai had taken part in a centuries old tradition and had conquered Fenton Abbey. The rumours had fleshed themselves out now and it was clear that the ancient power that had been, to an extent, bottled up by the Ghoul Stone in the heart of the Town of Ghulston, was truly gone. The baleful influence of Velesh was destroyed and to an extent the Ghoul Stone no longer served a purpose. Mortai had succeeded where Iron and Empire had not and had claimed this ancient Place of Power for their own ends.

As a result the balance of influence between the Churches of Mortai and Iron and Empire had changed. Whilst the Town of Ghulston still remained an outpost of Iron and Empire the Abbey was now a shining beacon of power to Mortai on its doorstep. Whilst there was no open conflict between the Imperial Neromancers and the Priests of Light many waited to see where the claiming of the power of the Abbey would lead and many a conversation in the Taverns in the Waystations across the Bildteve Fens and beyond heard more than one commentator opine "mark my words… trouble lies ahead"

Meanwhile, posters were seen around Bildteve offering a message of encouragement;

"Undead are people too! If you are feeling put down by the fascists, Ghulston is the city for you!"

Deci

City Spirit: Tangle Kallah Lord: Damien

Governor	Magistrate	Watch Captain	Commisant	Stadtus	Craftenguilder	Mennihaft
Troy Majius	Darius Slake (Under Threat)	Gabriel	Kane	K'thah Despana	Anath Halfblack	Rus

Black Dragon – system effect, active until the end of 2023

Black spells cast in Deci count as being 1 mana less than usual to a minimum of 1 mana. This affects both casting level and mana cost of black spells cast with free mana. Cannot be used for learning spells. This can be used by anyone casting a black spell, even if cast as a specialist. This does not stack with any other form of reduction, including Expertise.

The King's Largesse

Mercenaries hired by or acting on behalf of Deci, the Deci Council, Anath, Troy or the City Sprit have their potion allowance covered.

Additionally, where a mission has been sanctioned by Anath, King Troy, the City Spirit or the Deci Council for the benefit of Deci then an additional World Point is generated for use by the Referee that can only be applied to the direct benefit of Deci (i.e. adjust a Deci city stat positively).

Referee Note: To claim this additional WP quote PCLD290 on the Debrief sheet alongside the extra WP (if you wish to see a copy of the relevant contract contact BBB)

The Beggar's Banquet

The Beggar's Banquet in Cheapside now grants all Deci Beggars (both Kallah and Hanot) the CP Benefit of "Haven" in Deci.

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- If killed Tangle may be informed of this. Gains fated hero if returned to life by Tangle.
- Faith in the City 1/day – Acts as per a True believer but may be any faith in Deci that has a score of 20 or more. Can never be used to cast a goodly miracle.

2ND TIER

- If killed may OOC chose for body to vanish 2 minutes later and be mantically animate life'd by Tangle; this takes 15 minutes. May return to adventure but must have the means/be able to.
- Faith in the City may now instead be used to cast a standard black spell.

3RD TIER

- If uses intermediate tier animate life, may choose to be mantically plane shifted back to the adventure (safe place within 20ft of party). Once completed, suffers a freeze on arrival.
- Deci's Swarm: May call on Primal Force of the Swarm x1/day. This is declared as per a warcry with the user taking the form of a swarm of insects making them immune to weapon blows. Lasts for 30 seconds (may not be ended early). Whilst in this form may not cast/fight as per a gaseous form, but can travel at a slow walk.
- Faith in the City may be used to cast a published Black spell of a level up to the Kallahs Table.

The Streets of Deci - Status for the Deci Kallah:
This status represents the ties that the Kallah have with each of the City quarters and how the denizens of that area support the Kallah. Gains a "City Quarter" Slot per stage of the Status. A slot can be filled by one of the abilities in the status.

North West Side – Stage One: Cost:100 Table: 5

- Northern Quarter; Home of Darkness – Once a day with 30 seconds concentration can cast a Handbook black spell.
- Western Quarter; Streets of Cheapside – Gains Rumour Lore (As local Lad tendency).

Nobles Forged – Stage Two: Cost: + 100 Table: 7

- Central Quarter; The Nobles Spire – Gains retainer (as tables) to one willing Deci Noble on dungeon. If multiple Deci nobles of the same house are on dungeon this applies to all of them.
- Southern quarter; The Forges - A single weapon, shield, or suit of armour counts as Master status for the dungeon.

The Spirit of Trade – Stage Three: Cost: + 100 Table: 9

- The East; The Traders corridor – Can trade an item for the day with an NPC Kallah. Effectively this allows one item that could be battle boarded to not be (still uses uses if a uses item and blows up if the character dies as normal) and instead battle board an item of equivalent ISP that the Kallah could normally use. The new item is designed using the standard ISP system and cannot use the "Character points" options.
- The City Spirit – Death Dealer: 1/day Gains immunity to dying effects (as tables) for one dying effect (declared as war cry). If already owned then this innate can instead delay the "kick in" of a dying effect for 60 seconds.

Sire Halfblack leaned back in his chair, hands steepled in thought. The issue of the interruption of numerous Businesses in the hands of Mercenaries across the Empire was still troubling him; well not him directly, but in concept and in the tiresome implications. His previous attempts to arrange gatherings of mercenaries had floundered, it was something he needed to get back on track with. He'd have another word with Emilio Drake about enlisting the Order of Mercenaries into getting on the case. He'd attend either in person or send one of his Trade Factors. However, in the meantime, he had been busy wielding the influence of The Invisible Quarter to assist those numerous enterprises that sheltered within the shadows Deci's mercantile quarter and helping the ambitious in ways that would slowly increase affluence across the city from the peons upwards.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

What in any other city would be the Craftenguilder's offices were in Deci merely a subdivision of Sire Halfblack's Invisible Quarter. The enlarged Invisible Investments ran well enough without Anath's direct intervention once he had set it a task and, for the next few months the Investments would be working on speeding up the expansion of The King's Largesse. The King's Largesse was dedicated to making the most of Mercenaries acting on behalf of the city and ensure that the most common costs incurred by Mercenaries had ceased to be something quite as troublesome. Anath now wished to free up extra funds to ensure such Mercenaries acting on behalf of Deci were paid a little better, fair recognition of their service and to encourage Deci as the ideal destination for Mercenary hires.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

"Eighty Thousand Grulls?"

"Yes Sneertwice"

"I see..."

"And what do you 'see'?"

"I… I see that you are setting a fine example by way of illustrating civic generosity. I am sure the urchins will appreciate all the new shivs they can buy in Stab Street with… Ah, yes, I see."

Sire Halfblack nodded; he knew that it would not take his loyal retainer long to catch on. It was a lot of grulls but in truth he had no need for ostentatious displays of wealth and, oddly, was never one to rely on the crutch of transitory artefacts, so rarely had much personal use for grulls. He was, as ever, thinking ahead. Few Mercenaries would understand how the best tax paying peons in the entire empire were those of Deci. This had been down to years of example when he had "encouraged" the council members to pay their taxes and over the years this had resulted in a culture of "paying the city its dues". The concept and experience of protection money had, of course, made instilling that habit in Deci's denizens somewhat easier. Now Anath acted to encourage a certain amount of generosity to set grulls flowing through the city, boosting its economy and prosperity.

He had some way to go to match Mayor Gideon's half a million grull donation but it was always good to have something to aspire to.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The Northern Quarter of Deci was the least "Deci" of Deci. As a result it was here those newer immigrants to the city tended to find themselves. It felt closer to being in an Imperial City than any other part of the City of Shadows. The quarter was mostly devoid of the collection of great structures that were found in the rest of the city. It was simply less developed and some would argue just less interesting or glamorous than Cheapside or Hightown or even The invisible Quarter.

All that however conspired to make The Horned Serpent starkly stand out. The Cathedral to the patron Mana Dragon of the city dominated the quarter. The influence of the Drakkon Vacuous, ever strong in the city, grew by making converts of the new comers whilst also insidiously helping them acclimatise to the city's culture.

Word on the street was that Leroy is an eccentric gnomish potion maker, who attempted to brew up strange and empowering potions. It was said that in the late IM990's and early IM1000's he consumed a few too many experimental brews of his own, leaving him prone to occasionally running into danger mid-way through the planning stage, whilst shouting his own name.

He is the fleshy sort of gnome, rather than the kind summoned with brown magic that can kill anything. He recently moved from his hovel in the Torsland Dales to the North Quarter of Deci, where he set up "Leroy's Lavish Laboratory" in an old, abandoned brewery. Rumour has it the previous owners got on the wrong side of the high and mighty of the city.

He has also been seen with Major Gideon in Forgetown on a few occasions talking potion brewing, over some ales. He has now established himself in the North Quarter, and provided blade oils, healing draughts and buffing potions to those of power from the City.

He is rumoured to have secured loans from those who pull the strings in Deci, such as Cities Vizier, Anath Halfblack, as well as Deci's Kallah Lord.

Leroy's great great Grandfather, known as The Colonel, passed his secret recipe (s) down the generations to him. It is said even his fatal venoms taste so good they leave their victim with a smile on their cold, dead face.

Asta Khan	Milly	Zohir (Under Threat)	Dave Stone	Jet (Under Threat)	Kersh (Under Threat)	Loxley (Under Threat)

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- Gains innates as per Earth Elf calculated at Kallah level -2.
- When reading Brown or Ivory magical scrolls gains +1 level for calculating casting damage. If the Kallah cannot already read such then they gain the ability to do so with 1st level casting.
- Is now bound by the Ivory code. If breaks the code loses all city spirit benefits for the dungeon.

2ND TIER

- Gains innates as per Earth Elf calculated at Kallah level -1.
- Now gains + 2 levels for casting Brown or Ivory scrolls (or 2nd level casting).
- Counts as an Ivory mana user for the purposes of Honour Prevails.

3RD TIER

- Gains innates as per Earth Elf calculated at Kallah level.
- May now read Brown or Ivory Mana "Teaching Scrolls" as normal scrolls, not gaining any other benefit. This does mean advanced spells can be cast.
- Now gains + 4 levels (or 4th level casting) total for casting Brown or Ivory magical scrolls.

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- Gains discern Demonkind and discern nature of Undead.
- Combat wary now applies vs the first two blows from Undead or Demonkind.
- Gains Fortified Spirit.
- Unless Goodly Kallah do not gain 2nd or 3rd tier benefits. Kallah may choose to be goodly.

2ND TIER

- Is well equipped with 2 doses of adventure temp holy water.
- Holy water gained from above also works against evil Demonkind.
- Gains holy word dismissal as paladin 1/day.

3RD TIER

- Hand of purity 1/day (as priest ability).
- If using holy water to coat own weapons then one dose will last for two blows vs Undead.
- Gains a Second holy word dismissal as paladin.

As the conflict between Deci and Gothiel intensified, with neither side seemingly ready to negotiate or back down, it was the ordinary folk that were suffering. Strong armed and right thinking locals called into the militia but then not working the fields, merchants avoiding both cities and taxes being raised to help pay for arms.

As the fighting escalated, other less dangerous criminal activity was on the rise. Big John McPherson, leader of the Gothiel Angels, known for their strongarm tactics that left victims badly beaten but never killed, took stock.

Business was booming and the grulls were heavy in his pocket. He had never felt so lucky – the militia was distracted, mercenaries were beating each other up and all eyes were turned far away from his comings and goings. In the last week, he had led 2 home invasions, 4 robberies and 18 muggings – all profitable and all leaving broken bones, bruised bodies and bloodied prides. His victims were beaten and robbed, sometimes with their life savings as they moved out of Gothiel while the war with Deci raged.

John was pleased with his big bag of grulls, and set off for a gambling den down the road to celebrate into the dark and windy night. Sadly, it was not to be John's night… part way to the destination an unexpected bolt of lightning shot down from the heavens, squarely hitting John and sending his body into shocks and his soul onto the afterlife. No other bolts fell and while the thunder roared its presence to the world, this one bolt was clearly a message – there is always the unexpected around that corner and one shouldn't count their blessing, especially when built on the misery of others.

Halgar Inner City Wards

Whilst in the inner city of Halgar it is not possible to use any supernatural power that is not neuronic in nature (Divine Guidance or similar applies). Additionally, any ongoing supernatural effect, other than elven animances/similar, ends upon entering. Any cast within are likewise dispelled. This is, by dint of being in the Almanac, a published dispelling effect.

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- If on Dungeon with a Noble of the Empire gains retainer to that House. If multiple nobles are present then can only choose one house. If already a retainer then this ability doesn't work if a member of their house is present. Cannot gain retainer to self.
- Gains absorb empathic alignment based on Nobles present on dungeon (immunity to alignment change applies).
- Evading Giants – Gains immunity to damage based on being stepped on, or buildings/ceilings/similar falling on them.

2ND TIER

- Nobles gain a 1 point power reduction on all beneficial effects cast on a Kallah (Can include self). Stacks with published reductions to a minimum of half (rounded up) or 1 (whichever is more).
- Can mend weapons, shields, armour, or buildings at will. Takes 1 minute for weapons, shields, or armour. Buildings take time at ref discretion. This requires calling on the Nagrech/similar.
- Evading Giants can now protect one other individual within 5ft.

3RD TIER

- Now gains retainer to all Nobles of the Empire on dungeon if desired, still not self.
- Can choose to be the alignment of any Noble present on dungeon.
- 2nd tier mend ability can now act as a reform, reshape, fix a rust, repair a melt, or reforge a burn wood. Broadly it can counter any "weapon destruction" style effect.
- Evading giants now protects all individuals within 5ft.

~~~~~~

"I thought his first shrine was on Crager's Loft?" the young pilgrim said, looking at the frankly unimpressive structure.

"A common misconception," one of the older pilgrims spoke, his tone taking on the tenor of a teacher about to embark on a particularly uninteresting lecture. "In fact, the Shrine on Crager's Loft was not even built to Tsu-Ling. It was built by Tsu-Ling to his father. Over time though, as it was the place he could most easily be found, it became a destination for pilgrimage to him, which muddied the waters somewhat concerning who the shine was to."

"Oh," Selene said. Ever since she had understood that it was Tsu-Ling who had saved her she had wanted to meet him again to thank him properly, except, for someone who was said to favour Scarlene above all other cities, he seemed to rarely be there.

“Come Selene,” said her father, “Let’s go into the Empresses’ city, it’s supposed to be the grandest in the Empire, even more beautiful than Scarlene and filled with the statues of many great men and women, the heroes of times gone past.”

She took her father’s offered hand as they turned their backs to the shore of Lake Halgar to return to the road into the city and asked: “Will there be statues of Tsu-Ling?” Her father sighed.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The small, rather underfunded and forgotten about division of the Imperial Seers, “Final Dawn threats 10+ years out”, was experiencing a small issue. Having lost the Seer that was in charge, due to legal issues, they were having difficulty enacting the required rituals. Whilst it would almost certainly be fixed in a couple of years, what sort of issue could pop up before then?

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The bastion may have been struggling since the legions that had formed during the Myron war had fragmented, but the 13th remained solid. Rural Halgar was difficult. It was always the target of attack, be it demons or giants, or anything else. Fortunately this was nothing on that scale, just a simple group of bandits that had been chased out of Gothiel a few months ago and decided to set up in Halgar, a mistake they would not live to regret.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

“There he goes again” said one of the regular guards near the inner chambers. “That man is just so fabulously dressed”.

“Haven’t you heard?” said his companion, “Apparently he enjoys even more favour with her ladyship!”

“And what is that blue smoking drink he is taking into her chambers?”

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Wyliham Trekk, Commissant of Halgar, was seen around the rural lands of Halgar with a warband of ranger types. They were tracking a basilisk that had been turning villagers to stone.

After following the trail of statues, they found it in a deep cave. The warband loosed a hail of arrows blindly into the cave mouth whilst Wyliham ran in flailing his pair of swords dangerously, before returning a few minutes later with its head in a sack.

Earl Flashblade was said to have thrown the most marvellous of charity balls for those of the highest in society, to raise grulls for the orphans of Halgar.

Those who could afford the ridiculous prices of the tickets seemed to have a smashing time enjoying all the pleasures that Halgar could bring, and the word of the good works for those in need seemed to increase the loyalty of the people to their betters.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Meanwhile in Halgar a small shrine appeared. Some said that if you had a question you should leave it atop the shrine. The answer to that question will reach you one way or another…

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- Can join Knights of the Land and gain benefits from the guild. Cannot buy knights status'/similar.
- Gains O skill for broad sword and utilise shield skill.

2ND TIER

- Brothers Together – Gains +3/1 status life per KOTL (not self) on dungeon, to a max of 6/2 life.
- Defend the land – 1/day gains stand and die (as Soldier tradition) but locations continue to function until severed. Ends if the Kallah leaves combat.

3RD TIER

- Gains Justice of the Kings
- Brothers together can now grant up to 12/4 life.
- While using defend the land gains Determination and Immunity to domination effects.

~~~~~~

Lord Tertius was seen marching through the streets with a squad of warmages. The improved detect magic verbal was heard over and over, and every time Onyx magic was found there was clearly a shift; some disappeared off for a few minutes and others just marched into a building.

Either way, the practice of Death magic was notably reduced as September drew to an end.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

As was tradition, Lord Ace Tren of the watch marched the ramparts of the Rest checking the formations of his troops, ensuring they were in the right positions, following the right orders.

Bit by bit Mordred's Rest continued its path towards being one of the most secure and safest places on Primus.

NB: Kallah that were previously from Gillenum are now considered Kallah of Port Miere.

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- It is no longer possible to gain Port Miere Kallah benefits by temporary means (EG Blessing of the City Spirit). If an individual attempts to do so they suffer an EP based drown (as per the Green spell).
- Gains EP walk on/through water self at will. Costs 6 TBLP per use.
  Gain 6 EP of innates of standard river field evocations chosen at the start of the day. Beneficial Evocations can only be cast on residence of Port Miere. These innates may instead be of a published Green spell, and are instead magical if chosen this way.
- Gains utilise Earthpower items for river field evocations.

2ND TIER

- Now gains 12 EP of standard river field evocations chosen at the start of the day.
- Is unimpeded by water, as per an aquatic elf.

3RD TIER

- The Betrayal of the Empire – Gains Discern (EP based) Imperial Servant; this reveals all Nobles, Legion members, members of City Councils other than Port Miere, or any others with positions in the Empire's structure. Gains + 1 max damage from behind and + 1 backstab vs these individuals.
- Consume the Green Dragon 1/day – Can act in one of the following ways:
  - A Deny power vs a Green Mana effect. The Kallah gains this effect as an innate.
  - A Dispel up to 20 vs a green mana effect (cannot be used as a passive dispel) and the Kallah gains that much mana worth of standard green mana innates usable that day.
- Now gains 18 EP of river field evocations. Can select advanced evocations up to 4 EP, but they cost double EP.

Gravik Seaborn had returned home to Scarlene but something about his time in the 101st had changed him. It no longer felt like home. It was not that he wanted to return to the Wars, he had distinguished himself as part of the Conquerors, the amphibious assault squad that The Lord Executioner, Parmonian, had tasked with spear heading the campaign to take the Needle Isles, that last true expansion of the Empire. He was not one of the ever-living vitae cursed and only had one life; time and age were against him and he had earned his retirement.

But after the horrors of war his eyes were opened and he now found his home city of Scarlene too infected by the cloying peace of faiths of Shaehan and the Lingists, even though the city was not as dominated by these faiths as it had been in his younger days when he joined up.

In the peace his war-torn soul ached like an old wound in the cold. So he had simply taken passage on a ship just to get out the pacified city and, lead by a simple soldier's superstitious trust in the Empress, wound up in a refreshingly rough tavern in a rougher part of Port Miere. Rolling dice, drinking ale and dodging the odd flying chair it felt more like being on the march again. This city with much potential for an old soldier but as what?

The Kallah moved around the city... it was close. While there was rumour that a green mage was trying to claim the Font of Water before it could be gifted to Salt and Foam they would not allow it; no, they would ensure victory.

Then a cry from those stationed outside the font. Rushing outside the Kallah saw nothing, then he looked up and saw the ball of fire hurtling towards the font of water. “Run!”.

The Kallah began to flee this obvious assault, leaping from the steps into the waters around the font.

Emerging from the ocean they turned and saw the Font of Water, the altar to the green dragon, had had the last of its protections destroyed. The font was ripe for the taking.

“Quickly tell...” before he could even finish the walls of the font began to turn to salt and crumbled to nothing, the power gone. The Mistress claimed her prize.

Mercenaries hired directly by the Rodanne City Council have their standard potion allowance paid for.

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- Gains Immunity to alignment change, or the Kallah can choose to become goodly (and then gain immunity to alignment change).
- Gains discipline 1/day.
- Goodly Kallah gain Ley Believer to Talthar or Sacred Heart (See divine guidance). If a Kallah would be excommunicated then they lose Rodanne Kallah benefits forever, and can never claim Kallah benefits from any city.

2ND TIER

- Gains a second innate discipline.
- Can use discipline innates by touch on others.
- Gains true believer in Sacred Heart or Talthar based on the 1st tier ley believer.

3RD TIER

- Gains immunity to spiritual mastery, if already owned gains a third discipline innate.
- Gains Immunity to the gold spell Haven and variants of it.

It was getting late in the evening and Penny had just finished helping the priests clean up after the day. It was nice, in an odd way, to be dealing with common sickness and simple broken arms from falling out of trees rather than great wounds from swords or burns from demonic fire. Still, this was important, even though people were sometimes too afraid to ask for help just being here and helping meant that everyone that had walked through the churches doors today would have a better tomorrow, and that's a good thing to hope for.

Scarlene Summonation

The Scarlene City Spirit has a spirit link (and true kin) to the cities Hanot and Kallah, and is aware if they die. It is able to summon their bodies/spirits to try and resurrect them. PC Scarlene beggars may choose, when they die or within the next hour, to have their body summoned (an OOC choice) – shifted as per Word of Recall. Unless the city spirit is unable to restore them itself, this counts as an on-dungeon res. Character cards need to be left at the desk in an envelope for Christine Gentry.

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- Gains an innate true believer that can be from the Empress, Talthar, Tsu-Ling, or Shaehan list.
- Gains immunity to alignment change.
- Gains a mantic discern worship of Certizal – 20ft range Y/N answer.
- If willingly acts against the City Spirit then loses all Kallah benefits until forgiven.

2ND TIER – NOTE REDUCTION BELOW

- Invoke the green dragon: 1/day true believer can instead be used to cast a handbook green spell.
- Gains immunity to domination effects from worshippers of Certizal.

3RD TIER

- Gains a second true believer innate, which must be different to the first.
- Invoke the green dragon can be used to cast any published green spell up to 6 mana.
- The true believer innates can now be used to cast the relevant denominational miracle (up to 6th level still).
- Gains a stacking ½ effect miracles from worshippers of Certizal.

"Remember, we're only here for the woman." a hooded figure stated after reiterating the plan to those gathered around him in the shadows.

"But aren't the others just as guilty?" asked the young new recruit, who whilst he might be considered ugly for a human was considered unconventionally good looking by Orc standards.

"Let The Covenant worry about them if it really wants to but the others here were mislead. We are simply here to exorcise a source of their misunderstanding."

The Hooded One uttered a single incantation and the shadows extended about them, across the street and into the rundown house they had been staking out. Within the house candles guttered and were extinguished as the supernatural darkness that swiftly fell upon the house blotted out what little light existed in the city at this late hour.

"We are blessed with his presence!" a woman in front of the congregation cried in ecstasy. Not quite, The Hooded One thought, his sharp-eyed operatives quickly manoeuvred to grab the woman under the cover of dark. A swift punch to her gut and as she involuntarily gasped for breath was force fed a sleep potion before she could even let out a cry.

The Hooded One nodded as they bundled the now captive leader out the house, off onto the streets and just as quickly off the streets again elsewhere. As he had said there was no need to apprehend the peons as they were, in the main innocents lead astray. They would probably now just move onto some other faith or cult, as was the nature of Scarlene and forget about her. Any bothering to give it any thought would probably assume she had been rewarded and called to be with her dark lord.

With the preacher seized this little unsavoury cult would be diminished and the threat reduced. It had taken The Hooded One some time to get this odd group of Dark Elves, Dwarves and Orcs to work together but it seemed to have paid off.

The Sellaville Citadel

Mercenaries Hired directly by the Sellaville Council have their standard potion allowance paid for, and the council can pay an additional 1000 grulls for a mercenary hire.

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- Gains fortified spirit, and the Kallah can never allow themselves to be raised as Undead.
- Gains discern uature of Undead and remember unknown Undead name.
- Are aware if Pebble/Joron or Ly-Chee are within 20ft.

2ND TIER

- Gain immunity to domination effects that would cause the Kallah to act against the City of Sellaville, the Kallah, its people, or the council.
- Gain + 1 back stab vs Undead
- Gain reveal Undead name 2/day

3RD TIER

- Gains discipline 2/day
- Gains flat of the blade (as tables)
- Gains life's cry 2/day

~~~~~~

The Font of Fire began to slowly rumble; smoke began to form above it and ash rained down.

The citizens of nearby Sellaville began to panic and pulled back waiting for the inevitable eruption of lava. And they waited... and waited.

As the sun rose and the sky lightened, from the red glow of the fires bubbling beneath the surface it came. Fire shot into the air, but no lava. It swirled briefly and then shot across the sky like a comet heading to the north, and the east.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Tirama was seen out and about in Sellaville with the Buggledexters charity bringing good works to the city. Rumour was that the High Priest of Shaehan had been granted a minor role on the city council in the Craftenguilder department, and it seemed was using his new connections to distribute free healing scrolls to the masses.

Theodore Be'Akris and Narstaar	Kei-Rye	Gregore	Wynter Mourne	Okkram	Aath-Tah Sedeth	Narstaar

Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- Gain immunity to baneful diseases, as per a ratfolk.
- Absorb disease 1/day ~ Allows the Kallah to draw a disease from an individual, acting as per a druidic cure disease. This grants the Kallah +6/2 life for the next hour.
- Gains tell disease, as druid. Also gains a lucky idea about the disease if it is not a published disease.

2ND TIER

- Gains a second absorb disease innate. The life will stack with itself, to a max of 12/4.
- Instead of gaining life from an absorb disease the Kallah can gain an innate of the disease absorbed that can be used within the next hour.

3RD TIER

- Gains a third absorb disease innate.
- Regains an innate absorb disease every hour.
  Instead of gaining life, or an innate disease, from using an absorb disease can choose gain regen as Troll, that heals spirit and fire, for the next hour. This will not stack with other regen.

A small group of rats was seen roaming the streets of Thimon…

Ok, that wasn't particularly unusual, however this group moved with particular purpose, led by Shadowpaw. Clearly working to improve the lot of the people of the city, a people that was now very rarely seen as human, they poured their efforts into tackling crime.

Sonasello has a neuronic/physical/earth power Spirit Link to all members of the Circle.

Mystical transportation into and out of the fortress of Coris Mount is near impossible unless you are a member of the Circle, or granted permission by one of the Seven.

Bulaslavian Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- Gains ley of the land as Druid ability
- Can sense weaknesses in primus; takes 30 seconds concentration and reveals if there are rifts/portals/convergences/similar within ¼ of a mile. Provides a rough direction to them.

2ND TIER

- Sense weakness now functions up to 1 mile. If within ¼ of a mile then gains a rough idea of the nature of the weakness.

3RD TIER

- Gains Enhanced Evaluate, as if all rec's are owned, on rifts/portals. For every 30 seconds study gains an additional major prayer of information.

~~~~~~

Something strange was happening in the Baronies. Not only fae, but druid fae loyal to the seasons had begun to be seen in more prominence. The particularly interesting thing here was that they were seen to be making specific efforts to respect and follow the edicts, avoiding the calling on dragons and focusing on the power within Primus itself.

The recent appearance of the demonic Gate in the reclaimed lands was a worry and while it was more of a mercenary problem it didn't stop the Militia getting out in to the area and hunting any demons that were marauding the area.

Across the chapter houses of the Drachyul posters were being put up. Town criers began to travel village to village to make the announcement. Prior to her death Graf Erika Von Brehmen had laid down her challenge that she should lead the order rather than Radu Mollasar. As such should she return she is declared a traitor to the order and is to be hunted like the dog she is until her broken body is dragged across shards of silver, and strung up by blessed ropes, her mouth stuffed with rose petals, a stake driven through her heart, and there she will sit in sunlight for a week and a day before being beheaded and burnt to ash.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The Election of the Seven was getting closer. Wibeke Schumacher was often seen in the halls, and the near by taverns, seeking to shore up support for his faction. A rather new group in the Circle they seemed to be ardent followers of the Edicts and disliked the fact that the Circle was tolerating religion in the lands, and even worse virtually giving up on efforts to stop supernatural creatures walking the lands and even belonging to the Seven; what next? An Angel or Demon elected as Magiarch? Oddly however he did not wish to be elected, rather he was seeking to gain support for Tederich Voigt. What would happen remains to be seen.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Thor stood before the rift. The demons bodies slowly fading where they had been slain, and the bodies of the Blauz being collected to be burnt. The ritualists from Azkabars peak were already preparing the rituals to close this portal. More and more of those that fled and went into hiding when the Spiter fell were turning to darker

Scheinder and his War-Host returned to their Barracks at the base of Coris Mount for the first time in several years.

Those who had family there visited them, others spent their pay in a variety of ways, before Scheinder had them out patrolling the lands and making sure no trouble tried settling there in their absence.

In Schtoy mysterious figures moved from building to building, tree to tree. No longer that unfamiliar (indeed, they were becoming part of the scenery) the people knew that these figures were there to protect and help restore order to the region.

Indeed, every so often a law breaker was found mysteriously strung up, brutally slain and displayed for all to see, the burn marks of supernatural power evident on their body.

Directed by Sonasello, the ritualists of the Circle spent the last few months hard at work in Tartovia. Still suffering from the ravages of Pep (not in a diseased way, but in terms of the chaos and instability left in the population) the presence of these serious, powerful individuals had a somewhat calming effect on the population, bringing further order to the region.

Nordri guided his priests throughout Eisenstein, as always working to (in a respectful and not "in your face" manner) spread the good word of St Michael throughout the Waldgrafine. Whilst he still had to endure the withering glare of many older inhabitants, mistrusting of religion as they were, their message was gradually getting through.

`Heroism from Ishma

Ghalabhad Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER:

- Kallah gain immunity to disease
- Gain discern Afthanel at will, this is a 20ft range magical and physical info fx.
- Gains discern citizen of Khanniabad, again a magical and physical info effect.

2ND TIER

- Gain + 1 stacking back stab vs Afthanel or citizens of Khannibad.
- Gains 4 mana per tier that can be used to cast handbook dispels, no casting damage is suffered.

3RD TIER

- The spirit remains weak after being attacked on the Final Dawn but is recovering.

Khaniabad Kallah Benefits

It is now possible to start Kallah Beggars from Khaniabad. These are as normal Ishmaic humans but have no clan (they may have previously been in one roleplay wise and became outcasts from it but they gain no benefits from a clan).

1ST TIER:

- Blood Sacrifice 1/day – With 30 seconds ritual prep can cast one Standard Evil miracle to 4th, Evocation to 4th, or Elemental colour (not white) spell to 6th. Costs 12 TBLP in blood sacrifice.
- Knowledge of the cults – 1/day physical major prayer about any cult related activity.
- Gains immunity to anything that seeks to compel or reveal the location of, or methods of finding the city of Khaniabhad (including info effects).
- Alignment becomes evil.
- Gains Hanger On to Khaniabhad Archaeologist and Cartographers Society.

2ND TIER

- Gains a second blood sacrifice innate. If uses both innates at the same time (including loss of 24 TBLP) can cast any standard Evocation or Evil Miracle, or any Standard Elemental (not white) spell.
- Assess Rift – Reveals where a rift/portal goes to, the rough consequences (if any) of using it, and other information at ref's discretion (how long it's been open, when it will close etc).
- Discern Cultist – can recognise the telltale signs of cult membership (physical info effect, 20ft range) and the general nature of the cult to which they belong.
- Is now Ostracised in Ishma.
- Gains basic tier Khaniabhad Archaeologist and Cartographers Society benefits.

3RD TIER

- Ritual Sacrifice 1/Hour – May ritually sacrifice a flesh and blood sacrifice that is helpless (CF Strike Death Blow) taking 2 minutes. This acts as per a Strike Death Blow but grants The Kallah immunity to dying effects. Additionally the Kallah is cured 12/12 from the sacrifice. If the Kallah is already immune to dying effects then they do not need to fall unconscious to be immune to it.
- Gains a third blood sacrifice innate, and they may now also be used to cast Onyx, Bronze, and Ebony spells (still within the level limit).
- Discern Cultist will now reveal the name of and general information about the Cult if they have a presence in the city.
- Is now demon touched if not already.
- Now gains intermediate tier Khaniabhad Archaeologist and Cartographers Society benefits.

Khanibads Assassin Guild:

Guild members do not belong to any of the cults within the city, or other factions within it. Indeed their independence is perhaps the only thing that allows them to remain active.

Their only rules are they will honour contracts taken, will not endanger the secrecy of the city, and will remain loyal to their own guild.

Available to: This replaces a published scout status and is available to 1st Class Assassins and Kallah from Khaniabad, or 1st class scouts who have multi-classed to Assassin or Kallah from Khanibad.

Contracted Murderer - Scout Status
Honour in Death - Tier 1: 50 Table 1

- Discern Citizen of Khanibad – 20ft Range Y/N physical information effect. This reveals if an individual is a resident of the city.
- Contract is done – If agrees in writing to a contract to kill a named individual gains + 1 backstab vs that target. The contract must include fair pay and be a proper contract. If the referee feels this is being abused (e.g. I'll pay you 500 grulls to kill that random monster) the referee can trigger the individuals conditioned heart stop if an assassin, or they lose this ability if a Kallah.

Death from the Shadows - Tier 2: + 75 Table 7

- The hidden Kill – When agreeing a contract (as per Contract is done) the client benefits from the Assassins informational immunities with regards to their identity and involvement in the contract. Note this would not protect against a detect lie, but would protect against a comm of who took out this contract, or did X take it out.
- Strike for Pain 1/day – Acts as a physical pain blade, but applies to both of the assassins daggers.

Killer to the Core - Tier 3: + 175 Table 10

- Focus to kill 1/day – With 30 seconds concentration and observation of a target all backstab that is owned is doubled for the next minute vs them; this includes increases to max damage from Greater Surprise blows/similar.
- Strike to disorientate 1/day – If uses assassin eye on a target and then within 30 seconds delivers a blow using backstab to a flesh and blood target, for the next 30 seconds that target is unable to use DAC or Strength (immunity to dex and strength drain apply). Targets immune to backstab are not affected by this.

Post Stage Three:
Extra Strike for Pain innates: 100, max 2, Table 9.
Extra Focus to kill innates: 90, max 2, Table 11.
Extra Strike to disorientate innates: 100, max 1, Table: 10.
True Pain – The damage from Strike for Pain will go above max damage. Cost: 100, Table: 10.

~~~~~~

A bloody brawl broke out on the outskirts of Ghalabad between some Imperial ne'er do wells and some of the local Lady of the Stars worshippers. Those from the Empire dressed in thick raggy clothing, the kind one might think too warm for the Ishmaic climate… As quick as the fight started it was over, the foreigners disappeared into the shadows. Many of the locals caught in the overspill were taken to the local temple to the Lady to be healed and spend a day or two in recovery. Not all those taken in were as they seemed, however. Since they left something didn't quite sit right in the shrine anymore, the dark corners and places felt somehow darker and the shadow the shrine cast on the landscape felt almost longer.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Desert flies began to flourish over the summer. There were rumours of more mazadeen sightings as well. The local samila said that they were doing their natural job in the world, so the people didn't mind the increase in flies so much.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~
~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The people of Ghalabhad were suffering from a new plague. Boils and lumps started to appear on peoples' faces, but no one knew how to either heal or prevent these afflictions. They started to look elsewhere than the Confederacy for aid.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

A thunderstorm of fire and ice was relentless over Ghalabhad this Summer. This had been the worst Summer on record and was preventing the tourist industry. The people of Ishma all want to know how the Confederacy will compensate them!

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Ra arrived outside the Ghalabhad bazaar and chanted to the people. As he did, swarms of locusts exuded from his mouth. They began eating through most of the Confederacy's supplies. The people were not enthused about being told to start rationing their food supplies for the Autumn and Winter.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The hetyans were scratching their heads. Not because they were confused, but because contagious gnats and lice was being transmitted from person to person. Mostly through children and house animals. Anyone infected knew not to go to the central Chirgeons for aid though. Instead, there was a long queue to the outskirts of the city. The people lined up and kind khazhak applied ointment to each person to cure their ailments all day every day (for a price!)

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

In more positive news for the lands of Ishma, the forces of the Shadow Legion arrived by boat into the Port in Ghalabhad. Ishan and the mighty Zohir were seen leading the force (rumours of the nature of their relationship as always prominent) into the city and the surrounding lands. They clearly had a focused mission in mind.

By the time they were finished, a whole row of dead cultists were left on display outside the city, marked with the familiar symbology of the Destroyer, but also with the far less well recognised markings of The Murder spread about.

Both faiths it seemed had been eradicated from the lands.

Whispers in Amles

Amlesian Kallah are not like normal Kallah in that they are not beggars. Rather they form part of the Order of Shadows within the Imperial Palace, loyal to the Emperor. Membership is not publicly discussed, and it is not common knowledge (even amongst Daimyos) that such exists.

Amlesian Kallah Benefits

1ST TIER

- Gains conditioned heart stop to never reveal any information about the Order of Shadows, secrets of the Jade Empire, or to dishonour/act against the Empire of Jade, its Emperor, or the Kotei Guwen. If triggered the death is permanent, and this should be judged harshly by the ref.
- If an individual gains the Kallah benefits and is not Amlesian then they also are bound by the Jade Code. If it is broken this will trigger the above conditioned heart stop.
- Gains benefits as per Ninja tendency, but not the specific Magic or Neuronic powers. The informational protections also conceal their membership of the Order of Shadows.
- Gains weapon skills (not masteries) as Monk.
- Gains forearm parry.
- When being restored to life, this can be done using the Kallah's disguise name.

2ND TIER

- Honour of Jade ~ Gains immunity to any ability that would cause the Kallah to break the restrictions under the condition heart stop (this includes physical abilities. Effectively stats can't be used to cause the Kallah to break it, only their choice/mistake).
- Gains discipline 1/day.

- Gains a stacking mastery in one weapon, chosen at the start of the day.

3RD TIER

- Gains foreleg parry.
- A Shadows duty ~ At start of dungeon may, and must if a suitable individual is present, select a protectee. This individual must be of Honoured One/Samurai status or higher, or a member of the Kotei Guwen may select any individual for the Shadow to protect if they wish. The shadow gains the following benefits and disadvantages;
    - Gains restrictions as per Valdstyn with the chosen target counting as their master.
    - Gains danger sense for threats to the master.
    - Gains take killing blow 1/day for the master (at masters resistances, and must be used at the time).

Some of the Kami and Fortunes have been overheard gossiping about the inspiring words of Lord Maho and about clemency and justice. Apparently his sage advice was given at the case against the Kami known as Gotcha. This has resulted in the clamours for that person's permanent demise being commuted to merely a ban for a year and a day from the Celestial heavens.

As a result, Gotcha is not welcome in the Celestial Heavens until August next year. However the status of Lord Maho has increased considerably. The families and friends of those slain by Gotcha are still sad but understanding of the ruling and over time will move on from their grief.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Invigorated by the appointment of their new Warlord of the Shadowlands, Neko, the soldiers on the wall of blood were seen to be all the more vigorous in their defence against the Oni. One particular attempted incursion was easily thwarted as Neko himself joined the soldiers in reelling the attack, his glowing blade slicing easily through Oni flesh.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Elsewhere in Kabe the White Lotus Society were seen closing portals to the Shadowlands, attempts by the Oni to circumvent the wall of blood.

They continued to defend the area against the attacks of Oni and other supernatural invading creatures with great success.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Lord Panama was noted front and centre directing the forces of his family to reinforce their homelands in Lu Chang. Having dealt with the Thun threat to the north earlier in the year, they took the opportunity to shore up the specific defences of their borders, the population assured that they were protected by their Daimyo.

Untamed Lands Rumours

All tribals gain a crypt, unless they have abandoned their totem

It was not the season for storms, at least not of this magnitude, but that was of no concern to the Warden of Storms and it was at his behest that a great tempest was now rolling down the Storm Peaks and flowing eastwards into the heart of Brokenlands. The power of the Dragon of Air once more on magnificent display for all to see and feel.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The orcs chanted as they danced in the circle. The Shadow death rising to its glory. Standing in the centre a group of 30 or 40 men with ashen faces knelt in what seemed to be silent prayer. In their centre a great ritual, with dark power swirling around it.

A lone figure stood and chanted, his words echoing into the night. Then suddenly silence. The Orc's drums stopped, the chanting ended and the dark cloud consumed the area. For a few brief seconds there was perfect silence and only death. Then as the darkness began to fade, standing in the centre of the ritual a tall dark skinned creature, wearing black armour with grey glyphs covering it. Around his body a sheen of shimmering dark power.

As he stepped forward the few plants that survived in the Broken Lands began to wither and die.

He looked at the faces of the men and Orcs around him and smiled.

"I have returned, your Champion is back to walk in this realm again and lead our Dragon to victory".

The drums began again, and the orcs began to dance and chant, glory and death would be theirs.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Lucius stood in the dining hall of Dragons Watch. It had, at least temporarily, been converted to a chapel for the Dead Heroes. The gathered soldiers of the D'treal Household Guard, and the 101st, stood to mark and remember the sacrifices of those that had died in the skirmishes across the border over the last few years. The weakness of the former senate in allowing the miners to be driven out, the folly of the tribes in listening to Squim in his hate filled desire to cause death and carnage. Still however the border remained strong, and the cities beyond were safe.

Even as the priests prayed the mages of the enclave wove power to ensure primal strength would grow in the area, the link to the realms of Secundus, the Mittlenacht, and other places slowly being pushed away.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Din'Jarin gathered his tribe around, leading them in the ritual dance of their kind (a sort of shuffle as befitted the dead limbs that they had to utilise). The chambers they had arranged were… a bit gloomy? But suitably mystic. Big drippy candles, blackened skulls. Perfect for a tribe of Undead.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Skald has always been a part of the social and political structure of his tribe and with his tribe having been either scattered to the winds or taken by the evil Drowe slavers, he came south looking for a new home. Profession was always a strange one in the tribe, you all pitched in and got what was needed done and so Skald had never joined a professional guild. However, his exposure to the mercenary community and the ways of the southlands has made him reconsider this stance. The Natural Trust seemed like a good shout…

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The mass of tribes once again surged across the Broken Lands. War was a distant thought as the summer celebrations continued. Snuffy, Schlucky, Muttley, Lug, Og… the Marauders, the Totemic Guardians, the Holy Know all bringing feasting and dancing across the lands.

The tribes flourished, as the Broken Lands continued its ascent as one of the most prosperous places on Primus.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The Goblins of the Spider tribe continued their clamp down on the Dark Forest. Imperial Citizens had just about learned their lesson and had ceased going too close to the borders fully understanding that that path often led to death.

Left to their own devices the goblins of the Dark Forest doubled down on their control of the land.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Back in the Broken Lands, the War Host travelled from tribe to tribe, putting up a show of force that invigorated Orc and Ogre alike. Izrok of course led from the front, bone axe swinging with menace whenever there was a hint of anything other than full loyalty.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Kesira once again channelled the power of the world tree through his staff and allowed the power of Primus, gathered by the druids of the Natural Trust, to spread throughout the Far North. The air one more thickened as Primus itself strengthened, the barriers between worlds becoming increasingly secure.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

The forces of the Shadow Legion entered the Far North in strength. Their goal was clear; kicking out the last remnants of Certizal from the area. Slinky, axe in hand, was first into any combat. Heads rolled and limbs flew; diplomacy was not the strategy on either side here.

Maintaining and Claiming Guild Benefits

Guild benefits

Guild benefits are gained on the relevant table:

Basic Tier	1st level
Intermediate Tier	Upon reaching table 3 (250 points).
Advance Tier	Upon reaching table 8 (1000 points).

It is permissible for a character to choose to not battle board part of their guild benefits, but they should clearly mark this on their battle board. Characters are limited to benefits from one Political, one Social, and one Professional guild at a time.

The rules on stacking guild benefits are:

You can only benefit from one source of life or A/C from guilds, taking the highest benefit. When the benefit is qualified it may stack (e.g. + 1 MAC and + 1 MAC vs fire can stack, but + 1 MAC and + 2 MAC does not stack). The same applies to life (e.g. gains Chosen of the Horned Man and +6/2 life stacks, but +6/2 life and +9/3 life do not).

Would-be guild masters can now purchase basic tier benefits with points. Guilds purchased in this way will be Eternal and are done via a points requests. It should be noted they will not be cheap.

Extensions

Guilds function on rolling 3 month blow up dates (to fall in line with Almanac releases). To avoid confusion they are listed by month and it is the 1st of the month that changes are recorded (So October 2022 means they fade on 1st October 2022).

Guilds run on a points based system (let's call them guild points). There are several ways to gain guild points for a guild:

- The CP benefit guild hall is worth 1 guild point.
- A themed dungeon is worth 3 points.
- A guild special is worth 6 points.
- A guild special that is used to gain a guild tier will also provide a themed dungeon worth of extension.
- A Grand Guild Hall provides 3 guild points each quarter, if the guild is also Eternal (see below) then they combine to give 5 guild points in total (not 6).
- Being an Eternal guild provides 3 guild points a quarter.

It takes 3 points to keep a guild with a basic tier going for 3 months, 5 if they have intermediate and 6 if they have advanced.

If a guild reaches its blow up date it loses a tier and gains a flat 3 month extension.

Guild Specials/Themed Dungeons

To be a guild special the dungeon must have 6 members of the guild on it. They do not need to be battle boarding the guild, but must be in it. Hangers on and ley believer's count towards this total. Joint guild specials are possible but to a maximum of 2 guilds and each guild must have 6 members with each player only counting for one guild. If one (or both) guilds fail to make the required number of members then they benefit from a themed dungeon instead.

Guild specials must be booked as such; it is not possible to convert open dungeons to guild themed/specials unless all booked on agree and it is done at least one week in advance.

A guild themed dungeon is one booked with the aim of aiding the guild, and requiring at least one guild member to be on the dungeon.

Advisors

It is possible to play a guild special as an "Advisor". An Advisor is permitted to be above the max of the dungeon providing they are a member of the guild and have the organiser and referee's permission. There is one advisor slot per 5 players booked on (so a 12 person dungeon can have 2 advisors). People playing advisors must be members of the guild and not guests. They are expected to act in an appropriate manner and not attempt to "solo" the dungeon and show off. They should use their abilities to help the lower points characters enjoy the day and provide appropriate support. Referees should not feel the need to set encounters just to challenge advisors.

It should also be remembered that being allowed to play Advisors is a privilege and not a right. Anyone found abusing it will be banned from doing so in the future.

The following rules apply to those wishing to play advisors:

To be an advisor the character must be an established character in the guild and meet at least two of the following:

- Be double the points of the dungeon.
- Be Table 12.
- A significant individual (guild leader, guild founder, or similar).

Advisors cannot sign monster points on when playing.

When judging personal contracts for advisors it should be the exception that they gain a CP towards it (since their deeds are not as significant), although working on guild contracts as an advisor is acceptable.

Eternal and Timeless guilds

Timeless guilds will remain timeless without the need to gain extensions. However they will need to complete a guild special every year to maintain their advanced tier as detailed above.

Eternal guilds as noted above automatically gain the first 3 guild points they need in a quarter. Effectively ensuring their basic tier will never fade.

It requires 2500 monster points to be spent on a guild to make it eternal. An individual must have some connection to the guild to spend monster points on it. The monster points must be spent by at least 5 people and no one may spend more than 1000 monster points on it.

Starting a Guild

To form a guild a guild form must be submitted at least a week before the guild special occurs. It then requires a full guild special with at least 6 people that are in the forming guild (EG able to join and will be joining when it is created). This will give a guild a basic tier with a 6 month blow up date.

Gaining Tiers
To gain additional tiers requires a full guild special. The guild special, as noted above, only provides an extension as if a Guild themed.

Gaining a Guild Status
It is possible for Guilds to gain a status for themselves via CC contracts. Once the contract is complete a new status will be published in the Almanac. Guilds must have advanced tier benefits to gain a status.

Leaving a Guild

In order to leave a guild a notice must be placed on the relevant guild board, or as a public post on the forums. At this point the character can no longer benefit from the guild, or guild items, but is still bound by its restriction. One month after this the character is deemed to have fully left the guild. Certain guilds may have additional restrictions regarding this, and to leave a Church always requires the High Priests permission.

Political Open Guilds

~ The Brightest Light – January 2024 (2 Tiers, Eternal) ~

Guild Sire: Gremin

PRE-REQUISITES

Any goodly being shall be allowed in. Any neutral beings must have a signature from the guild head written on their card. No evil beings allowed at all.

ETHOS

"The light will guide us" - We act on those doing and harbouring evil: bringing light and hope into the darkest places. Defeating evil in all its forms in different ways.

"Our strength is our Mercy and War" - We show mercy to every 'living' person even if evil. We show kindness in asking them to redeem and repent their ways but if they reject the light and intend to do harm then they shall die out with the darkness.

"Free will is to be celebrated" - Evil clouds people's minds forcing or tricking them into a life of darkness leading people into being hated. Enjoy freedom as you have it.

"Brother and sisterhood keeps us strong" - All who are members are expected to strengthen the guild, to recruit new members to our ranks, and to be shining examples for others to follow.

RESTRICTIONS

No guild member is allowed to hurt another except in purest self defence or in a duel.

BASIC TIER

- The Light Within – Gains immunity to alignment change. If already owned can spend 1 minute in prayer with another goodly individual and grant them immunity to alignment change.
- Gaze upon the light 1/day - Acts as a mantic light range centred on the user only.
- I drive the Evil back 1/day – Acts as per the Gold Spell Warding, but only functions on Evil.

INTERMEDIATE TIER:

- Call to the light 1/day ~ When used can cause one of the following:
    - Empower a protection from Evil spirits when cast to act as a Stronghold of Goodness
    - Empower a bless when cast to act as a shield blessing.
    - Empower a weapon so it inflicts +0 magic (light based) damage for 5 minutes.
- Gains Immunity to Unholy Words 1/day for 5 minutes, can be triggered as per a war cry.
- Can choose for the "Gaze upon the light" to instead act as a mantic flash with the Blinding flash upgrade but vs evil only.
- Gains + 1 level of resistance to any attack that targets the member because they are goodly (EG Prot vs Good, Voice of Retribution vs good).

~ The Brood – January 2027 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Jesiah Blackheart

PRE-REQUISITES

Evil characters may only join with guildmasters permission. Outlaws may only join/remain a member with guildmasters permission.

ETHOS

When Sirac was first created he was commanded to be sure he left the world a better place than he found it. A mission he has found challenging on his own, especially given his low tolerance for politics.

As such he seeks to share the load with those closest to him, be they friends or family. This is a sister guild to the Sons and Daughters of Sirac, but open to any and all who share Sirac's desire to work within the laws of each land to improve life for the people of those lands.

We seek to improve the life of most who reside within the lands of Primus, and all othersuch lands we come to know. Working within the current political structures and legal systems, but not averse to seeking to improve them where possible. It is very much in keeping with membership of this guild to seek positions of political power, but such should be sought for the benefits you can bring to the land, not yourself.

Principal ethos is "To leave all worlds a better place than you found them"

GUILD RESTRICTIONS

Anyone found to have knowingly placed their own self interest or other such selfish motives above the welfare of the land and its people will be cast out. It is acceptable to favour your own homeland, but when it would not cause conflict to your oaths and loyalties, you should endeavour to improve the lives of the people of all lands across the cosmos. Equally you must never be found to have deliberately, of your own volition, sought to bring harm to any other member of The Brood or Sons and Daughters of Sirac.

Invariably complex situations arise, Sirac is more than familiar with those, and will judge each case accordingly. The expectation is simply for members of The Brood to do their best for all lands and their peoples, and to treat each other as family, do that and there will be no problem.

Castings out will be at the guild heads discretion entirely, but can have significant ramifications if the guild head feels such is truly deserved.

BASIC TIER

Members cannot be forced to break a mark ally cast by a fellow member (they can still choose to).

At the start of the day may choose to embrace the power as either a Son of the Gold Dragon, or Daughter of the Ivory Dragon.

Son of the Gold Dragon:

- Gains 4th level Gold Drave innate. These will stack with any already owned, but cannot be "liquidated"
- Gains a Magical True Believer 1/day – This can be used to cast a standard Gold spell.

Daughter of the Ivory Dragon:

- Strength of the Ivory Dragon 1/day – Acts as a single rune of Ivory warrior, but lasts for 1 hour. Additional extra runes of Ivory warrior can be cast on top of this lasting their normal duration with this counting as the 1st.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Diverse Family 1/day acts as a major prayer about any subject. However the answer must be spun into some odd story involving a tale someone told you about Sirac. Others can never hear this comm or otherwise get the answer until you tell the tale.

Son of the Gold Dragon:

- Now gains 8th level Gold Drave innates, these can still not be liquidated.
- Gains Mark ally at will for 1 TBLP. If owned already then now costs 0 TBLP.
- Gold Drave innates gained from the guild can now be cast as the other version.

Daughter of the Ivory Dragon:

- Gains 8th Level Ivory Drave innates, these will stack with any already owned but cannot be "liquidated".
- Use of Runes of Ivory warrior from innates gained from the guild will last for 1 hour if stacking with the basic tier benefit.

ADVANCED TIER

- Strength of family - Gains 1 point of live to minus per fellow guild member on dungeon, this will not stack with any form of temp life.
- Embrace the Magic 1/day at the point of casting can double the duration of a published Ivory or Gold spell that would normally last 5 minutes. This can be one cast on self by self, or on self by someone else, or by self on someone else.

Son of the Gold Dragon:

- Can use basic tier true believer to cast any published gold spell up to 12 mana.

Daughter of the Ivory Dragon:

- May trigger Mobility gained from intermediate tier guild benefits as per a War Cry.

~ Claws of the Circle – July 2025 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Scheinder Vreckstein

Guild Administrator: Sonasello

PREREQUISITES

Must be a Baronial native, this does include Baronial Demonkind and members of the Ritter orders who are loyal to the Circle.

ETHOS

The Claws of Circle is a subsection of The Circle, which is sustained by The Circle, rather than the Volksraad. The guild is one formed to support the political ideals of The Circle and is mainly comprised of militant Circle members with direct approaches to dealing with problems. Members of this guild tend to be on the move most of the time, travelling about the lands covertly performing the will of The Circle.

RESTRICTIONS

- If it is within their means then guild members should attempt to capture or kill any Baronial hedge wizard they encounter in the Baronies.
- Must support the basic political principles of the Southern Baronies.

BASIC TIER

- Discern Supernatural Power User: (Y/N) This may be of whatever power base the user possesses. If they do not possess a supernatural power base then it is a physical effect.
- Counter Rite: 1/Day As per a mantic Deny Power in all ways except with the verbal: "The Circle denies thy power!" but only applies against effects targeting self or another Circle member.
- Elemental Rite of Defence: +1 MAC applicable versus attacks from Hedge Wizards, Demonkind or Fey. Rises to +2 MAC if 2 additional guild members are on adventure.
- Spiritual Rite of Defence: +1 SAC applicable versus attacks from Hedge Wizards, Demonkind or Fey. Rises to +2 SAC if 2 additional guild members are on adventure.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- May enhance the discern Supernatural Power User so it now reveals the type of power owned If used in this way costs 3 TBLP per use.
- Counter Rite may instead now act as a Mantic Pure force if desire.
- The first point of MAC from Elemental rite of defence now applies vs all attacks

ADVANCED TIER

- The first point of SAC from spiritual rite of defence now applies vs all spiritual attacks.
- Counter Rite may be used to counter multiple simultaneous attacks from the same source (e.g. 5 Shadow Strikes at the same time).
- Enhanced Discern Supernatural power user (intermediate benefit) will now reveal if an individual is a member of the Circle, a Hedge, or other power user.

Ritually Warded - Guild Status

Watched Over - Tier 1: 60 Table 1

- Discern Supernatural power user is now a physical, Magical, Spirit, and Neuronic info effect.
- Gains + 1 Level of resistance vs Effects from Demonkind, Fey, and Hedge.

Protections of the Circle - Tier 2: + 100 Table 5

- Gains a second innate counter rite.
- Counter rites can now be used vs Neuronic attacks

Master of Rites - Tier 3: + 120 Table 8

- 1/day One counter rite can be enhanced so that it grants all circle/claws members immunity to the effect that it is used against.
- Counter rites may now be used vs any and all supernatural power bases.

~ The Deci Gentlemen's Club – October 2024 (2 Tiers, Eternal) - Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Troy Majius

Advisors: Virgil Majius (Under Threat) and 'Rus

PRE-REQUISITES

Guild member must be a person who was born or is resident within the jurisdiction of the City of Deci.

ETHOS

The basis of the guild is for the future of Deci. Members have banded together to form Political and Military support for the city and nearby villages.

This guild believes in using all the citizens of Deci for the defence and the improvement of the city and has no worries if the members use the powers of good or evil so long as all strive for one thing; the future of the lives of the people of Deci and the Empire.

RESTRICTIONS

Guild Members are required to act in the best interests of the city of Deci. Those failing to do so may be cast from the guild, and while within the City of Deci are at -1 level of resistance.

BASIC TIER

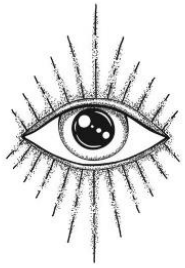

- Hard Upbringing: gains +3/1 Life
- Agile: gains +1 DAC
- Shrouded: Club Member may call upon the ritual shroud that protects the privacy of the club. This grants complete immunity to all forms of information effects for 5 minutes. Requires 30 seconds of quiet preparation in order to be able to call upon the ritual shroud.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Hard Upbringing: now gains +6/2 Life
- When using Shrouded can choose to also gain the benefits of a Mantic Pass Unknown.
- The Darkness of Deci 1/day – Grants See through Supernatural Darkness for 5 minutes. If already owned instead gains Senseless Vision.

~ Department of Recoveries and Collections – January 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) - Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Bartimaeus

PRE-REQUISITES

Open to anyone able to understand and work for the Empire. Outlaws and individuals Ostracised by the Empire cannot join, or remain members.

ETHOS

The Department of Recoveries and Collections are a small department in the inquisition that are responsible for finding, securing and making safe artefacts of power. Their mandate covers Primus but their primary work is done in the Empire of Glass via requests from other Imperial departments or private requests.

RESTRICTIONS

Characters cannot be outlawed and cannot gain any benefits while they are outlawed. They must never fail to hand in a dangerous artefact to their employer or if not to an Inquisition office (desk).

BASIC TIER

- An Eye for the Unusual 1/day ~ Acts as a one use enhanced evaluate vs an object/relic (e.g. a treasure Indiana jones might want to grab).
- Gains well equipped with a dungeon temp (no cards issued) item of a single use standard spell to 6th level, or handbook miracle to 4th.
- Tagged and bagged: If returning a "dangerous artefact" to the inquisition that had an ISP value gains 500 grulls per ISP as payment. This must be done at the debrief and the ISP are used in doing this. The guild must have been battle boarded that day to use this.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Gains a second use of an Eye for the Unusual. An Eye for the Unusual may now also be used on active rituals, altars or similar.
- You might need this ~ Gains well equipped with 10 power (mana or spirits) of useful scrolls chosen by the ref at the start of the day.
- Gains danger sense with regards to approaching/touching/using relics/artefacts based on the object (e.g. anyone touching this suffers a touch of death would trigger danger sense, the unconnected trap that happens to be under it would not).
- Tagged and bagged now provides 750 grulls per ISP.

ADVANCED TIER

- Now counts as having the relevant “Rec” for an Eye for the Unusual if effected by the relevant powerbase (e.g. Elves cannot count as having rec spirit, but can have rec mana).
- Gains a Third use of an Eye for the Unusual.
- Can use all three innate an Eye for the Unusual’s on an object and it will act as an Investigation (as the Silver spell) of the relevant power bases.
- Well equipped item from basic tier can now be any standard spell or miracle.

~ The Duke's Head Society ~ April 2024 (2 Tiers) ~

Chair: By consensus

The Duke's Head Society formed in the taproom of the Duke's Head, best tavern in the villages of Sweethaven, where a number of the regulars got in the habit of debating how to set the world to rights. Now active mercenaries, they adventure to share the benefits of their philosophy, just as soon as they've agreed on what it is. It currently works a little like its own democracy, with the Chair ensuring due process, but it includes those with other political beliefs including anarcho-pacifism and syndicalism.

ETHOS

- Support the Free Republic of Sweethaven in blazing the trail for a better world.
- Defend the rights of peons across the world.
- Stand up against the tyranny of the Great Freedom and any feudal system.
- Share Sweethaven's way of life with anyone who'll listen.
- Hone your beliefs through debate, discussion and collective decision-making.

RESTRICTIONS

Characters from Sweethaven can join freely.

Anyone else interested in furthering the cause of Sweethaven can join & battleboard the guild, but after 3 outings they must have their candidacy agreed upon (typically by guild vote or otherwise joining Sweethaven) and cannot battleboard the guild further until this is done.

Those with any formal position outside of Sweethaven, including military positions like Legionaries and Samurai, must have both their prospective membership and their candidacy agreed by the guild publicly, which will be announced to those overseeing their position.

BASIC TIER

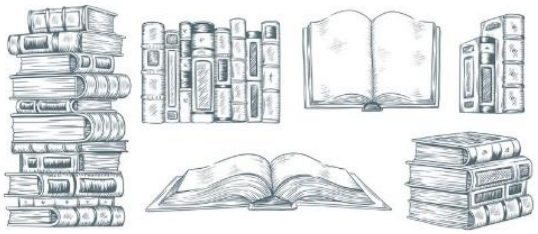

- The People off Sweethaven have spoken 1/day - At the start of the day (in the brief) guild members can vote which threat (from the below) will be the most dangerous that day. Depending on which wins all members gain the following benefit:
    - The Ghoul is the most dangerous – Gains a War Cry 1/day
    - The Demons Fire will consume us - Gains + 2 Mac vs Red
    - The Silver Folk will be our bane - Gains + 3 NAC.
- When on dungeon with another member of the guild gains + 1 level of resistance to domination effects unless all other guild members on dungeon are dominated already.
- Cannot be forced (by stat effects, including domination etc.) on how to vote on a matter.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- After a section guild members can recast the vote from the Basic Tier and change the benefit gained (if the vote chooses to).
- Understanding of freewill - After spending 30 seconds talking to someone is aware if they are under a domination effect. With a further 30 seconds they gain a major prayers worth of information on what the broad orders are.
- Members gain an innate discipline that can be used on other members of the guild (not self). Targets must be within 20ft of the user.

~ Enclave ~ January 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Lucius D'treal

PRE-REQUISITES

Must be a mana-using class or have innate mana due to race or class, not from an item.

ETHOS

The Enclave was created to act as a voice for the needs of Wizards and their lesser brethren, and to gain power, respect and influence for all mana users.

RESTRICTIONS

As the Enclave seeks to curry favour with the Imperium, Outlawed characters may join only on a guild special. Nobody who is outlawed for party killing may join or remain a member of the Enclave without the direct permission of the guild master.

BASIC TIER

- Library Access: 1/Day after 10 seconds meditative thought a guild member may confirm or deny a question regarding magical issues, as magical Minor Prayer.
- Library Study: 1/Day after 30 seconds meditative thought a guild member may remember an important piece of information, relevant to magical matters only, as magical Major Prayer.
- Scholarly Leanings: Gains the ability to Recognise Mana and Read Mana Glyphs (not use scrolls).
- If these skills are already both owned then may choose to be well equipped with any one standard handbook scroll.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Library Access: Additional use of Library Access innate above (2/day total).
- Elemental Bonding: 1/Day may magically Befriend Spirit, only usable on a mana-user of own colour (may be primary or secondary colour).
- Discern Own Mana-User: 20' range, at will, a magical informational effect with a Yes / No answer that identifies someone who shares a colour of mana with the user.
- Vague Reality: 1/day, acts in all ways as a Passive Illusion, except - no verbal required, instead takes 10 seconds preparation. It is not magical, but (effectively) physical in nature.
- Practised Scribing: 1/day, the character may write out a scroll of any handbook spell they can cast (even as an innate, but not due to items or guild benefits). This scroll lasts the length of the adventure, and may be used as normal by any person capable, assuming the phys rep has been written properly. Appropriate in-character phys reps for items such as quills must be used. The writer takes whatever casting damage would be normal for casting that glyph, but no mana or innates are used.

ADVANCED TIER

- Elemental friendship: When using an Elemental bonding innate it will affect all within a group not just an individual (e.g. a red wizard could befriend a group of fire elves not just one of them). Also gains a second Elemental Bonding.
- Gains a 3rd innate of Library Access.
- Gains a 2nd innate of Library Study.

STUDIOUS WIZARD - GUILD STATUS

Bronze Library Membership - Stage One: Cost: 75 Table: 1

- Magical Foresight - Gains a pre-adventure lucky idea on matters pertaining to magic. This can be about what spells may be of particular use or broader magical threats etc.
- Innately Magical - Gains 4 mana's worth of standard magical innates of any colour held (be it elven/fairy colour, or as a wizard) chosen at the start of the day. If no colour is held then the innates must be grey.

Silver Library Memberships - Stage Two: Cost: +90 Table: 5

- Understanding of the Arcane: Library Access now grants one word answers, rather than yes/no.

- Even More Real - Intermediate tier vague reality now benefits from clairaudiency. Is still physical in nature but illusion may speak etc.
- Innately Magical now grants 8 mana's worth of innates.

Gold Library Membership - Stage Three: Cost: +150 Table: 8

- Delve into the Arcane: 1/day can enhance a Library Access that is used on a magical object/ritual to allow an additional question for every 30 seconds spent puzzling over it/discussing it. This ends if the individual engages in combat or is attacked, or 5 minutes pass.
- Innately Magical now grants 12 mana's worth of innates, and the innates may now be any published spell of the individuals colours. For those without a colour (e.g. Rogues) they may now take innates of any standard spell, not just grey.

~ Hell Company – January 2025 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Thor

PREREQUISITES

All members of Hell Company must be goodly aligned.

ETHOS

Hell Company was formed to combat the minions of the Lords of Hell. Whenever Demonkind are summoned or sent into the exostance they are to be driven back to the hells. This is not to say that if a Demon is seeking redemption that they should not be helped but… they rarely are…

RESTRICTIONS

Members of Hell Company must be willing to fight the denizens of the hells wherever they raise their heads. If a member leaves an adventure where any evil Demonkind that they are aware of and were able to affect remain alive, and not on their own plane, then the member gains no points or levels for the adventure. This does not apply if the Demon has fled beyond reach.

BASIC TIER

- Demon shield: This grants +1 MAC and +1 SAC only versus attacks from Demonkind.
- Demon bane: 1/day may call forth ‘holy fire’ to cover any one normal weapon, whatever it may be. Whilst wielded by a goodly target it inflicts +0 light-based white mana damage for the next 5 minutes versus Demonkind only with the verbal “Powers of light imbue this weapon of vengeance with thy strength, to spell the downfall of Demonkind”.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Sight Through Shadow: 1/Day user is to see through magical and spiritual darkness for 5 minutes, with the verbal “I call upon the powers of light and truth, let me walk unhindered through midnight’s shadow”.
- Empowered defence: Any member may apply their guild MAC and SAC versus red or black mana, and against evil spirits, regardless of the source, as well as against attacks from Demonkind.
- Discern Demonkind: 20’ Y/N mantic info effect.
- Enhanced Discern Demonkind: 1/day 20’ Y/N mantic info effect that reveals the demonic racial name [or approximately if a unique creature] and up to 3 useful words describing the creatures powers of an identified Demonkind. E.g. Shadow Demon – assassin fears light.

ADVANCED TIER

- Heavens Shield: 1/day acts as a 36 point mantic Shield against the Dark vs attacks from Demonkind.
- Gains a Second Enhanced Discern Demon kind.
- Hand of Truth: 1/day Acts as a Hand of purity, only vs Demonkind. Death from casting is not permanent.

DEFENDER OF HEAVEN - GUILD STATUS

Enemy of the Hells - Stage One: Cost: 75 Table: 5

- Demon shield – The guild ability now grants an additional +1 MAC and SAC versus demons only (not red / black etc).
- Enhanced Discern Demon Kind – Gains a further Innate as per the base abilities.

Demonbane - Stage Two: Cost: +125 Table: 8

- Hand of Truth – A second innate from the base abilities.
- Sight through Shadow – This innate now additionally grants wanderers hunch versus Demonkind for 5 minutes.

Champion of Heaven - Stage Three: Cost: +75 Table: 9

- Demon Slayer; Demonbane from base tier acts as per a "Summon Weapon of Retribution" from level 6 Demonslayer.
- Heavens Shield now acts as a last line of defence vs attacks from Demonkind (i.e. applies after A/C and all reductions).

~ In Purity – October 2027 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Victor Somas

JOINING REQUIREMENTS

Membership is open to those who believe Primus is for the living, not the Undead!! Those capable of summoning Undead and, of course, Undead themselves are unwelcome.

ETHOS

The Guild is here to gather a group of individuals that share a common interest and will work together to achieve their aim.

BASIC TIER

- Members gain discern nature of Undead (as priestly discern). If this is already owned they gain a single use of a "know your foe" (as privileged ability) but only vs Undead.
- Blessing of purity 1/day – Takes a 30 second prayer and works on either a living goodly individual (including self) or a dead body (of any alignment) and grants a fortified spirit as tables except the individual cannot choose to be raised as Undead even if they wish. If used on the living this lasts until the end of the dungeon. If used on a dead body it lasts until they are restored to life. Immunity to slayer may be applied by an unwilling dead body.
- Gains a holy word "Purity" 1/day ~ Acts as a 60ft radius halt Undead (as the miracle).

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Lifes cry: 1/day (as life's avenger).
- Infused with light: 1/day - covers one weapon in a dose of holy water vs Undead for the next blow, does not need to be the users weapon.
- Repel Undead: 1/day
- If the basic tier "Know your foe" has been used vs a single Undead then gains contra mastery vs that Undead for the first 5 minutes of combat.

ADVANCE TIER

- Gains a second use of Infused with Light. May use both innates at the same time to turn a weapon +0 spirit (goodly) vs Undead for 5 minutes.
- Attract Undead: 1/day
- Gains a second use of the "Purity" Holy word.
- If has used the basic tier "Know your foe" ability vs a single specific Undead gains the benefits of a know foe vs them, this also grants immunity to any Undead touch effects they may have.

PUREST LIFE - GUILD STATUS

Life Defender - Stage One: Cost: 50 Table: 4

- If Discern Nature of Undead is already owned then the Discern Nature of Undead becomes mantic.
- Uses of Holy Word Purity now halts the Undead in a similar manner to stasis, so it lasts 20 seconds and only breaks when the Undead suffers damage (beginning a dismiss is also sufficient to break the stasis).

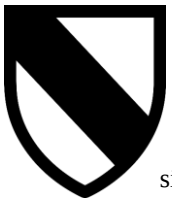

Undead Bane - Stage Two: Cost: +80 Table: 7

- 1/day can cause a Holy word Purity to also act as a mass Dismiss 3 (in a similar manner to the Paladin Holy word) to all Undead within range.
- If uses a "Know your Foe" guild benefit and multiple Undead of the same type are present then it applies vs all of them.

Paragon of Life - Stage Three: Cost: +125 Table: 9

- Gains a second use of Know your Foe vs Undead (as per the guild benefit including the upgrades).
- If uses both infused with light innates on a weapon already capable of inflicting spirit damage then the weapon counts as being covered in Holy water for Undead purposes for 5 minutes.

~ Knights of Legend – January 2024 (3 Tiers) ~

Guild Sire: Robert

PREREQUISITES

Be a Knight of the Land. To claim the Advance Tier a member must either complete an adventure in The Land of Legend or be invited by The Lord Knight. Membership of this guild needs to be signed onto the character card by the current Lord Knight, or Robert as Lord of Legend (if you complete an adventure in The Land of Legend please see Martin Witts – forum name Mart07 who plays Robert to have your membership signed on).

ETHOS

This organisation is a guild formed within the Land of Legend for those Knights that support the ideals of the Knights in action, word and deed. It is expected that its members attend Knight of the Land gatherings whenever possible.

The power of the guild stems from the ancient Banner of the Land, Resolution – Its power is now unfettered and is able to influence those Knights that have travelled with him over any distance.

BASIC TIER

- Inspiration: 1/day the guild member may seek Inspiration as per a Lucky Idea. This takes 10 secs to activate.
- 'For the Land': 1/day and activated as per a War Cry; for 5 minutes gains Determination as per the post 8th tables ability i.e. taking 6 TBLP from any stopping effect suffered but not the stopping effect.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Chosen of Imrazil: As per published ability Chosen of the Faithful [+2 DAC], but will affect any guild member, including elves etc. The DAC from this watching will not stack with any other chosen/watching/blessing. If this ability or similar blessing is already possessed then this ability instead grants +1 DAC, stacking with other KOTL guilds but no other.
- Mobility: 'For the Land' innates may now be used against effects listed as per Mobility, if used in this way costs 12tblp per use.
- Resistance to Avenging Spirit: As per the tables resistance – should this already be possessed it can used to grant Immunity to Dying Effects 1/day as per the tables resistance.

ADVANCED TIER

- 'For the Land': A second use per day total.
- 'Determined': 'For the Land' innates may now be used against listed Domination effects, however user suffers 18tblp per use rather than 6tblp.

- Resolute: Grants +1 level of resistance to all effects.

After the work of Solomon is strengthening the Virtue of Unity the Blessing of Unity can be gained by Knights of Legend. The guild status is available to any Knight of Legend.

KNIGHT OF THE VIRTUE OF UNITY – GUILD STATUS

Squire of Virtue - Stage One: Cost: 75 Table 1

- Gains 4 "Unity power". This can be used to cast a beneficial Spell/Miracle/Evocation on another Knight of the Land (the character must be able to cast the effect), OR it may be used to allow a beneficial effect to be cast by another Knight of the Land on the character (e.g. a wizard could use the unity power to cast a plate other on a KOTL, or a warrior could use the unity power to let a priest cast a spirit shield on them rather than using the priests spirits). This power is separate to other pools and cannot be combined with a character's normal power.
- Gains a live to minus 1 (not stacking with other Status live to minus) per other KOTL on dungeon (max 3 at this stage)

Defender of Virtue - Stage Two: Cost: + 100 points Table: 5

- Gains an additional 4 (8 total) Unity power as stage one.
- May choose one of the following innates at the start of the day:
    - Unity in power 1/day - Allows a self affecting standard spell, miracle or evocation to be cast on a fellow willing KOTL. No enhancement may be used on this effect, and it must be cast using Unity power.
    - Unity in Strength 1/day - May allow another KOTL power user to cast a standard spell/miracle/evocation that would normally be self only on them. No enhancements may be used and this must be cast using the benefiting characters unity power.
- Live to Minus from stage 1 is now capped at 6.

Knight of the Virtues - Stage Three: Cost: +125 Table: 7

- Gains an additional 4 (12 total) Unity power as stage one.
- Unity in power/Unity in strength may now be used to cast any published spell/miracle/evocation. It still requires unity power and may not be enhanced beyond its base effect.
- Live to minus is now gained at 2 per other KotL on dungeon, still capped at 6 points.
- The live to minus from this status now applies to locations as well, increasing the amount of damage they need to suffer before being severed (e.g. if a character has 20 to a loc, and 6 live to minus from this status they would need to suffer 46 points of damage to the location to sever it rather than 40).

~ Knights of the Risen Phoenix – January 2024 (3 Tiers) ~

Guild Sire: Bosun Starling

JOINING REQUIREMENTS

Membership is open to those who seek to protect the weak and the downtrodden of Primus and any other land. Those who are dark of heart may join with the guild master's permission, having attended at least one quest with members of the order.

ETHOS

The order follows the Mother Phoenix, a kind and nurturing creature who seeks to protect the weak and bring peace to the world. Our order judges people by their actions, not by the colour of their soul. The light-hearted fascist who smites the helpless due to the colour of their soul and the dark-hearted bringer of chaos who revels in destruction are both to be equally thwarted. We seek to protect, through strength of arms, intelligence and guile, those who do not have the ability to protect themselves and to try and bring peace and harmony where we tread.

RESTRICTIONS

Members of the Knights of the Risen Phoenix may not attack peons and other weak or defenseless creatures except in defense of self or the party and will actively seek to protect non-aggressive peons/defenseless creatures against the un-warranted aggressive actions of others, including those of the party.

BASIC TIER

- Life of the phoenix – 1/day with 30 seconds meditation triggers benefits as per a regeneration Elixir on self, but is not a flesh and blood effect, rather mantic (Gold/Red/Good spirit).
- Fires of the Phoenix – 1/day acts as a mantic (Red/Goodly) fire blade, guild members that are not evil gain utilise good spirit item for this.
- Heart of the Fire – 1st time a day needed gains live to minus 6 TBLP that cannot be inflicted by fire and while in this live to minus regens 1/1 to the most injured location per 30 seconds, or until out of the live to.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Life of the Phoenix from basic tier may now be used on other guild members. Alternatively if 2 minutes of calm meditation is used it instead acts as per a power master self-heal, but only curing 36/36.
- Fire of the Phoenix may instead be used as one of:
  - Mantic Summon Salamander Child
  - Mantic Talk to Salamander
  - Mantic sword of power (again gaining utilise goodly spirit item as above).
- Shield of fire: Gains mantic walk through fire (self) 1/day.

ADVANCED TIER

- Life of the phoenix may instead be used as a mantic Life Overwhelms (as Jade spell) but is red/gold/good spirit in nature. Verbal: The Phoenix overwhelms!
- Fire of the phoenix – If unused then upon death can be triggered acting as a Mantic (flaming) Avenging spirit on the guild members slayer.
- Heart of the Fire – When triggered the live to minus is empowered so that for the first minute of it it can only be inflicted by evil spirits, cold, or water based attacks.
- Shield of fire: If the user already has table 3 Immunity to Fire then when used it grants either:
  - Complete immunity to fire for 5 minutes
  - Resilience (as per Pasha status) equal to the users table vs fire.

~ Obsidian Cabal – April 2026 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Abbad

Notes: Abbad has a magical spirit link with all guild members. As such you may notify him OOC if you are dead.

PRE-REQUISITES

All members must be evil or have guild heads permission to join.

ETHOS

The Obsidian Cabal are a collection of dark hearted mercenaries who put politics aside to get the less than pleasant jobs done. The Cabal know that through working together they can achieve more than those who let morals weigh them down.

RESTRICTIONS

Any guild member who kills another member of the Cabal is kicked out. This can be over ridden by the guild head.

BASIC TIER

- Gains Kin with other guild members on dungeon.
- If guild members have a restriction that would require them to attack other guild members it does not apply (e.g. a Silverfolk and a non-silverfolk neuronicist).

- Heart of Evil - Members cannot be forced to attack other guild members, e.g. spiritually mastered with orders to kill someone. Additionally when raging they are able to identify fellow guild members and do not have to attack them. None of this means they can't attack fellow guild members, just they don't have to.
- Members gain Monk Loc skill. If monk loc is already owned this stacks with it.

INTERMEDIATE TIER:

- Gains True Kin with all other guild members on dungeon.
- Draw on the Inner Evil 1/day – Acts as a True Believer for any Evil religion, but can only be used for evil miracles. Alternatively it may be used to cast a standard Black or Onyx spell with 30 seconds prep.
- Strength of Evil – Gains + 3/1 life if on dungeon with another guild member.

ADVANCED TIER:

- Strength of Evil now grants 3/1 per other guild member on dungeon, to a max of +9/3.
- Gains a Mantic Avenging spirit the 1st time the character dies each day.

MASTER OF DARKNESS - GUILD STATUS

Night Caller - Stage One: Cost: 75 Table: 5

- Destroy the Light 1/day – Acts as a Mantic steal life essence but can only be used on goodly individuals.
- Draw on Inner Evil can now be used on any Handbook Evil miracle.

Dark Walker - Stage Two: Cost: +50 Table: 8

- Strength of Evil can now grant a maximum of 12/4 life.
- Draw on Inner Evil can now be used to cast any published Black or Onyx spell up to 10th level.
- Evil Villains find a way - Can sacrifice monk loc gained at basic tier and instead gain recuperation (as Adventurer Tradition) 1/day.

Master of Shadows - Stage Three: Cost: +100 Table: 9

- Gains a second Draw on Inner Evil.
- Vengeance is best served alive – Instead of using Mantic Avenging spirit can choose to gain a stacking live to minus 6 that is mantic only and applies to crits.
- If using Evil Villains find a way the regeneration from the recuperation will continue as long as the individual meets greater aware met conditions, for a maximum of an hour.

~ Of the North – October 2026 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Nyx Frostborne

GUILD ETHOS

Aim: To remain free of the bonds of Empire or of any other that may seek to tame the wilds of the Far North and its people.

BACKGROUND

Men, dwarves, their friends and allies gather around hearth and home in the Breakan mountains to the north of the Empire of Glass. The mountains are both a harsh and unforgiving place that borders on the edge of the world between the lands beyond the rainbow bridge to the far north and Empire to the south. It breeds its people strong and tough. Weathered to most kinds of adversity and able to adapt to anything that is unknown.

Almost tribal in nature are the bonds that draw the hearths and homes together. An enemy here is one not to be ignored. Deal with it yourself, draw your friends and allies to your side and wait not for betrayal and poison in your ale, your gold to be stolen or a knife in your back!

We may ally with the Empire and others as a need arises but we will not be beholden to anyone.

GUILD RESTRICTIONS

No kind of non violence pact between the 'men' of the North will ever be put in place. The place is wild and so are its people, sometimes they will disagree!

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS:

Anyone with a position of power within the Empire (e.g. a Title) or anyone seeking to bring the North under the Empire's control may not join.

NOTE

Following extensive work in establishing a grand guild hall – a focal place for those hardy folk of the north to gather, meet, feast and remember those who have fallen, telling tales of their exploits and "quaffing" – guild members now gain the benefits of a Crypt.

BASIC TIER BENEFITS

- Hardened upbringing – Gains live to minus 6 first time each day it is needed.
- Touched by the Cor Sam Gain – ½ effect natural cold.
- The Tales of the North 1/day – Acts as a seven word lucky idea about beasts/mystical foes, be they giants, dragons, giant snakes etc.

INTERMEDIATE TIER BENEFITS

- Touched by the Cor Sam – Now Gains Immunity to Cold (as tables)
- Hardened up bringing now grants live to minus 6 at all times, and the first time it is needed each day all live to minus owned is doubled.
- The Wild lands – Can see through Blizzards and similar snow based visual impairments.

ADVANCED TIER BENEFITS

- Cor Sam in the heart – gains completed immunity to all forms of cold.
- Brutal Childhood – 1st time a day it is needed all live to minus also applies to locations, increasing the amount of damage they need to suffer to be severed.
- The Brutal North – Gains +6/2 life.

The Stories of Tomorrow – Guild Status

Tundra Walker - Stage One: Cost: 75 Table: 1

- Tales of the North can provide more general information about heroic tales of the north, its history and similar.
- Gains Immunity to Tracking/Sniff/Acute hearing while in the Far North/the Chilling fields and similar terrain (in a similar manner to Alfar).
- + 1 Level of Resistance vs Domination effects.

Tale Weaver - Stage Two: Cost: + 75 Table: 5

- Gains an Innate Discipline 1/day
- When using a Tales of the North about a specific foe that is present it acts as per the Privileged tradition ability Know your Foe.
- Gains an additional level of resistance vs those individuals that hold an Imperial position or title.

Elder Speaker - Stage Three: Cost: +100 Table: 7

- Gains an extra innate of Tales of the North.
- Brutal North guild life is increased from 6/2 to 9/3.
- Can use stage two discipline innates on another member of the guild within 10ft.

~ Sakura – January 2025 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Ganbaru

Assistant Guild Head: Zaejin

PRE-REQUISITES

Any Amlesian who supports the Jade Emperor may join. This includes those of the clans, tribes, Fortunes, Kami etc.

ETHOS

Members should be seeking to encourage their clans/tribes or others to join the Accord/treaty and ensure the stability of the treaty under the guidance and advice of the Kotei.

GUILD RESTRICTIONS

Action against the emperor or outlawing results in immediate expulsion from guild and you cannot re-join unless you have cleared your honour by Seppuku or with the Kotei

BASIC TIER

- Loyalty to the Jade Emperor – If the individual does not have a status within the Jade Empire (EG is a Thun) then membership of the guild means most people Loyal to the Empire will treat them with civility and courtesy.
- Honour the Dragon – At the start of the day can chose to gain + 2 MAC vs one Elemental colour of magic, but – 1 vs the opposite colour. If Grey is chosen only 1 MAC is gained, but no mac is lost vs other colours. 3 days either side of the Thanks to the Dragons (10th December) the gains, and loses, are doubled.
- I will honour the Code 1/day – As Discipline.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Blessing of the Fates – At the start of the day can choose to be blessed by Amlalt and gain + 2 SAC vs Evil, or Avral and gain + 2 SAC vs Good, or they may choose the Twins as a whole and gain + 1 SAC vs all alignments. 3 days either side of the Day of Fates (27th September) these benefits are doubled.
- Call to the Dragons 1/day with 30 seconds prep can cast a handbook spell of the same colour as the Dragon chosen for Honour the dragons.
- I will honour the code when used also grants the benefits of a War Cry.

ADVANCED TIER

- I will honour the code now gains benefits as per a mobility in addition to its normal benefits, but applies vs all powerbases.
- Honour of the dead Gains fated hero as tables, if owned then gains undecided destiny. Three days either side of the Birth of the Celestial Emperor (7th October) a member may instead choose to gain the Celestial Emperors blessing which means their first death of the day will cost 5% less res chance (if ressed on dungeon) providing the resurrection is begun within 15 minutes of death.
- Blessing be upon the Jade Emperor – The 1st time a day it is required the member gains live to minus 6 that also applies to crits. This live to minus is magical or spirit chosen at the battleboard. 3 days either side of the Emperors Birthday (4th January) the live minus is ‘Mantic.

The Dragon’s Chosen – Guild Status

Respect of the Dragons - Stage One: Cost: 100 Table: 5

- I have honoured the Dragons and they accept me: No longer suffers negative MAC vs the opposite colour. If Grey was chosen the MAC applies vs all colours.
- I respect you all: 1/day with 5 minutes prayer can change the chosen dragon for “Honour the Dragon”.
- After 30 seconds talking to an Amlesian individual is aware if they support the treaty or not. This is a physical information effect, but if an individual is immune to physical info effects then it cannot be determined either way.

Draconic Diplomacy - Stage Two: Cost: + 75 Table: 8

- Gains an additional innate of Call to the Dragons.
- Gains a mantic Major prayer about a clan, individual, group or similar and their position on the "treaty".

Honour Amongst Dragons - Stage Three: Cost: +75 Table: 9

- Can use 2 innates of Call to the Dragons to cast an advanced spell of the chosen colour up to the characters table post 8th.
- Can use "I will honour the Code" on a fellow guild member within 20ft if desired.
- A second Dragon can be chosen when using Honour the Dragon; this does benefit from stage 1 of this status. However opposite colours cannot be chosen.

~ The White Lotus Society – January 2025 (3 Tiers, Eternal) ~

Guild Sire: Neko Musuko Panama

PRE-REQUISITES

Any who hold Loyalty to the Jade Emperor or his Empire, and are willing to sacrifice their lives to protect them (does not need to be Oriental).

ETHOS

In service to the Jade Emperor, The White Lotus Society will dedicate ourselves to two causes, first and foremost, our loyalty to the Jade Emperor and his Empire; we will protect these with our lives, without question. Second is the improvement of relations with our Empire and all others in this world we share.

RESTRICTIONS

Guild members must be loyal to the Jade Emperor or his Empire; should a member show extreme disloyalty to either of these things they are instantly removed from the guild and may only rejoin the guild should an adequate show of loyalty be given. This will be judged by either the guild master or the Jade Emperor. No member of The White Lotus Society will leave another behind on a mission; should this occur no points for the day will be gained.

BASIC TIER:

- Unity of the Empire – with the guild masters permission gains "Hanger On" to any one Amlesian Clan for the duration of a dungeon, allowing them to count as a member of the guild for calculating guild numbers.
- Song for the dead 1/day – If spends the ritual time for a restore life (includes Animate Life, Breath of Life, Palewise's and similar "resses") in silent prayer then the person being restored to life returns fully healed, rather than having to wait for 5 minutes. Does not need to be the one casting the ress, just "participating".
- Gains either:
    - Petals of Life - Gains live to minus 1 per member of the guild on dungeon
    - Heart of the Lotus – Gains +3/1 guild life.
- Will of the Empire 1/day – Declared as per a warcry and grants + 1 level of resistance; does not stack with levels of resistance gained from other guild benefits.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Song for the dead can instead be used to remove a slayer effect and/or the taint of undeath from the person being returned to life.
- Petals of Life will always grant a minimum of 6 points of live to minus, and now grants 2 points of live to minus per guild member.
- Heart of the Lotus now grants +6/2 guild life.
- To defend with honour 1/day – If a fellow Amlesian or guild member has been incapacitated/rendered helpless this innate may be used granting +12/4 temp life and one of (chosen when the innate is used): A War Cry, a discipline or a cold rage. The benefits last for 5 minutes and if the innate is not used it is lost.
- Educated individual - Gains Read Languages for Arcadd, if already owned gains a major prayer about Arcadd, poetry, or relevant Amlesian writings.

ADVANCED TIER

- Song for the dead can instead be used to reduce the ritual prep of the restore life to 1 minute, but the individual being restored to life will not gain the benefits a total heal until after resting for 5 minutes.
- Petals of Life live to minus now applies to locations.
- Heart of the lotus now grants +9/3 guild life.
- The Fates decide – is immune to any random acts of misfortune or similar. This could include "one person in the party is randomly ritual struck" - it would never be a guild member unless there are only guild members present. This is refs discretion and the spirit should be followed. This also grants fated hero, and if already owned undecided destiny.
- Will of the Empire now applies at all times.
- To Defend with honour no longer requires an Amlesian or fellow guild member to be incapacitated/helpless.

Floating Petal, Dancing Lotus – Guild Status
Fates Favour – Stage One: Cost: 80 Table: 5

- Gains Fates Decide (as advanced tier). If already claiming this then random acts will generally come out in the characters favour (refs discretion).
- If battle boarding Petals of Life gains the base tier Heart of the Lotus benefits as well, and vice versa.
- Dagger Catching 1/stage – Grants immunity to one MP/HP attack as the character actually caught it, in their off hand.

The Fates Sing – Stage Two: Cost: + 100 Table: 7

- If battle boarding Petals of life now gains intermediate tier Heart of the Lotus benefits as well, and vice versa.
- When using Song for the Dead can gain two of the benefits from the options available.
- Dagger catching may now also be used on cache style attacks that land within 5ft of the character, stopping them from triggering.

Off Hand Masters – Stage Three: Cost: + 120 Table: 8

- If battle boarding Petals of life gains advanced tier Heart of the Lotus benefits as well, and vice versa.
- Song for the Dead now grants all listed benefits when used.
- If uses Dagger catching on a cache can use a second innate to throw it back causing it trigger where the re-thrown cache lands.

~ Totemic Guardians – October 2026 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sires: Oggrod, Muttley, and King Snuffy

PRE-REQUISITES

Be tribal.

ETHOS

We stand together to answer the call of the tribes and totems of the lands. Holding moots and tribal gatherings throughout the wilds the Totemic Guardians seek to gather tribal heroes together so we can aid and strengthen our tribes and clans....UG!!!

Muttley, Grand High Shamanic Magi of Thunder and Storms (who many thought was dead) has a spirit link to all guild members and can summon dead bodies. As such individuals are free to inform him OOC of their death and he can decide if they are worthy of being saved or left to rot like a goblin.

RESTRICTIONS

If asked must always lend aid in any form or help other tribals, unless you're fighting against them...then kill them and eat them!!

Any guild member who attacks and kills a fellow tribal guild member will be cast out of the guild

The Totemic guardians understand that your tribe always comes first, but you must always seek to aid and stand by your fellow Guild members.

Outlaws must ask permission from guild heads before joining.

BASIC TIER:

- If a guild members own Shaman is not on dungeon may choose to give another Shaman that is present spirits as if a member of their tribe.
- If a guild members own Witchdoctor is not on dungeon may choose to give another Witchdoctor that is present mana as if a member of their tribe.
- When a Shaman or Witch Doctor casts a published Miracle or Spell that normally effects their own tribe it may instead be cast to benefit their own tribe and all members of the Totemic Guardians, with all members of the Totemic Guardians counting towards its effect.
- Totems Watching: May chose a totemic spirit at the start of the day and gains a Minor Talent from Primal Soul Predator or Prey that is appropriate to the totem.
- Gains + 1 Strength for not combat purposes.

INTERMEDIATE TIER:

- Now gains + 1 Strength for all purposes (max 2 for combat purposes).
- Totems Watching now also grants an intermediate predator or prey ability (must be same type as basic tier)

ADVANCED TIER:

- Strength of the Totems 1/day ~ Acts as a physical mark of the totems, but with all members of the guild counting as members of the tribe for the benefits. Requires 30 seconds "Bigging Up" the person getting it.
- Not going down 1/day ~ If a member of the Totemic Guardians is killed can choose to gain the benefits of a stand and die vs the person that killed them.

Totemic Guardians Guild Status' – A Character can only buy one of these status'

Wise Ones (available to Shaman, Witch Doctors, and other power users)

- Talking to the Totems 1/day – Acts as a Major prayer of the characters primary supernatural power base.
- Dreams of the Future 1/day – If uses a Comm can spend 1 minute in a trance and receive the answer as a vision. This vision may be cryptic and predict the future (as per casting the runes).

Wise One - Stage Two: Cost: +60 Table: 7

- Strength of the totems is now additionally the characters primary supernatural powerbase as an innate.
- Gains a second Talking to the totems innate.
- Totems gift 1/day can cast a published self only spell/miracle/evocation on a willing member of own tribe.

Spirit Walker - Stage Three: Cost: +100 Table: 8

- Not going down – Instead of normal benefits can instead be used to grant the ability to overcast (as per Thaumaturge) for 5 minutes.
- Gains a third Talking to the totems innate.
- Gains a second dreams of the future innate.

The Glorified (available to Warriors & Scouts)
Brawler - Stage One: Cost: 60 Table: 5

- Gains +3/1 Status life
- Strength from Intermediate tier will now stack to 3.

Battle Hardened - Stage Two: Cost: +75 Table: 7

- Gains +6/2 Status life
- Now counts as an additional tribe member for use of Strength of the totems.

Tribal Hero - Stage Three: Cost: +80 Table: 8

- If on dungeon with another member of the totemic guardians life from this status is increased to 9/3
- Not going down now also grants benefits of a mobility vs all power bases and locations will continue to function until severed.
- Strength of the totems when used is always counted as having 4 members, even if less are present.

~ Wahadamune – January 2024 (1 Tier, Eternal) ~

Guild Head: Tarek

PRE-REQUISITES

Any Ishmaic Human that is loyal to the confederacy may join. Non-human Ishmaics require the guild masters permission to join.

ETHOS

Wahadamune is a political guild for all Ishmaics. The outlook of Wahadamune is one of unity, it's members seek to defend the clans and people of Ishma, and the larger world as a whole.

Wahadamune is a collective, peoples from all clans come to join and remain members of their mother clan upon joining. Wahadamune also allows membership of any Ishmaic race, so long as they abide by the restrictions.
Long have the roaming people of the Ishmaic Confederacy been separate, banded into smaller tribes. Strong family but weaker as individuals. A new power has risen, grown over years uniting those of the confederacy under a single banner, promoting unity against the threats that the world holds against their lands and people; the whole making up more than the sum of their parts

RESTRICTIONS

Wahadamune is a collective from all clans, you may be a member of Wahadamune and your original clan chosen at creation, or just Wahadamune.

Must be Ishmaic to join, you may not join if you are Outlawed or Ostracised within Ishma (however those Outlawed or Ostracised by the Imperial Seers rather than Rainfinders may appeal this decision to the Guild Head). Becoming Outlawed or Orstracised in Ishma may cause you to be cast out, potentially immediately at ref discretion if the crime should be severe enough.

BASIC TIER

- Invoke the Winds Protection 1/day ~ Grants the user the next level of the "Winds". If the 1st Wind is owned then this grants immunity to magic for 5 minutes.
- Stand with the Confederacy 1/day ~ Usable if a fellow member of the Ishmaic confederacy is incapacitated or killed by a foe. Grants +6/2 life and an innate War Cry. The benefits last 5 minutes even if the individual recovers.
- Aid of the Clan ~ At the start of the day can choose to gain the aid of one of the Ishmaic Clans as follows:
    - Galahbhad – Armour is tinkered by the clans armourers, granting immunity to accuracy.
    - Buladajn – Venoms Whisper 1/day ~ Gains Immunity to poison for 5 minutes.
    - Benhai – Gains an innate Jump that also grants the benefits of Trap wary
    - Salahmen – 1/day gains double level of resistance vs magic for 5 minutes
    - Harazaen – Consume the Curse 1/day – Grants immunity to one Curse, must be used within 2 seconds of the curse being suffered
    - Rain – Draw on the winds 1/day Takes 30 seconds prep and can act as a standard Elemental spell up to 4th level.

~Yeomen of the Empire – July 2024 (1 Tier, Eternal) ~

Guild Sire: Benkasifer Winterhaven

Guild Symbol: A Green banner with a golden arrow pointing upwards.

PRE-REQUISITES

To be a Yeoman as listed in Realm of Glass and to have purchased at least 1 rank of abilities. Pre 8th level Yeomen may join but do not gain benefits until the first status has been purchased.

ETHOS

The Yeomen of the Empire are the defenders and protectors of Primus. They fight for the greater good of peace within the land, and many a time a lone Yeoman has stood as the last line of defence, falling so that others may live. They are the protectors of the Nobility and will fight for their causes as well as protecting the Land that those Nobles own. This order rose with the Republic, only to fall away at the hands of the Magiarchs. They then rallied to Amora's call, only to again melt away with the emergence of the Mercenary Caste. Now their Land needs them again… Who will answer the call?

RESTRICTIONS

Any Member who is outlawed ceases to be a member of this guild from the moment they are outlawed. They may re enter upon being cleared of any charges with the permission of the Guild Head or his deputy.

A Yeoman must always think of Primus first. Peons are to be helped, not looked on as an inconvenience and members have purest self-defence restrictions against Peons.

The Nobility should be respected and protected as well as the common folk of the Land. It is, after all, those Nobles whose blood is linked to the Land.

Referees should be MOST harsh on any member of this guild who openly encourages attacks on, or is dismissive of, the folk of Primus.

BASIC TIER

- Gains Kin to all other Yeoman on dungeon.
- Strength of the yeoman – Gain + 3/1 life per yeoman on dungeon, to a max of +6/2.
- Memories of the Yeoman – 1/day with 30 seconds concentration acts as a major prayer about matters previous Yeoman may have known. This includes rituals, ancient foes, lost treasures etc. It should be a broad interpretation of what can be covered, but it could be slightly cryptic or incomplete.

Professional Open Guilds

For ease of reference churches have been split out from other professional guilds, but are still professional guilds.

~ Church of Certizal, Shadow of the First Evil – January 2025 (3 Tiers, Eternal) - Grand Guild Hall ~

High Priest: Lomo Bandar Log

ETHOS

The guild follows the Shadow of the First Evil, a powerful Demon of Corruption ascended to Divine Power by the actions of his chosen one Lomo, and others. The duty of the church is to foster Evil in the hearts of men. It is more powerful to cause another to carry out an act of evil than do it yourself. Working from the shadows until a place is claimed the Church seek to spread across the Empire and beyond.

RESTRICTIONS

The Guild is a full black guild (as per WFA rules).

If a member ever ceases to be Evil they are instantly Excommunicated.

Note - If slain a member of the church, or a character with Pact to Certizal, claiming Kallah benefits linked to Certizal or if they are Demon Touched by Certizal, can choose to Word of Recall to Lomo who can cast a Mantic (Ebony/Evil Spirit) Command Life on the individual. This costs 20% (10% if fated hero is owned). For reference: Command Life is as animate life except the individual does not become Undead. Instead they discern as spiritually mastered, and if removed they die. It does not function on those immune to spiritual mastery.

This should be written on the individuals card.

CHAOTIC EVIL MIRACLE LIST

1st	Halt, Lesser Wings of Darkness
2nd	Cause Wound, Animate Zombie
3rd	Cause Serious Wounds, Curse, Protection from Spirits, Writhe
4th	Cause Disease, Conceal Lie, Create Ghoul, Beguile, Control Ghoul
5th	Voice of Power, Cause Grievous Wounds.
6th	Walk Through Walls, Spiritual Mastery.
7th	Suspend Life

DENOMINATIONAL MIRACLE

This miracle may be learnt as normal by priests of Certizal post 8th.

The Evil Within
Level: 6sp	Alignment: Evil	Duration: 5 minutes	Range: 20ft
Verbal: "Let the touch of the Shadow be upon thee."
Description: The target counts as evil for the duration. Immunity to alignment change applies. Willingly accepting this miracle is an Evil act and causes the person to gain a black mark.

BASIC TIER

- Embraced by Evil 1/day – Grants immunity to one effect that contains an evil spiritual component. Must be used within 2 seconds of the effect. For 5 minutes afterwards cannot benefit from goodly spirits, or effects that contain goodly spirits.
- Shroud of Evil 1/day – Grants immunity to goodly spirits for 30 seconds. This is not retroactive.
- Words of Certizal 1/day – Upgrades a conceal lie so it grants spiritual Deception at will for 5 minutes vs all spiritual effects.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Embraced by Evil now lasts for 30 seconds granting immunity to any effect with an evil spiritual component.
- Shroud of Evil may now be used in response to an attack (CF. War Cry) but only applies vs that attack.
- Feed on Evil – Gains +1 spirit per evil individual with a spirit in the party (it takes a while to feed on the evil), includes self.

ADVANCED TIER

- Shroud of Evil now lasts 5 minutes (does not work if intermediate enhancement is used).
- Instead of normal benefits from Embraced by Evil can instead gain immunity to evil spirits for 5 minutes. While active cannot benefit from goodly spirits.
- Can either add the miracle "Strength of Evil" (as per Pact with Certizal status) to list, or gain an innate of it.
- Gains a second Embraced by Evil.

~ Church of Dead Heroes - April 2025 (3 Tiers, Eternal) - Grand Guild Hall ~

High Priest: Andric

NOTE

Any member of the Church of Dead Heroes laid to rest in the Hall of Heroes on the Isle of Dragons gains the benefits of a Crypt.

PRE-REQUISITES

Priests or Lay Believers of Dead Heroes may be any alignment. Outlaws may not join without the high priest's permission, and members who are Outlawed may not remain without his permission.

No member of the church may act against the Empire of Glass as it is the current belief of the Church that this Empire is essential and central to existence.

All members must be from Primus and people from outside the Empire may only join with permission of the High Priest. People belonging to other churches or who worship other deities may not join.

ETHOS

In our past hundreds and thousands have died defending both the Empire and Primus from threats and conflict. Some have died willingly, many of the vitae infused heroes, and others less willingly, the soldiers of the armies of the Empire. As such these people, these Heroes, responsible for our existence today should be remembered and their names and stories passed from generation to generation. However we should remember that one man's hero may be another's villain. While we venerate Heroes and remember them, they are not our gods. It may be required for us to stand against them, and even kill them. The faith's duty is in inspiring – remembering the deeds of a Hero and inspiring others with it, not bending knee to them.

Kurten D'treal has spirit link to all dead guild members, and can choose to Word of Recall them to him. As such members are free to inform him OOC of their death and he can choose to rescue them, or leave them to ascend to being a Dead Hero as he wishes.

BASIC TIER

- Personal Faith: Each Priest of the Dead Heroes has a Personal Faith, and may design their own miracle list following the rules for a Hermit Priest. The Priest uses the miracle list even if not battle-boarding the Church's basic benefits.
- Lay Believer: Any character who is both Primal and Imperial in origin may purchase Lay Believer for 40pts Tb1.
- Call on Heroes Past [Beginning]: After 30 seconds appropriate prayer may cast any one handbook miracle of own alignment (Good / Neutral / Evil) of up to 4th level.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Note for the below abilities "Member" of the Church includes Priests and any who have purchased Lay Believer.
- Enlightened: Gains free 8th level miracle on Miracle list as per Hermit Priest.
- Call on Heroes Past [Middle]: After 60 seconds of appropriate prayer may cast any one handbook miracle of own alignment (Good / Neutral / Evil) of up to 6th level.
- The Strength of Heroes Past: At the start of the day one of the following 1/day innates may be selected:-
    - Allied Hero: One Undead summoned by the Priest will be helpful and act in a friendly or respectful manner towards the Priest and their allies. (Sphere ~ Necromancy)
    - Knowledgeable Guidance: One Comm I will yield 1 word answers, not just Yes / No answers. (Sphere ~ Communication)
    - Reviving Strength: One Handbook healing tree miracle cast upon a Member of the Church grants +25% effect. (System limit of 72 pts for an unprepared healing miracle applies). (Sphere ~ Healing)
    - Stalwart Warding: May cast a Handbook Warding Miracle as to allow any member of the church to be able to cross freely. (Sphere ~ Warding)
    - Aggressive Champion: If casting a Handbook Force Tree miracle within 30 seconds of a previous casting the spirit cost of the miracle is reduced by 1 (non-cumulative with itself or other spirit cost reductions). Minimum 1 spirit. (Sphere ~ Force)
    - Willing spirits of Carnage: If a handbook Causing tree miracle is not discharged after being cast the priest regains ½ the spirits rounded down minimum of 1. This has no effect on miracles cast using innates, scrolls or items. (Sphere ~ Causing)
    - Ancestral Aid: A Bless or Beneficial Curse may be cast on any Church Member and will benefit them regardless of their alignment so long as they adhere to the tenets of the faith. (Sphere ~ Benediction or Dominion)
    - Peaceful Departure: One Undead dismissed leaves no taint on the body (as it had been purified). (Sphere ~ Dismissal)

ADVANCED TIER

- Aid of Heroes Past: The Intermediate Tier innate chosen above is now upgraded to 'at will', provided that the Priest has purchased Major Sphere in the relevant sphere as noted.
- Embody Milo 1/Day: Grants full Undead immunities for 5 minutes. However for the duration the Priest's left arm ceases to exist for any purpose as if it had been cut off (no damage is taken for this and no other disadvantages associated with losing a limb, such as a dwarf dying, are suffered). This means that whilst embodied miracles / abilities that require both hands to be able to cast / activate cannot be used.
- Call on Heroes Past [End]: After 2 minutes appropriate prayer may cast any one handbook miracle of own alignment (Good / Neutral / Evil) of up to 8th level, if not on own miracle list then this costs tblp/spirits as normal.

CALLER OF HEROES - CHURCH STATUS

Faith Found - Stage One: Cost: 90 Table: 1

- Speak with dead - 1/day talk to spirit - only useable on dead people or similar (20, 3).
- Heroes Insight 1/day – Can use a call on heroes past (1st to 4th level only) to instead of normal benefit add a 1st to 4th level miracle the priest could normally learn to their list for the day. Requires prep time for the innate as normal.
- Knowledge of heroes past - 1/day - a major prayer about a hero (dead or alive), or a major prayer that a dead hero would know the answer to (40, 1).

Heroes Called - Stage Two: Cost: +100 Table: 7

- The Converse with dead 1/day - upgrades speak with dead to a converse with dead (40, 1).
- When using Heroes insight if uses a Call on Heroes past (1st to 6th) then while it can still only add 1st to 4th level miracles they count as being part of the priests base list, so can now be any sphere.
- Embody Milo can now be ended early if desired.
- While under an Embody Milo is still effected by beneficial miracles from self as if not Undead (assuming the individual is not Undead themselves).

Remembered Glory - Stage Three: Cost: +100 Table: 9

- Awaken the dead 1/day - upgrades converse with dead to a mass converse with spirit (20ft) on all dead spirits.
- Embody Milo may now be used in response to an attack (CF War Cry), but must be declared within 2 seconds of the effect being suffered.
- Call on Heroes no longer costs spirits if the miracle is not known.

~ Church of the Empress Goddess – January 2025 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

High Priest: Rijkard Holsted (NPC)

Custodians of the Faith: Josiah Jackson, Tarquin Stoneheart

PREREQUISITES

Open to any Goodly priest. Only Goodly individuals may join without the permission of the High Priest or 2 Custodians

ETHOS

Members of this Church worship Truic Amora-Badrass, the Grand Duchess of Halgar, Empress of Labyrinthia and Realm Spirit of Glass as a Goddess in her own right.

They recognise the fact that the current Empress has become the first Master or Mistress of Primus to truly master the Nagrech. Furthermore, members of this faith venerate the choice that the Empress made in sacrificing her own humanity and mortality to ascend to the position of Realm Spirit of Glass in order to combat the rise of The Spiter in the Sunless Lands. This act is held up as an example of the devotion to the duty of protecting the Empire, its borders and the people who reside within it that all members of the church should aspire to.

This church is a goodly faith and represents the Empresses' moral outlook as a goodly, constructive and peace loving being – violence should genuinely not be the first option. However, it is clearly not pacifistic in that its members are free (and often encouraged) to resort to martial means if necessary in the protection of the Empire and its people or in order to uphold Imperial Law.

This faith is currently most commonly followed by those outside the mercenary community, though its influence there is starting to grow. It is also particularly popular within some of the most fervent of the legions within the Bastion.

MIRACLE LIST

1st	Halt (N) Dismiss Zombie (G)
2nd	Halt Undead (G), Cure Serious (G)
3rd	Protection from Spirits (N), Spirit Shield (N) Talk to Spirit, (N) Bless, (G) Dismiss Ghoul, (G)
4th	Heal (G)
5th	VoP (N) Spirit Invis (N) Dismiss Wraith (G)
6th	Total Heal (G) Dismiss Vampire (G)
7th	Pure Force (N)

BASIC TIER

- Fires of the Empress 1/day: May turn a standard offensive miracle mantic (red mana/flaming).
- Empresses Force: May choose to benefit from one of the following:
  1. Pure Force is now considered a Universal Sphere miracles, but costs a level to cast.
  2. Pure Force remains a Major force sphere miracle, but now only costs 6 spirits to cast.
  3. Gains an innate pure force.
- Mistress of the Throne: At the start of each day may add up to 10 spirits of standard miracles to the priest's miracle list. These may be changed dungeon to dungeon (or day to day on extended lengths). They CANNOT be used for making items/writing scrolls or similar.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Mistress of the Throne from basic tier may now be used to learn advanced miracles (WFA), but the priest must be able to learn them normally (e.g. relevant sphere, alignment etc.)
- Will of the Empress 1/day - Acts as a one word minor prayer but the answer is from the broad opinion of the Empress (religiously).
- Force of Glass 1/day - One use of a pure force grants immunity to the effect for 10 seconds.

ADVANCED TIER

- Will of the Empress now acts as a full major prayer.
- Force of Glass now lasts for 30 seconds.
- Fire of the Empress may now be used to empower non-offensive standard miracles.
- Strength of the Realm – Members gain + 1 Spirit per member of the Church or Noble of the Blood on dungeon (a person can only count once), to a maximum of their table. Non-spirit using classes (EG spirit warriors) may battle board these spirits as innates of miracles on their list.

As a note Tarquin Stoneheart (Lee Dale) has Spirit Link to all Guild members, so they may freely tell him if they have been killed. Referees should note this may result in Lee asking for the "Circumstances of the death" as per the ability in Words From Above.

Servant of Glass - Church status
Squire of Glass - Stage One: Cost: 110 Table: 5

- Will of the Empress now becomes all power bases.
- Gains an innate Pure Force 1/day.

Chosen of Glass - Stage Two: Cost: +80 Table: 7

- Gains a second Will of the Empress innate.
- Empresses Fires – 1/day for 5 minutes. If casting offensive miracles can choose for them to be "Flaming". They remain goodly spiritual, but if relevant count as fire (and as such resistances to fire apply).

Throne Defender - Stage Three: Cost: +100 Table: 9

- Gains Injunction (as tables Ability) for Will of the Empress innates.
- Gains a second Force of Glass innate.

~ Church of Iron & Empire January 2024 – (3 Tiers) – Grand Guild Hall ~

High Priest: Ghulston

Lord of Feldraken Isle: Ashgaroth

SYMBOL

Clear Glass Skull on a purple background.

PREREQUISITES

Pro Empire un-outlawed Evil Priest or unholy champions.

ETHOS

In no way conventionally deific, this is an Imperial Church that typifies the dark, unyielding side of the Empire (but certainly does not see itself as being opposite or contrary to any other Imperial and Empress cults). It is an uncompromising faith that is preached here but offers simple answers to complex questions. Unlike most churches Iron and Empire understands that the influence of the gods is bad for mortals, fanatic followers of goodly gods driven into battle by their lords and the bitter and twisted evil worshippers of the dark gods performing their foul tasks.

The church does not follow a Deity, although sometimes outsiders may view the church as worshipers of the Empress. The Church draws power from the dark hearts of the people, the belief in the nature of The Empire and from the Primal power of the Felldraken Isle.

RESTRICTIONS

Should a member become Outlawed or Ostracised by the Empire they are automatically excommunicated until the matter is resolved. In game terms they cannot cast any miracle from the Church list, nor miracles learnt whilst a member. However this does not trigger Dedicated Power restrictions unless the individual refuses to hand themselves in for trial.

Note: The Lord of Feldraken Isle can remove the High Priest from their role if they are not acting in the best interest of the Church, or simply fails to fulfil their duties.

MIRACLE LIST

1st	Souls Hunger, Halt, Lesser Wings Of Darkness
2nd	Cause Wound, Animate Zombie, Halt Undead
3rd	Cause Serious Wounds, Curse, Protection From Spirits, Spirit Shield, Talk To Spirits, Animate skeleton
4th	Cause Disease, Create Ghoul, Cause Fear, Control Ghoul
5th	Cause Grievous Wounds
6th	Summon Wraith, Cause Critical wounds
8th	Suspend Life

DENOMINATIONAL MIRACLE

This miracle may be learnt by priests of the Church post 8th.

Heart of Iron
Level: 4sp	Alignment: Evil	Duration: Instant/10secs	Range: 20’
Gesture: Point at Target
Verbal: “The willing dark spirits of the Empire strike thee…Heart of Iron”
Description: One nominated target within 20’ range suffers a Cause Serious Miracle targeted to their chest. Should the target also be an Outlaw, Ostracised by the Empire, or a clear enemy of the Empire then they also suffer a non-level based Halt.

BASIC TIER

- Gains Spiritual Discern Outlaw (20ft range) at will. This also reveals individuals Ostracised by the Empire.
- Power of the Zombie: Counts as one level higher (stacks with published increases) for the purposes of Raising/Controlling Undead.
- Soul of Death: Gains a Fortified Spirit, and if raised as Undead by a member of the Iron and Empire the members body is not tainted, so can still be returned to life (or animated again).

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Strength of the Isle: 1/day. When raising a published Undead they gain Depraved Cunning, Darkened Potence, Utilise strength with pure and Undead Alacrity. If the priest already has Depraved Cunning or Darkened Potence then the Undead instead gains an extra 5 Hits. The Undead summoned in this way is also controlled by the caster until they (the Undead) are slain (this included Vampires).
- Loyalist’s Feast: If using a Souls Hunger on an Outlaw, Wolfshead or individual ostracised by the Empire then the healing gained is doubled.
- Mastery of the Dead: When using Talk to Spirit on intelligent Undead the Undead cannot lie to it.
- Dark Feast Claimed: 1/day Can cast a Souls Hunger onto a causing miracle that is cast with Lesser Wings of darkness.

ADVANCED TIER

- Gain a Second Strength of the Isle innate.
- Gain a second Dark Feast Claimed innate.
- Purity in Death ~ If raised as Undead then gains Depraved Cunning and retains own personality.

- Threat to the Empire 1/day ~ For 5 minutes vs one Target that is an Outlaw/Ostracised by the Empire all causing used by the priest inflicts permanent damage. Alternatively, the priest gains + 1 max damage (max quin) vs them. Chosen when used.

STRENGTH OF IRON - CHURCH STATUS

Bound by Iron - Stage One: Cost: 30 Table: 1

- Basic tier discern outlaw is upgraded so that it is now also a physical discern.
- If being raised as an Undead by a member of the church then can choose to use a Strength of the Isle innate on self (if one is owned), gaining all the benefits. However rather than being controlled by the summoner is instead free to act and is immune to all other controls based on being an Undead.

Forged in Iron - Stage Two: Cost: +75 Table: 5

- The Dead will speak! 1/day can enhance a talk to spirit used on an Undead to act as a converse with spirit.
- Death within us all: 1/day grants the user full Undead immunities for 5 minutes. While active discerns as a level six "Conduit to the Isle" and if dismissed the innate ends. This can be released with release own miracle if the user wishes.

Heart of Iron - Stage Three: Cost: +100 Table: 8

- Heart of the Empire: 1/day can enhance a casting of Heart of Iron so that it acts as a causing based loc to zero vs an outlaw/individual ostracised by the Empire/Enemy of the Empire.
- Righteous Bounty – Loyalist's Feast is enhanced so that the curing gained from the souls hunger is not reduced by the targets resistances to causing/similar.

May buy extra:

- The Dead will speak for 50 points, max 2
- Death within us all for 100 points, max 1
- Heart of the Empire for 60 points, max 1

~ Church of the Lady of The Stars – January 2027 (3 Tiers, Eternal) - Grand Guild Hall ~

High Priest: Zhara, Djinn of the Starlit Night

PREREQUISITES

Goodly aligned priests

ETHOS

The Lady of the Stars, is the Goddess of Light, Beauty and Joy, "those things that make life worth enjoying, not merely enduring". Historically, the church in Labyrinthia directed much of its energy towards the destruction of the Void God, but now that that end has been achieved, they have had a chance to step back and return the faith to its earlier roots.

Since followers of the Lady of the Stars offer their whole-hearted love and devotion to the Lady, no individual who draws spiritual power from any other source or patron may claim membership of the Church of The Lady of the Stars. Any priest of the church who in some way acquires another spiritual patron must either reject that patron and their power utterly, or else leave the church (refusal to leave is an excommunicable offence). The only exception to this rule is followers of the other Valar, since the Lady is the representative of that pantheon upon this plane.

DARIG OF ELBERETH

It is worth noting that Darig has a Spirit Link, as per the tables ability, with all Guild members.

Miracle List

1st	Halt, Cure Wound, Detect Spirit's Nature, Power Meld, Spirit of Seeing
2nd	Cure Serious
3rd	Cure Disease, Talk to Spirits, Spirit Shield, Protection from Spirits, Bless, Dismiss Ghoul

4th	Heal, Spirit Bolt
5th	Dismiss Wraith, Voice of Power, Spiritual Invisibility
6th	Total Heal, Dismiss Vampire
8th	Restore Life

BASIC TIER

- Innate Cure Serious miracle: Gains an innate 'cure serious' miracle 2/day.
- Fortified Spirit: As published ability.
- Immunity Beguile Spirit: As published immunity.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Sight of the Stars: 1/Day, grants See Through Supernatural Darkness and Fully Active Spirit sight for 5 minutes. Verbal: "By her grace is darkness banished!"
- Innate Cure Serious miracle: Gains an innate 'cure serious' miracle 5/day in total (from Tier 1).
- Looks Familiar: 1/day, after 10 seconds of inspecting an Undead creature that responds as "unknown" can recall the name and level (as per Reveal Undead Name)

ADVANCED TIER

- Immunity to Befriend Spirit and Spiritual Mastery, as published immunity.
- Looks Familiar: 3/day [total] from Intermediate Tier
- Wise to the Ways of Undeath: Gains Remember Undead Name.

~ Church of Mortai – July 2028 (3 Tiers) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Immortal High Priest: Lithmore

Custodian of the Faith: Squire

Guild Symbol: White dove motif on black shield background.

PRE-REQUISITES

Be a goodly weapons-wielding priest (not pure priest, hospitaller, armoured priest), or a paladin

ETHOS

Mortai is the brother god of Shaehan, and her defender. He strongly believes in the sanctity of life, and is the overseer of Undead across the planes. His role is to ensure that they do not stray outside the restrictions to which they are bound, by invading the dead bodies of mortals or otherwise seeking to take revenge on living spirits. His priests are expected to harm no living thing except where it is essential to defend a life, although those who raise Undead are an exception to this rule and may be acted against as the priest sees fit. Undead must be returned to their own plane, by force if necessary, and trapped mortal bodies freed from their corruption. Antagonistic daemonkind should also be destroyed or banished, as their spirits are also perversions of lost souls and they are drawn to harm the living.

MIRACLE LIST

1st	Dismiss Zombie, Cure Wound
2nd	Dismiss Skeleton, Halt Undead, Cure Serious Wounds
3rd	Dismiss Ghoul, Protection from Spirits, Talk to Spirits, Spirit Shield, Cure Disease, Bless
4th	Spirit Bolt, Heal, Dismiss Mummy
5th	Spiritual Invisibility, Dismiss Wraith
6th	Total Heal, Dismiss Vampire
7th	Dismiss Level 7 Undead

BASIC TIER

- Guild Miracle: Reveal Undead Name added to own miracle list. If desired may instead battle-board this miracle as a 1/day innate.
- Sanctified Ground: 1/day may cast a Protection from Spirits [Evil] solely against Undead, in which case it does not require a line/circle to be drawn but is created around the caster in a radius of up to 6' or in a line up to 15' across up to 3' distance from the caster.
- The Enemy Predictable: Gains Combat Wary against Undead. The skill level is equal to the highest dismiss miracle known. [Max 10pts].

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Guild Miracle: Righteous Aura 8th level [10spirits]
    - The priest's spirit is concentrated more fully in opposition of Undead spirits. For the duration, the priest may not cast any miracle unless directly against Undead. However, any Undead creature of level 5 or below which touches or is touched by the priest is destroyed instantly, costing the priest 3 TBLP per level of the Undead. Undead of level 6 take 12 TBLP (4 hits) of goodly spiritual damage for each touch. This is a releasable miracle, and does affect the Undead.
- If desired may instead battle-board this miracle as a 1/day innate.
- Enhanced Sanctified Ground: Either may use a second innate of the Basic Tier ability or use it to act as per an innate of 'The Light of Faith', but with only a 15 minute duration.
- Fortified Spirit: as per the tables ability, If already possessed then gains Immunity to Slayer and similar effects.

ADVANCED TIER

- The Shield of Mortai: 1/day as Spirit Shield but only against Undead Touch Effects, the user may choose whether to apply it or not against the attacks suffered. This innate only works on members of the Church of Mortai.
- Stalwart Against Undeath: Gains +18tblp casting stamina for the purposes of Dismissal Tree and Sphere miracles, Righteous Aura, and Hand of Purity.
- Undead Sense: As per the tables ability Spirit Sense but only applies against Undead. If Spirit Sense is already owned, then this ability is enhanced to grant Spiritual Vigilance against Undead.

LIFE'S DEFENDERS – CHURCH STATUS

Holy Squire - Stage one: Cost: 50 Table: 1

- One use of Sanctified Ground is upgraded to act as a stronghold of goodness vs undead.
- Gains + 2 levels of combat wary for The Enemy predictable (max 12).

Righteous Champion - Stage Two: Cost: +75 Table: 5

- Gains an additional Innate of sanctified ground.
- Members gain 3 spirits of published dismissal innates (chosen at the start of the day) per member of the Church of Mortai that has this ability on dungeon (including self).

Radiant Archon - Stage Three: Cost: +125 Table: 9

- Gains an additional shield of Mortai innate.
- 1/day May enhanced a shield of Mortai innate to act as a Ward against the dead.
- 1/day May enhance a sanctified ground so that rather than acting as a prot all goodly individuals with a spirit (not undead) within 20ft of where it was used gains the benefits of a spiritual sanctuary vs undead. This lasts 5 minutes.

~ Church of Primal Darkness – Faded ~

The Light has won… For now…

~ Church of Shaehan – Timeless (3 Tiers) ~

Shaehan Priests in "Haven" also count as benefiting from the CP benefit "Haven" (just in case)

High Priest: Tirama

PREREQUISITES

Goodly non weapon using priest.

ETHOS

Shaehan is the Goddess of Healing, Mercy and Charity. Shaehan priests will cure all who ask for it, though may ask those of evil alignment to repent before doing so. The priests have a similar outlook to Hospitallers but realise that fighting is a way of life and thus will not always try to stop a fight, although they will advise against it and will tidy up afterwards. They must never kill, or they will be instantly excommunicated by the goddess, unless it is against Undead or evil supernatural creatures which are antagonistic. Above all Shaehan priests believe in healing, mercy and the right of life regardless of alignment.

RESTRICTIONS

They must never kill, or they will be instantly excommunicated by the goddess (referee), unless it is against Undead or evil supernatural creatures which are antagonistic. May never manufacture anything supernatural except spiritual scrolls.

MESSAGE FROM THE HIGH PRIEST

Faithful, please find me to receive the blessings of our lady, so that I can ensure that you are protected. The church and our Ladies power has much to provide. Keep safe whilst travelling the lands of Primus and beyond. And above all, embrace Her light wherever you walk.

Miracle List

1st	Cure Wound, Detect Spirit's Nature, Halt
2nd	Cure Serious Wounds
3rd	Cure Disease, Talk to Spirit, Dismiss Ghoul, Protection from Spirits, Spirit Shield, Bless
4th	Heal
5th	Dismiss Wraith, Remove Fear and Paralysis, Spiritual Invisibility
6th	Total Heal, Dismiss Vampire, Spiritual Freedom
8th	Restore Life

BASIC TIER

- Discern Associated Spirits: If already possessed then gains Discern Nature of wounds to 20' .
- Extra Miracle: If battle boarding the Church as a Professional Guild gains the miracle Spirit Shift: As Words From Above but is a 4sp goodly miracle. Verbal: "Shaehan, Take me hence!"
- Haven: 1/Day. The Shaehan priest must audibly and clearly speak the Prayer of Haven immediately before meditating, the priest then speaks no further words before going into the meditative trance (Max. 3 seconds later). As the meditation starts the priest disappears from the point of meditation and appears at Shaehan's side where he/she is totally safe and gains +x1 meditation rate [max 5]. However the meditation ends after the pre-set time or when on full spirits which ever happens first, and cannot end before. The priest re-appears at the point where he/she started, unless the party have moved on in which case the priest will reappear at the safest place within 20' of the party.

- Should any person within the party which the priest left call the name of the priest three times while they are in Haven, the priest becomes aware that they are being called and may elect to end the meditation early and return at that time. The meditation is not broken if they do not choose to do so.

Oh Mistress Shaehan, Lady of Light
Listen I plea to the prayer of Haven
Oh Lady of Mercy
Grant me sanctuary
In which to meditate
Protect and watch over me
As I pray for the power
To continue your work
Shelter me under the wings
Of the sacred dove
Bathe me in your Holy Light
Oh Lady Shaehan
Goddess of Forgiveness and Mercy
Let thy love shine over the lands
Let me spread the word of your love
As I preach your message of peace
Grant me the power with which to heal
And cure the wounds
This mortal life doth cause
Show kindness to me thy priest
And mercy to the persecuted
Grant me thy servant
The shelter of thy sacred abode
I beseech thee
Show your humble servant
The tender mercies that this Mortal world doth lack Defend me from those who
Would strike the defenceless
Protect me from those
Who would show no mercy.

NOTE: As Haven exists within the very essence of the goddess, entrance to it is barred to all except Priests of Shaehan. It is not possible to use means of interplanar transport to enter Haven.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Haven: 2nd innate of Haven ability from Basic Tier.
- Strengthened: +4/2 life, non cumulative with any other life from guild abilities
- Death Link: Death Link to the High priest - dead member may inform Tirama, Torwin, Latona or Chernobyl, s/he is then considered to have retrieved the corpse by spiritually shifting the body to them in the manner of a Word of Recall. If performed on adventure this costs the summoning priest 10 spirits.
- Guild Link: Tirama, Torwin, Chernobyl and Gysmo are linked to all guild-members, and all guild-members are linked to them. This allows the sending of spiritual messages via this link. Any guild-member may send a message, as per Improved Message except spiritual, to any of these four, or to any Church of Shaehan member on adventure. Each such message costs 18 tblp, or may be sent at no life cost after 5 minutes concentration. Messages sent 'off-adventure' to a high priest cannot generally be acted on until after the end of adventure. All members also gain Death Link with other guild members on adventure.

ADVANCED TIER

- Haven: 3rd innate of Haven ability from Basic Tier.
- Temple Altars: The altars of the three main temples of Shaehan, in Scarlene, Sellville and the Halgar, are empowered to allow transport between them. A guild member may spend 30 seconds in prayer before one, name one of the other two and touch the altar to be transported to it instantly. This may be done once per day from each altar for each guild member, and may be repeated at will with the addition of casting the Spirit-Shift miracle after the prayer. This only transports guild members to one of the other two altars.

- Passive Heal: Member is aided by the Lady Shaehan such that they are considered to have a 'Passive Heal' miracle active on them at all times. This means that should a Heal miracle be cast specifically into this 'receptacle' it will be held in abeyance, and only activate on the priest should they be down more than 36 life, or have a location fall to zero or below. In all respects this functions like the Words from Above miracle, except that it has no duration, and may be replenished if desired whenever it is used.

SHAEHAN CHURCH STATUS

Individuals can choose to follow either the Path of Torwin or Latona and buy one status.

Path of Torwin
Mercy's Champion - Stage One: Cost: 75 Table: 1

- Gains Forearm Parry.
- Gains Discern Demonkind.

Defender of the Innocent - Stage Two: Cost: +90 Table: 7

- +3/1 status life.
- Gains Summon Sun Sword 1/day, As sabre of light and truth but spiritual in nature and can only harm Demonkind and Undead.

Beloved of Torwin - Stage Three: Cost: +150 Table: 9

- +6/2 (total) life,
- Gains a 2nd innate Sun sword.
- If a dismiss cast by the priest would directly kill a living being that isn't a Demonkind it fails and the power is wasted (e.g. dismissing a living person using an Embody Wight).

Path of Latona
Bringer of Peace - Stage One: Cost: 60 Table: 5

- Can never use a weapon.
- Gains 3 healing spirits.
- If ever uses an ability that would harm a living being the ability fails and the power is wasted.

Embodiment of Love - Stage Two: Cost: +90 Table: 7

- Gains 6 healing spirits (total)
- If using Prayer to Aid to cast a Heal into the Shaehan Passive heal then the passive heal will kick in when the priest is down 48 tblp, not 36, IF they wish to have it do so. Must be chosen at the point of casting the Heal.

Beloved of Latona - Stage Three: Cost: +150 Table: 9

- Gains 9 healing spirits (total)
- When casting a passive Heal (the miracle) on self can choose for it to have no duration and only kick in when a crit reaches 0 or lower, rather than when down 36 TBLP or any loc reaching 0.

~ Church of Saint Michael – April 2027 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

St Michael Scriptorium

With the completion of the Scriptorium, all St Michael priests when playing on the day of a guild special gain the benefits of a Scribe (as the CC benefit).

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

High Priest: Castiel

PREREQUISITES

Be a goodly aligned priest

ETHOS

Priests of Saint Michael follow the Creator of all things and on the whole try to reason with most problems; a guild for reasonable characters. However, many of the longer-standing members of the Church tend to interpret St Michael's teachings in more 'extreme' ways, and this has led to some discussion about the possible division of the guild. The High Priest is at pains to point out, however, that the scriptures can be read in more than one way.

Robert - It is worth noting that Robert, Cardinal of Saint Michael (Forum name - Mart07), has a Spirit Link, as per the tables ability, with all Guild members.

Miracle List

1st	Cure Wound, Detect Spirit's Nature, Halt, Power Meld, Spirit of Seeing
2nd	Cure Serious Wounds
3rd	Cure Disease, Talk to Spirit, Dismiss Ghoul, Protection from Spirits, Spirit Shield, Bless
4th	Heal, Spirit Bolt
5th	Dismiss Wraith, Voice of Power, Spiritual Invisibility
6th	Total Heal, Dismiss Vampire
8th	Restore Life

BASIC TIER

St Michael's Blessing: All members gain +3/1 Life points and +1 DAC. These abilities do not stack with spells or miracles that grant extra life, AC or a bless unless the ability is from a St Michael member. This effect can be discerned by the use of the Priestly Discern Bless ability.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

Enhanced Blessing: Blessing above now also includes +1 MAC and +1 SAC. Now stacks with Chosen of the Faithful.

ADVANCED TIER

True Blessing: Blessing above now grants +2 MAC, +2 SAC, +1 DAC and +6/2 life total

RIGHTEOUS ONE - CHURCH STATUS

Holy Squire - Stage One: Cost: 50 Table: 1

- Michaels Blessing now grants + 2 (from +1) DAC.
- Gains Discern Destroyer Worshipper at will (20ft range, Y/N, is a spiritual discern)
- If ever excommunicated from St Michael the benefits of "Michaels blessing" are permanently suffered in reverse (this includes enhancements from this status).

Righteous Champion - Stage Two: Cost: +125 Table: 5

- Michaels Blessing now grants +9/3 life total (from 6/2).
- Prayer to the Creator – Acts as per True Believer in St Michael 1/day
- Discern Destroyer Worshipper provides a simple description of the type of worshipper they are (Priest, Demon in service, Zealot, forced into it etc.).
~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Light's Fury - Stage Three: Cost: +75 Table: 8

- Michaels Blessing now grants +12/4 life total (from 9/3).
- Prayer to the Creator can now cast any miracle on the St Michael base list, alternatively it can be used to add a handbook goodly miracle to the characters miracle list for the rest of the day.

~ Church of the Soul Forger – April 2025 (3 Tier) – Grand Guild hall ~

High Priest: Dagda Sonnlinor

Notes: Dagda (James Pink) has Spirit Link to all Guild members, so they may freely tell him if they have been killed.

PRE-REQUISITES

Goodly Humans and Dwarven Priests. Other races may be accepted at the discretion of the High Priest on an individual basis.

ETHOS

The Soul forger forged the dwarven race from iron and mithril, and then breathed life into them as they cooled upon his forge. Priests of the Soul Forger are charged with upholding the dwarven virtues of law and light, and with guiding their people in the arts the dwarves hold dear.

The dwarves have always revered the Master of the Forge, attempting to emulate his masterful work with metals and stone. Honesty and hard work pay off just as often in the mines and the forges, as they do on the battlefield, or so the dwarves claim. As such all priests of the Soul Forger are encouraged to spend at least some of their time at a forge learning and honing their skills.

NEUTRAL GOOD MIRACLE LIST

1st	Cure Wound, Detect Spirits Nature
2nd	Cure Serious Wounds, Spirit of Seeing and Hearing
3rd	Cure Disease, Bless, Healing Hand, Talk to Spirit, Spirit Shield, Protection from Spirits, Dismiss Ghoul
4th	Heal, Spirit Bolt, Passive Heal, Communication I
5th	Spiritual Invisibility
6th	Total Heal, Dismiss Vampire
8th	Restore Life

DENOMINATIONAL MIRACLE

This miracle may be learnt by priests of the Church post 8th.

Armour of the Forge
Level: 8th level (10sp)	Alignment: Goodly	Duration: 5 minutes	Range: Self
Gesture: Fist over heart
Verbal: Great Soul forger I ask you infuse my armour with the blessings of thy most Holy Forge. Allow me to enter the fray and don thy most Holy armour.
Description: Empowers one spiritual suit of metal armour worn by caster so that it grants a "Rockskin" style reduction (EG 1 point per damage grade) vs weapon blows the armour applies against.

BASIC TIER

- Bonds of the Soul: Gains +1 spirit (max 4) for every member of the Soul Forger church on dungeon (includes ley believers).
- The Master Forge provides: Members are well equipped with a suit of apprentice crafted armour, an apprentice crafted weapon, and an apprentice crafted shield – these are for themselves only.
- Blessings of the Forge: 1/day, enhances a normal bless in one of the following ways chosen when used:

1. To act as a Shield Blessing
2. To turn a normal suit of armour, shield or weapon apprentice crafted for the day.
3. To turn a normal weapon +0 goodly spirit for 5 mins
4. To enhance an object from "The Master Forge provides" to become journeyman status for the day.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Bonds of the Soul is no longer limited to 4 spirits, and will always grant a minimum of 4 spirits.
- The Master Forge continues to provide: One of the objects from the Master Forge Provides (basic tier) is now Journeyman status. If Blessing of the Forge is used on it then it becomes Master Status.
- Forges Light: 1/day, enhances a single casting of a passive heal so that it lasts until triggered.

ADVANCED TIER

- The Masters Forge: Two of the objects gained are now journeyman status objects as intermediate tier. Alternatively can take a single object from the list as Master status.
- If using Blessing of the forge on a suit of armour it also grants that armour immunity to accuracy.
- The passive heal from forges light can now be set to only trigger when a Crit or TBLP reaches 0. This is chosen when cast.

BLESSED OF THE FORGE - CHURCH STATUS

The Sacred Craft - Stage One: Cost: 50 Table: 1

- Gains a second Blessing of the Forge innate.
- The Heat of the Fire 1/day – Acts as a spiritual Walk through fire (self)

Blessed Forger - Stage Two: Cost: +125 Table: 5

- Gains 1 spirit off casting beneficial miracles on members of the faith (inc self).
- Dedicated Mind 1/day – As per Discipline.

Holy Creator - Stage Three: Cost: +75 Table: 8

- When using Heat of the Fire if already has the tables ability Immunity to Natural Fire gains complete immunity to all forms of fire for the duration.
- Bonds of Faith 1/day – Can cast a published (inc denominational miracle listed above) self only miracle at touch range on a fellow member of the faith.

~ Church of the Sun – Faded ~

Total Eclipse of Faith

~ The Rings of Talthar – January 2034 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Alguz Cathedral Crypt

Thanks to the hard work of many Talthari, a grand crypt has been constructed under the mighty edifice of the Cathedral in Alguz. With the approval of the High Priest, judging whether an individual is worthy, on their final death any Priest or Lay Believer of Talthar may be laid to rest there (gaining the CC benefit of a crypt).

Library of Talthar

The library at the Cathedral has recently been refurbished and as a result of the introduction of the Grisgriel Decimal System the store of knowledge there is now more easily accessible. If you are travelling out on the good works of Talthar please contact the Chief Librarian (or Grisgriel if not available) who may have a snippet of useful information for you.

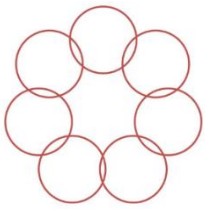

OOC – This gives one Talthari a week a pre-dungeon comm (either a Major Prayer or Greater Communication miracle depending on whether the phys rep of Grisgriel is in the caves). If you would like it please contact Grisgriel's phys rep (Owen Williams – Henghasty on the forums) to find out if it is available.

High Priest: Aven

PRE-REQUISITES

Be a goodly aligned priest or Paladin

ETHOS

Talthar is the Lord of Hope, a burning beacon of inspiration to his followers. Whilst the vast majority of Talthar's priests spend their time ministering to their congregations within the Church of Talthar works a dedicated core of worshipers; these are known as The Rings of Talthar. The Rings of Talthar are some of the most fervent worshipers of the Lord of Hope, those of the faith imbued with Vitae.

THE RINGS OF TALTHAR

In some ways Talthar is a pantheon to itself in that it has seven aspects, represented by the seven interwoven rings that is its symbol. Whilst the most actively represented aspect in the mercenary community is that of Elbrime, Hope in adversity, there are others.

RESTRICTIONS

Guild Members must choose to align themselves to one of the seven aspects of Talthar, which must be recorded on their character card. They may only battleboard the guild benefits of that ring.

Miracle List

1st	Cure Wound, Halt
2nd	Cure Serious Wounds
3rd	Cure Disease, Protection from Spirits, Talk to Spirits, Spirit Shield, Bless
4th	Spirit Bolt, Heal
5th	Voice of Power, Remove Voice of Power, Spiritual Invisibility
6th	Total Heal, Dismiss Vampire, Regeneration
8th	Restore Life

BASIC TIER

- Paladinic Oath: Any Paladin may join and benefit from this guild as full members.
- Blesséd of Talthar: Grants a Paladinic Bless. If a Paladin able to enter the Priest Bracket then their Paladinic Bless increases by 1pt of DAC.
- Extra Miracle: If battle boarding the Church as a Professional Guild gains the miracle Dismiss Ghoul.
- Hope Eternal: Grants complete immunity to any emotional effect or attack that would cause the guild member to despair or lose hope in any fashion.
- Ring Benefit: Gains the appropriate benefit for the ring they follow;

Subtlety

Hidden From Sight: 1/day, Acts in all ways as the White Spell Invisibility but only hides the user from Spirit Sight (Active & Passive) and goes down under the same conditions.

Renewal

Constant Renewal: When “at rest” (i.e. seated/in repose/meditating – not whilst walking/casting/in combat) is replenished by Talthar’s Hope; now regenerates as a ½ Troll.

Unity

Unified Hope: All those touching the Priest become immune to any emotional effect or attack that would cause them to despair of lose hope.

Serenity

Meditation Focus: Grants +x1 Meditation Rate but does not stack with Triple Meditation Rate from the tables. If used to grant Triple Meditation Rate then it may be used for those abilities for which Triple Med Rate is a pre-requisite.

Diplomacy

Calming Voice: 1/day, Requires the user to speak in a peaceful and calming manner for 30 seconds. Acts in a manner similar to the miracle Befriend Spirit, except that all those present when used, who hear the casting, are affected. Targets remain befriended for 5 minutes or until any violence occurs, whichever comes first. This will only affect targets with 8th level resistance to spirits or lower, and even then Immunity to Befriend applies.

Justice

Holy Word "Castigatio": 1/Day, 20ft range. May be used upon anyone who has just cast an evil miracle {within the last 30 seconds}. Target suffers 3 TBLP (1 HTK) for each spirit point of the evil miracle (e.g. someone who has just cast a Touch of Death would suffer 30 TBLP). Imm. to Holy Words applies. SAC applies to this damage at 1 for 1.

Adversity

The Last Hope: Gains +3/1 temp life every time an ally flees (i.e. leaves the dungeon) or is incapacitated in combat. Once an ally has fled from combat the character cannot then gain any additional life from them through use of this ability, for the remainder of the day. This life lasts until end of combat.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

Ring Benefit: Gains the appropriate benefit for the ring they follow

Subtlety

Hidden From Spirits: Immunity Informational Miracles now grants Immunity to Info Spirits / spiritual discerns that do not originate from a Worshipper of Talthar (Priest / Paladin / Devout Believer).

Renewal

Life's Renewal: 1/day, EITHER if Restored to life instead of coming back on last 7/1 will come back totally healed of all wounds. OR if casting a Restore to life using their own power, e.g. own spirits or own innates, not from scrolls or items (unless made by self) target will come back Totally Healed.

Unity

United Stand: 1/day. Requires 30 seconds audible and appropriate prayer (must be heard by all allies who are to be affected). For every 3 allies within 20', all allies within 20' gain +3/1 (max +9/3) life for the duration of the next combat that occurs. This ability counts & benefits only those allies who spend the entire 30 seconds of casting time within the 20' radius.

Serenity

Serene Touch: At will for 1 TBLP, touch acts to calm a ravaged spirit for as long as the priest remains in contact with the target: Reduces the severity of a Spasm (or similar effect) to the stage where a victim may lay still or prevents the effects of an insanity which would cause disruptive behaviour, e.g. not a cataleptic state.

Diplomacy

Holy Word "Pax": 1/day, as the gold glyph Pacification, but is Spiritual in nature and effects all within 20' of the caster.

Justice

Holy Word "Justice!": 1/day. Touch range. May be used upon a goodly target, who is suffering from a published evil spiritual effect, provided the caster of that effect is within 20' of their victim. The effect is removed from the target and instead affects the person who cast it. If the caster of the evil effect is immune to it, or immune to Holy words, this ability has no effect and the original victim still suffers from the effect.

Adversity

Elbrime's Rage: 2/day, 33% rage versus evil.

ADVANCED TIER

Ring Benefit: Gains the appropriate benefit for the ring they follow

Subtlty

Hidden From Dragons: Immunity to Informational Spells now grants Immunity to info Magic that does not originate from a Worshipper of Talthar (Priest / Paladin / Devout Believer). Gains an additional Hidden From Sight innate.

Renewal

Renewed Form: 1 in every 6pts of spiritual healing received from a Talthar Priest / Paladin will heal damage that is otherwise incurable or permanent. (But only damage suffered on that event).

Unity

Harmony: 1/day. Anyone meditating within 20' of the point of casting does so at +1 additional meditation rate. This ability lasts as long as the caster meditates and remains within the area of effect.

Serenity

Active Meditation: Regains 1 spirit every 15 minutes the character remains "serene" regardless of meditation rate. This is broken if the character suffers harm, casts, attacks, moves faster than a slow walk, or uses any other ability that requires concentration.

Diplomacy

Strengthened voice: Gains an additional Calming Voice innate and Calming Voice innates now affect an additional 1 level, cumulative for every 10 seconds spent speaking beyond the first 30 seconds.

Justice

Authority: When using a Justice holy word, the victim is now freed of the evil spiritual effect even if the caster is immune to it but not if the caster is immune to Holy Words. Gains an additional Holy Word "Justice!" innate.

Adversity

Desperate Fury: 1/Day, When fighting an opponent who is inflicting a greater damage grade than the Talthar worshiper, they gain +1 Damage Grade and +1 Max Damage versus that opponent.

DEVOTEE OF THE RINGS - CHURCH STATUS

Caller of Hope - Stage One: Cost: 100 Table: 5

- Word of Hope 1/day – Is a holy word that can trigger any one of the effects in this status, chosen when used. A single effect can be used no more than once in a given day. The word used must be shouted and has a range of 20ft unless stated otherwise.
- "Adversity" – Grants the chosen goodly individual +24/8 temp life (as per an enhanced spirit) for 5 minutes.
- "Renewal" – As per the Paladin Healing holy word.

Champion of Hope - Stage Two: Cost: +100 Table: 7

- Gains a 2nd Word of Hope innate.
- "Diplomacy" - Pax, as per the intermediate diplomacy benefit
- "Serenity" - Grants one chosen Talthar priest (not self) that is about to start meditation for spirits the benefits (and restrictions) of a Flow of the Divine (as per WFA)
- "Unity" - Acts in a similar manner to Mark of the Totems, but only benefits a goodly individual and goodly individuals focussing count for numbers.

Bringer of Hope - Stage Three: Cost: +100 Table: 9

- Gains a 3rd Word of Hope innate.
- "Justice" – As the Guild Ability.

- "Subtlety"- Grants the target, who must be goodly, the benefits of hidden from sight (as guild benefit)
- "Hope" - Grants the target, who must be goodly and have a spirit, immunity to fear, emotion attacks and insanity for 5 minutes.

~ Church of the Tryst – April 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) ~

High Priest: Serin Arneherne

ETHOS

The Tryst is a church that takes spiritual power from the Imbaiu demons. It is important to understand that the church do not serve the Imbaiu, but binds, dominates and commands them. References to the Imbaiu Masters refer to those Imbaiu with mastery over lesser demons. The Imbaiu Masters that accept the bindings of the church do so because this link to Primus gives them strength upon their own worlds that they use to remain at the top of their demonic hierarchy.

PRE-REQUISITES

Any Evil Priest can join this guild.

MIRACLE LIST

1st	Halt, Power Meld,
2nd	Cause Wound, Spirit of Seeing and Hearing
3rd	Curse, Talk to Spirits, Spirit Shield, Cause Serious Wounds, Protection From Spirits
4th	Spirit Shift, Spirit Bolt, Cause Disease, Create Ghoul
5th	Spiritual Invisibility, Cause Grievous Wounds
6th	Control Wraith, Serin's Bound Spirit of Undeath, Walk Through Walls
7th	Suspend Life

BASIC TIER

- Shadow of the Imbaiu 1/day - allows the priest to invoke the shadow of an Imbaiu to share their form. This takes 30 seconds and grants them 1/2 effect all bar spirit for 5 minutes. While active discerns as a demon kind and if banished the power ends.
- The ways of Mephastofolies - gains bar spirit on base list while battle boarding the church.
- The High Guardian of the Church of Tryst is always aware of church members dying. Should you die on dungeon it should be reported OOC to Duncan Matthias. Additionally should your body be left "on dungeon" it is deemed to be collected, and the character card should be left OOC in an envelope behind the desk for Duncan.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Basic tier shadow of the Imbaiu now acts as a spirit form.
- The dark bargains 1/day - takes 1 minute to open a link to the Imbaiu costing 24 TBLP of the casters blood/essence in sacrifice. Acts as a mantic comm 2 but each question asked costs the user a level (c.f. casting a TOD, but reductions in level loss from casting miracles do not apply).

ADVANCED TIER

- Invoke the abysmal power 1/day - can turn a published evil miracle demonic (black/red/evil spirit) taking 10 seconds ritual/calling on the Imbaiu per spirit of the miracle. If used for a TOD/animate life/similar miracle that requires a prot this also allows the prot to be cast mantically (taking an extra 30 seconds prep).
- Shadow of the Imbaiu now acts as a full embody abashi (including disadvantages) but does not grant 12 spirits.

~ Church of the Destroyer – January 2024 (2 Tiers, Eternal) ~

High Priest: Malakir

Ethos

In the beginning was The Creator. The first word he spoke was the Word of Creation, forming The Goddess of Creation. She created the universe and created all of the angels. However, everything created by the Goddess is imperfect. The Creator saw that this was wrong, with only the force of Creation there could be no change, everything was in stasis so there could be no life.

So, the Creator spoke the second word, the Word of Destruction, and The Destroyer was formed. Only through Destruction can impurity be cleansed. Destruction drives change and perfection. Many of the Angels decided to follow the force of Destruction, and they became Abashai. The forces of Creation and Destruction are forever locked in battle.

We serve a higher purpose; we are not just mindless killers (well not all of the time) and there must be a balance. Many groups, such as the St Michael's Church, mercenaries, goodly faiths and the Knights of the Land have upset this balance. It has been pushed too far towards the forces of Creation and we need to strike back.

Pre-requisites

Be a priest or ley-believer of the Destroyer. Hermit priests may join and become full members and may choose to retain their own miracle lists.

Restrictions

The Guild is a full black guild (as per WFA rules).

Miracle List

1st	Halt, Lesser Wings of Darkness, Soul's Hunger, Millie's Detect Spirits
2nd	Cause Wound, Spirit of Seeing and Hearing
3rd	Cure Serious Wounds, Protection from Spirits, Spirit Shield, Writhe, Force of Will
4th	Cause Disease, Spirit Bolt
5th	Voice of Power, Cause Grievous Wounds, Spiritual Invisibility
6th	Spiritual Mastery
7th	Suspend Life
8th	Touch of Death

Denominational Miracle

This miracle may be learnt by priests of the Church post 8th.

Fated Destruction
Level: 7th level (8sp)	Alignment: Evil	Duration: 1 minute	Range: Self
Gesture: Palms out and facing upwards
Verbal: Spirits of destruction cluster around my form to lay the souls of the weak to rest.
Description: Grants the caster + 1 destiny maker for the next touch of death cast and discharged within the duration. This can stack to three destiny makers, however if used to gain a 3rd destiny maker the caster cannot reduce the level loss from the Touch of Death. The effects of the third destiny maker are that the minimum effect of the Touch of Death is a suspend life. Despite this miracle being published secondary resistance can be applied to this. Undecided Destiny still grants immunity.

BASIC TIER

- Obliterate the spirit 1/day – Vs a non-animate spirit (so not an Undead, but could be an active miracle, line etc.) with 30 seconds clear prayer to the destroyer can destroy the spirit (in a similar manner to a dispel). This is a non-published dispelling effect for immunity purposes and costs the user 3 TBLP per spirit of the miracle destroyed (or 60 TBLP if it does not have a level). Range 10ft, and can only target one spirit (if a line has more than one spirit in it this destroys one of them).
- Word of Destruction 1/day – As per the published Unholy Word for causing, except does not affect Destroyer worshippers.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Prayer of Destruction 1/day – Takes 30 seconds prayer over a dead body that had a spirit. Acts as per a slayer, but if successful also heals the user 3/3 per level of resistance the victim had. 1/2 a spirit and similar does not increase the healing gained, instead it actually halves it. A dead person can only be affected by this once.
- Feed on Suffering 1/day – With 30 seconds prep can cast a causing miracle on self and instead be healed half the amount it would normally inflict (before resistances). Only works with damaging miracles.

ADVANCED TIER

Horsemen still pinned down!

DESTRUCTION ABSOLUTE - CHURCH STATUS

Death Caller - Stage One: Cost: 75 Table: 8

- Eye for Suffering: With 10 seconds observation of a target within 20ft, can discern how many resistances to causing and Touch of Death the target has. Is a spiritual informational effect costing 1 TBLP per use.

Enemy of the Weak - Stage Two: Cost: +75 Table: 9

- Weakness Exposed. Following a successful use of Eye for Suffering gains 1 spirit off the next causing miracle cast on that target, stacking with published 1 spirit off reductions if the miracle is 6 spirits or more base. Useable x1/15 mins max.

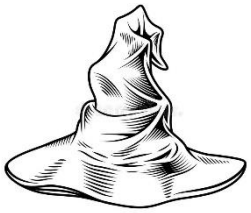

Force of Destruction - Stage Three: Cost: +75 Table: 10

- Focussed Destruction x1/day. A single Word of Destruction innate may be focussed on one target inflicting a Touch of Death rather than a mass Cause Serious.
- Enhance Prayer of Destruction x1/day. May be used to regain 1 spirit back per resistance level a target has rather than 3/3 curing. 1/2 a spirit still reduces this.

Other Professional Guilds

~ Arcanum – January 2025 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Lucius D'treal

PRE-REQUISITES

1st Class Wizards and High Wizards may join freely. All other 1st or 2nd class wizard subclasses (including 2nd class Wizard, Warlock, Rogue, Power Master, Sorcerer, Vivomancer / Necromancer) may join with the Principal's (Guild Sire's) permission. This must be signed onto their character card.

No one who is outlawed for party killing may join or remain a member of the Arcanum without the direct permission of the guild master.

ETHOS

The Arcanum is an independent college teaching the magical arts, closely linked to the Enclave. It is devoted to encouraging study in all aspects of magic, and seeks to produce mages who are well-rounded in their knowledge of the art in all its forms.

BASIC TIER

- Meta-Magic: Any member who would not normally be able to do so (e.g. if pathed or cannot cast grey) is now capable of casting the Dispel 1, 2, and 3 glyphs. Members who can cast these glyphs may spend 30 seconds in calm, quiet observation before casting a Detect Magic, at which point it functions as per the advanced grey glyph Improved Detect Magic instead.
- Scholarly Interest: 1/Day a member may examine a source of magic identified by Rec Mana, at 1" range. For every 30 seconds they examine the source of mana they gain a Magical Major Prayer about this source i.e. may use a Major Prayer about the source, examine it for another 30 seconds and then use another and so on. During the 30 seconds concentration conversation may be held as long as it is about the source in question.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Scholarly Interest: Additional use of the innate as above.
- Learned Knowledge: Gains 3 extra Specialist Slots. These may be filled with any glyph that could normally be learnt as a handbook specialist by that character, chosen at the start of the day.
- Understanding of Magic: May cast touch-range Dispels of up to 5th level for one mana less than their standard cost, to a minimum of 1 mana-point. Non-cumulative with any other cost reduction.
- Elemental Awareness: Whilst using Recognise Mana at 1" range it may after 10 secs concentration reveal the colour of magic.

ADVANCE TIER

- Greater Awareness: Elemental Awareness now reveals the broad type of magic present (Warding, Offensive, Defensive etc.). It will also reveal if another powerbase is combined with the magic but not what it is (e.g. a mantic effect would reveal as magical and something else).
- Greater Understanding of Magic: Understanding of Magic now applies to dispels up to 10th level.
- The Towers Training: Members gain + 1 level of casting and + 3 mana of their own colour. If they hold multiple colours they must choose which colour this applies too.

Student of the Towers - Guild status

Initiate of the Towers - Stage One: Cost: 50 Table: 1

- The 3 Mana and plus one casting level gained from advanced tier now applies to all published colours the wizard holds (2nd Colour/Dual/Tri etc.) If not able to claim advanced tier then the benefit is gained upon buying this.
- Call the strength of the Tower; 1/day can call on the strength of their tower to gain 4 casting levels for the next spell they cast of their 1st Colour (Either if Dual).

Apprentice of the Towers - Stage Two: Cost: +60 Table: 7

- The Dragon is my own; 1/Day grants the user complete immunity to one Glyph targeted on them of their primary colour (Either if Dual). Must be used within 2 seconds as per Warcry.

Master of the Towers - Stage Three: Cost: +100 Table: 8

- Gains 1 mana (only stacking with expertise) off the first spell cast in each 5 minute period.
- Gains a fourth additional specialist slot (total).
- Gain an Innate Deny Dragon 1/day. This acts as Deny power vs the wizards opposite colour (includes opposites to Dual, 2nd Colour, etc.). Verbal "My Dragon Denies thee power!"
    - For 1st Colour Grey Wizards a Full Deny power as Disenchanter is gained.
    - Those with Silver as a Colour can instead gain an innate Foretold.
- Elemental Knowledge now reveals the name of the spell that is present.

May buy Extra Deny Dragons at 80 points each, max 1, and extra The Dragon is my own for 60 points each, max 2.

~ Earthen Conclave - July 2025 – (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Asta Khan

PRE-REQUISITES

Must be a first or second colour brown wizard or wizard-subclass.

ETHOS

The Earthen Conclave firmly believes that earthen magics are the bedrock of magical power, and that more can be achieved in an organisation where the members can spend more of their time devoted to sharing their knowledge of earthen magics rather than in diplomacy.

BASIC TIER

- Armour of Earth: Plate (O) cast on self grants MAC 6 / PAC 6.
- Grounding 1/day: Whilst in contact with Earth or stone grants complete immunity to one blue mana or electric attack.
- Alliance of Earth: 1/day: Remove a Brown spell currently on them for 1 TBLP per MP (Max 12 TBLP) or negate it as it happens, for 2 TBLP per MP (to a max cost of 18 TBLP). Verbal: "The Earth is my ally!"

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Passage: As a cantrip may release a Wall of Stone that the guild member has previously cast. Range 20'. Verbal: "Gnomes of Earth I release thee".
- Earthen Armour: Tables Immunity to Electricity.
- Grounding: 2nd daily innate as above.
- Earthen Window: 1/day for 5 minutes member can see through a Wall of Stone they cast if they remain in contact with the wall.

ADVANCED TIER

- Grounding: 3rd daily innate as above.
- Earthen Window: 2nd daily innate as above.
- Conducting: Grounding can be used on electric or blue mana attacks within 20' of guild member.
- Might of Rock: The Wizard's Grimoire Rock Skin spell also grants a resistance to Sever/loc to zero.
- Sure Footed: grants Stability whilst in contact with Earth or Stone.

EARTHEN MASTERS - GUILD STATUS

Squire of the Earth - Stage One: Cost: 30 Table: 1

- 1/day: The Passage Cantrip now becomes useable on any 4 MP wall of stone spell.

- Earthen Window may now be used on any wall of stone, even if cast by another.

Master of the Earth - Stage Two: Cost: +100 Table: 5

- Alliance of Earth is now uncapped on the level it can remove and can do non level based brown magic. The maximum life it can inflict is now 20 TBLP for static magic or 40 TBLP as it happens. Additionally the wizard regains ½ the Mana of the removed magic (to a maximum of 12 Mana if no mana cost associated) instead of costing them mana.
- Gains immunity to bind, entangle, earthern encasement and similar.

Lord of the Earth - Stage Three: +75 Table: 9

- Grounding now grants immunity to any Effect or Attack with a Blue Mana component to it or can be used a Deny Power vs any Blue mana or Electrical effect (inc. mass effects).

~ Frontline – January 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Tarek

PRE-REQUISITES

Must be a first class Warrior Subclass. Second class Warrior Subclasses may join with the guild master's permission

ETHOS

The Frontline is intended to be just that. A band of warriors who stand foremost in battle, unyielding and unafraid so that fellow mercenaries can have faith in their sword arms.

The guild was formed by Jessiah Blackheart and Kaldon to face the threats of the day with the best training that money and time could buy. However, when they lost interest as their status rose above such things, Azriel Panama took on the mantle and revived the Frontline.

We welcome fighters from all walks of life, from those that enjoy the thrill of battle to the quiet yet stalwart defenders. The finesse of the duellist to the brutality of the berserker.

If you fight, join us. Find your home.

BASIC TIER

- Nimble: +1 DAC
- Combat Hardened: +3/1 Life
- Additional Training: +1 warrior specialist at 8th level.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Combat Hardened: Grants +9/3 Life (total)
- Roll With It: 1/day may roll with a weapon blow such that only takes rockskin style damage of 1pt per damage grade, must be fully aware of and able to see blow coming.
- Bulking Up 1/day ~ Gains +12/4 temp life for the next 5 minutes, does not stack with supernaturally generated temp life.

ADVANCED TIER

- Combat Hardened: Now gains +12/4 life (total)
- Gains a second innate Roll With It.
- The Battle Line 1/day ~ Gains Immunity to Repels, Involuntary Mystical Transportation, Disarm and Supernatural Fumble effects. Lasts 5 minutes and may be used in response to an effect (CF War Cry within 2 seconds of the effect).
- Bulking Up now grants +24/8 (from 12/4) temp life for the next 5 minutes.

HOLD THE LINE – GUILD STATUS

Glorious Battle - Stage One: Cost: 50 Table: 5

- Enhances Roll With It innates so that the character no longer needs to be aware of the blow.

- Can use a Battle Line innate on a fellow guild member with 10ft.

I am the Frontline - Stage Two: Cost: +75 Table: 7

- Gains a second Battle Line innate
- Bulking up now grants +36/12 temp life

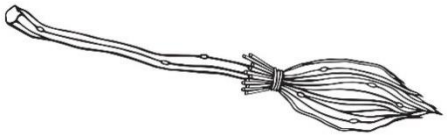

Battle Titan - Stage Three: +100 Table: 8

- One use of a Roll With It will last for 5 seconds.
- Strength in Numbers – Gains +3/1 status life per member of the Front line on dungeon (including self) to a max of 12/4.

~ The Hovel – January 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) ~

Guild Head: Color

Notes: Spirit link

PRE-REQUISITES

Be a hermit, witch, or other priest subclass that does not belong to a church.

ETHOS

The Hovel is a guild made up of hermits, witches and anyone who draws power not from the gods or other patrons, instead choosing to draw power as it flows freely in the world and through personal prayer.

Gathering so as to seek, to learn and teach each other. Growing more powerful together than apart.

This was the concept of a strange little fellow called Raymond, who, still guides us all in the journey of life.

So, feel free to join, feel free to worship as you wish... all who have no church or doctrine are welcome here.

BASIC TIER

- When casting a bless or curse can choose to count as being goodly, neutral, or evil.
- Hovels Strength - Gains + 1 Spirit per member of the hovel on dungeon.
- Coven of the Hovel - The Hovel counts as a "Church" for the sharing of Scriptures of the Faith of Basic miracles. Must be battle boarding the guild to use them.
- Familiar – May select a suitable witches familiar and gains neutrality to natural animals of that type. Once chosen cannot be changed, so should be noted on the card.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Hovels Strength now grants a minimum of 4 spirits.
- Coven of the hovel now works for all published miracles within normal scripture of faith rules.
- If casting power meld on a fellow member of the hovel the caster/recipient levels and alignment no longer matter. Additionally the number of spirits taken can be determined at the time of casting.
- The hovel member may now talk to animals of their familiar type as per the talk to animal evocation.

ADVANCED TIER

- Witches Broom 1/day if has a suitable Witches Broom phys rep gains a spiritual Walk on Air, and can carry up to one person. Cannot engage in melee combat while using this or it ends (probably with the witch falling off, falling only to be saved by the broom just before hitting the ground). Lasts 5 minutes or this can also be cast for 3 spirits.
- Dreams of tomorrow – Gains a pre-dungeon lucky idea about the day ahead in a visionary style. If multiple members of the guild are on dungeon they all gain the same dream but more information is gained.
- Familiars knowledge 1/day – Acts as a spiritual major prayer about witchcraft or something relevant to your familiar (so a familiar of a Cobra could be about poison).

- Wonderous Talent – Either gains well equipped with a single dungeon temp dose of a published Wonderous Elixir, or if able to make Wonderous Elixirs can choose to be able to use on dungeon makes to make them. They do not require set up components, and take 2 of the relevant make slot per dose made.

~ The Inward Eye – April 2025 (2 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Drak'Zit

PRE-REQUISITES

Must be a 1st Class Neuronic Class. 2nd Class Neuronicists must seek the guild masters permission to join.

Outlaws/those Ostracised by the Empire of Glass (or with other legal issues with the Empire) may not join unless these issues are resolved.

ETHOS

A place for further learning and expansion of the mind within the mercenary community. A haven for those blessed with the talent of focus.

Our guild home is a space whale. Don't ask too much about it, but it's all fine. No fixed location.

Those with legal challenges with the Empire of Glass are not welcome.

BASIC TIER

- Internal fortitude – Gain +6 casting stamina
- Guid members may choose to either gain an adventure temp focussing crystal or a shard of a neuronic costing 9 TBLP or less.
- Insight of the Mind – Gains Rec Neuronics. If owned then 1/day gains a Neuronic Major prayer about a thing identified with Rec Neuronics (and whilst still using it).
- Resolute mind 1/day – A member may choose to gain one of the following benefits for the next neuronic used within 10 seconds
    - 2 additional foci
    - Reduce the casting damage by 1 (this can reduce below 1/3rd and even to 0)
    - If touching another guild member split the casting damage evenly (round up in both cases if an odd number) between both members. This is after foci/reductions

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Gains a second use of resolute mind. These may be used at the same time for two benefits if desired.
- Mental Transfer 1/day – With 30 seconds contact with a fellow guild member can grant them the use of one published neuronic the user of this can use. This requires casting the innate being granted (using an innate if an innate and taking casting damage). For at will neuronics a single innate is gained.
- Inner reserves: 1/day can use a published neuronic that is owned as an innate even when all innates have been used for the day. Casting damage cannot be reduced and the user becomes unable to use that neuronic for the remainder of the day (even if it could be regained).
- Instead of gaining an adventure temp focusing crystal or neuronic shard members may choose to gain + 2 foci as tables.

~ Natural Trust – July 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Kesira

PRE-REQUISITES

Must be a first class or multiclassed druid sub-class. Rangers may join and benefit as full members for 40 points on table 1. Druidic classes of any race or nationality may join, but if unable to normally do so only benefit from the Basic Tier abilities.

ETHOS

While members of this guild recognise that blossoming meadows and fetid fungal forests are both aspects of the natural world, they are united in opposing its wanton corruption or destruction. They will also stand shoulder to shoulder against those from other realms who would coerce or subdue the natural power of Primus for their own ends.

Any member willingly breaking these broad guidelines (such as by aiding a demon seeking to sieze control of natural power on Primus) is rejected by the World Tree and may no longer use EP or EP innates whilst on Primus.

BASIC TIER

- Circle of Druids: For each guild member on the adventure, gains +1EP
- Life's Memories: Life's Memories 1/day
- Chosen Familiar: Attune to an animal, requires a symbol of the creature, a piece of the creature, or incorporate that type of creatures appearance into a worn makeup design. Gain one of Jump 1/day, Assisted Climb 1/day, Sniff skill, +1 DAC or +1 innate PAC relevant to the creature chosen.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Circle of Druids now grants a minimum of 1 level of EP.
- Innate Life's memories from basic tier can now be upgraded to a Toughened Hide if desired.
- Gains Draw on EP 1/day (as Alfar ability, but functions in any natural environment).

ADVANCED TIER

- Chosen Familiar now grants a second ability from the list.
- Gains Hand of Banishment 1/day (as post 8th druid tables). When using this innate can reduce the life suffered by sacrificing levels of resistance for 1 hour. Each level reduces the life by 5.
- Objects under Life's Memories from basic tier (or Toughened Hide if intermediate tier upgrade is used) are now considered master status.

EMBRACED OF PRIMUS - GUILD STATUS

Understanding - Stage 1: Cost 75 Table 8

- Loss of a level when using the guild Hand of Banishment now reduces life cost by 10 per level from 5.
- Guild Draw on EP may now be used on any published evocation the user knows.

Submerged - Stage 2: + 125 Table 8

- Gains a 2nd Hand of Banishment (as guild ability).
- Can use a Draw on EP gained from the Guild (or this status) to learn a published evocation (that could normally be learnt) for the rest of the day.

Blossomed - Stage 3: + 100 Table 9

- Circle of Druids now grants 2 EP per guild member on dungeon (still to a minimum of a level of EP).
- Gains a second Draw on EP innate.

~ Shadow Legion – October 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Kail

PRE-REQUISITES

Be a 1st class/multi-classed Warrior or 1st class/multi-classed published Warrior Subclass.

ETHOS

Whether fighting for your own beliefs or the beliefs of others there is a common bond that unites you. Through strength and honour you not only ensure your own survival but the survival of others.

RESTRICTIONS

Must follow the Warriors code:

- Respect each other – the strength of the company aids the strength of the individual. Obey your senior officers and never leave a fallen brother on the battlefield.
- Never compromise your dignity, your pride or your beliefs.
- Always strive for a fair deal, and when one is made honour it.
- Taking any life is done with honour and dignity.

BASIC TIER

- Shadow Legion! As war cry 1/day
- First Aid: Character gains 15pts of Bandage Curing. As monk loc but requires bandaging not massage.
- Improvised Weaponry: 1/day, the character gains the first weapon mastery in a weapon after 30 secs examination of it, lasting for the rest of the day.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Battle Training: either +6/2 life or +2 PAC while wearing armour or +1 DAC.
- Battle Fury: Coldrage 1/Day
- Battle Cry: Whilst using the Shadow Legion War Cry above may also ignore other listed stopping effects for the duration for 6tblp/fx as per Determination.

ADVANCED TIER

- Advanced Battle Training: 2nd choice from 'battle training' above.
- Legion's Blow: 1/Day As per the Sell Sword ability 'Primal Strike'.
- Mercenary Soldier: Gains ONE of the following – chosen at the start of the day:
    - Additional "Shadow Legion" War Cry as basic tier – and enhanceable as per Intermediate Tier.
    - Additional 'Battle Fury' as above
    - Medic: Bandaging from Basic Tier is now increased to 36pts of curing which may also cure TBLP.

LEGIONNAIRE - GUILD STATUS

Recruit - Stage 1: Cost 60 Table 1

- Improvised Weapon Mastery now grants + 1 mastery in the chosen weapon, not first.
- Gains Monk Loc skill, must be phys repped with bandages. Stacks with other monk loc owned. This is added to the monk loc gained from First Aid guild benefits.

Officer - Stage 2: + 80 Table 7

- Gains Bandaging skill, as per scout skill.
- 1/day can enhance a Battle Cry (guild innate only) so that the determination element no longer costs any life.

Command - Stage 3: + 80 Table 8

- Legion's Blow now inflicts mantic damage rather than magic or spirit.
- One Cold rage gained from Shadow Legion is enhanced to act as per an Adrenal Surge.

~ Sons and Daughters of Sirac – April 2026 (3 Tiers, Eternal) - Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Una

PRE-REQUISITES

Must be a gold and / or ivory mana user or creature to join, must be in the wizard bracket, but could be a gold drave brown wizard for example.

ETHOS

Not all are actual children of Sirac, though many in the guild are. When Sirac was first created he was commanded to go forth and spread his parents magic far and wide. He took this instruction quite…literally. But the guild is open to all who feel friendship or a family bond to Sirac, all his apprentices, and all those who are willing to serve and protect the interests of both the ivory and gold dragons, and indeed protect magic across Primus.

The guild ethos is to protect and empower the gold and/or ivory dragon and spread their magic far and wide. To generally respect and not deliberately seek to harm any mana dragon. Mocking your opposite, and even fighting their followers with sufficient cause is fine, but deliberately seeking out and trying to harm any mana drake/dragon without very good cause can be grounds to be cast out.

BASIC TIER

At the start of the day can choose to align to either Harmony (Gold) or Purpose (Ivory).

Harmony:

- Gains + 3 Gold mana and + 1 Level of Casting for Gold spells.
- At the start of the day can add a standard Gold spell to list without taking a specialist slot. If has Gold as a colour can choose to add a published gold spell up to 10th level to list for the day.
- 1/day can cast a published Ivory spell that can normally be cast as a gold spell not ivory.

Purpose:

- Purpose – Gains + 3 Ivory mana and + 1 Level of Casting for Ivory spells.
- At the start of the day can add a standard Ivory spell to list without taking a specialist slot. If has Ivory as a colour can choose to add a published Ivory spell up to 10th level to list for the day.
- 1/day can cast a published Gold spell that can normally be cast as an Ivory spell not Gold.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Family Strength: 1/day can enhance a published Ivory or Gold spell (without any non-standard enhancements) to have + 50% effect if numerical (e.g. Ivory Warriors) or + 50% duration if not (e.g. Ivory armour) when cast on self or a fellow guild member.
- Those aligned to Harmony can cast a published self only Gold spell on a fellow guild member 1/day.
- Those aligned to Purpose gain an innate discipline but it can only be used on fellow guild members not self.

ADVANCED TIER

- Gains a second family strength.
- The basic tier benefits to learn a Gold or Ivory spell at the start of the day can instead be used at any time, but take 1 minute of prep to use.
- The mana and casting levels gained as a basic tier benefit can now be used on Gold or Ivory mana, not just a specific colour.

~ Top Secret – October 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Lark

Second In Command: Jakel

Guild Sponsor: Simon Diamond

JOINING REQUIREMENTS

- 1st class scout classes may join freely. 2nd class scout classes may join with guilds heads permission

ETHOS

This is a professional guild for scouts – any type will do. Desperate to gather as many active members as they can they open their doors far and wide.

This leads to a group of sly fellows and lasses, with a variety of talents and probably too many daggers between them.

Despite the variety of guildies this attracts, the guild is primarily one offering mutual support amongst its members.

RESTRICTIONS

Members must seek to support the guild and fellow guild members.

Anyone killing a fellow guild member whilst under their own free will is immediately expelled from the guild, and if on a guild special may do nothing except to seek to leave the adventure. The guild head may chose to override this.

BASIC TIER

- Last nights lessons – Gains a standard scout skill not owned already, or + 1 level in a skill owned (on dungeon only) to a max of 12.
- Ear to the ground – Acts a pre-dungeon major prayer about useful things to know, this could be equipment to have, skills to know, or anything else relevant.
- Evade 2/day – Grants combat wary (which must be owned) vs one blow (even if used in the last 5 minutes), must be declared within 2 seconds of the blow.
- Members gain their basic 6 point allowance for free. If they already gain it for another reason then they gain an extra three additional 6 points.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Retreat 1/day acts as a Jump away from a foe. Combat wary applies to all blows taken during the jump.
- Concealed 1/day – Enhance a stealth so that it grants immunity to all forms of sights. Does not work with Greater stealth.
- Gains a second Last night's lessons, these can be used to add 2 levels to the same skill if desired.
- Can use both innate evades to gain combat wary vs one opponent for 10 seconds.

ADVANCED TIER

- Gains a second innate retreat.
- Gains a second innate Concealed.
- Concealed innates can now be used with Greater Stealth's.

Social Open Guilds

~ 18th Imperial Legion – January 2025 (1 Tier, Eternal) ~

Legion Commander (Guild Head): Joram Hellion

PRE-REQUISITES

Any character who holds a position or status within the Empire, is a member of any other Almanac published and active (tier 1 minimum) pro Imperial guild or granted special permission to join by the Legion Commander following a successful probationary period. Members must wear the Legions colours when playing (purple, scorpions and skulls - if acting covertly then a hidden simple scorpion insignia).

ETHOS

The 18th Legion will always pro-actively seek new challenges and missions to strengthen and support the Empire of Glass' aims and objectives, reporting directly to the Inquisition. It also seeks to align itself with all of the main Imperial Guilds who will be invited to join every expedition as a themed joint enterprise. Commander is Joram Hellion, Knight of the Realm and Unholy Knight of the Church of Iron and Empire. As such Unholy Champions, Nightsoil and undead characters are particularly welcomed to join this Legions ranks.

GUILD RESTRICTIONS

No Outlaws, Ostracized, convicted criminals or members of any guilds which are in some fashion anti Empire.

No tribals or non-tribal characters who are members of any tribal guilds either directly or as hangers on may join.

Party killing is strictly forbidden unless later ratified by the Inquisition or a local Magistrate as a legitimate and lawful act. No members of any faith or groups which are opposed to the concept of undead or demons may join this Legion. Members must be able to use weapons or abilities to harm and not have self defense restrictions.

BASIC TIER

- Gains either + 6/2 guild life, or can gain the 1st Stamina.
- Gains monk loc usable only on members of the 18th legion.
- Together 1/day – Can only be used while on dungeon with another legion member, and is declared as a war cry. For 5 minutes gains immunity to one of the following: Fear, Emotion attacks, or Insanity.

~ Buggledexters – October 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Tirama

PRE-REQUISITE

Members must not be outlawed and incapable of summoning any form of Undead or demon-kind (creatures originating from planes of evil, unnaturally powered, and usually 'irrevocably' evil without chance of redemption), except by the use of scrolls & items, the use of which will be strongly discouraged.

ETHOS

Everyone, regardless of their racial or professional background is entitled to support and security. However, the creators of Undead and daemonkind, responsible for so much of the unnecessary suffering in Labyrinthia, and known for their use of unwilling sacrifices, should be re-educated. Undead, especially the mindless creations, and daemonkind themselves should be pitied rather than reviled, and every effort spent to release them from their bondage thus allowing them to either continue their journey in peace or return to their rightful plane. Controlling of these creatures is viewed as acceptable only if it is the most efficient method of removing them.

RESTRICTIONS

It is expected that the spirit of the guild restrictions are adhered to, not just the letter:

The 'wilful' killing of living creatures from this world or any other should be regarded as a last resort and to attack a truly defenceless creature, unless that creature is Undead or similarly irrevocably evil, without due compassion is to be avoided.

Similarly, members are discouraged from 'wilfully' striking any helpless target unless that creature is Undead or similarly irrevocably evil or still posing a threat. Any member that does so of their own volition without due cause will suffer a perm -2 pt curse of conscience to which Immunity to Curses does not apply.

Guild members will be ready to lend aid and assistance to their fellow members. Any disagreements should be resolved as peaceably as possible and never with bloodshed. To wilfully attack another fully sworn guild member will result in the offender being struck from the roles and a perm -2pt curse of conscience to which Immunity to Curses does not apply (These curses will stack with each other should multiple offences be committed by the same guild member).

BASIC TIER

- Shield of the Meek: No normal non-evil peon will attack the guild member, as they are supernaturally guided away from doing so by the forces of Light. Guild members are aware of these peons, and should they strike or injure one they are immediately cast out from the guild.
- Inspiration: Guild member may grant one non-evil person an additional live to minus 6, which will stack with their own live to minus (but not guild abilities). This may be the guild member themselves if desired. If it not self, requires 30 seconds of friendly or inspiring conversation with the beneficiary.
- Turn Away the Evil: 1st Innate of a mantic Repel Supernatural Evil – as per the paladinic ability to repel evil – but will only work on evil supernatural creatures such as demons and Undead

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Words of Comfort 1/day – May touch a single target and act as a Mantic Hearten and Pacification on the target for as long as the guild member remains touching them and focussing on them. This ends if the recipient or the guild member take any damage or use any powers.
- Words of Harmony 1/day – Acts as per the Hospitaller ability Voice of Reason.
- Gain a second Turn Away the Evil. May use both innates at the same time to act as a mantic warding (the gold spell) vs one supernatural evil creature.

ADVANCED TIER

- Wisdom in the Words of Light – Until the next dawn any person that has been affected by at least 60 seconds of "Words of Harmony" gains benefits as per Inspiriation (basic tier) unless evil. If that person is a non-evil peon, then the live to minus is doubled. The user of this innate also gains death link to all those affected – revealing the location, time and nature of their death (is a mantic information effect).
- Words of Harmony 1/day – Acts as per the Hospitaller ability Voice of Reason.
- Gains a third Turn Away the Evil. May use all three innates at the same time to act as a Hand of Banishment style effect which specifically only works on supernatural evil creatures which could in general terms affect the user – so an Elf could not banish a Wight – but a human could. If this ability is successful then they suffer 10TBLP per resistance level that the creature had.

~ Children of the Dusk - April 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Sparek

PREREQUISITES

Elves, Half elves, faeries, draves, half draves, drowe and half drowe may all join freely. Any other spiritless creature may join with the guild heads permission.

ETHOS

The Children of the Dusk are a gathering of peoples and creatures who primarily originate from the magical world, however all share the lack of a spirit. We have all come together to aid one another, whether it be through having an item made, having a friend on a mercenary mission or simply to share a mutual goal of gaining power and strengthening our magical sources.

GUILD RESTRICTIONS

Generally speaking members must try to strengthen the guild and hold up to its ethos. Working to weaken magic/the dragons/sources of power will have you cast out of the guild. Depending on the severity of your actions this may happen immediately at the refs discretion.

BASIC TIER

- Draw on Magic 2/day ~ May expend "X" mana of racial innates (max 12) to cure a guild member (not self) X TBLP/Loc damage.
- Evade Death 1/day ~ First time the guild member would die on TBLP they may instead fall unconscious and gain a stacking live to minus 12 TBLP. To use this costs them 6 mana of racial innates.
- Magic is magic isn't it? 1/day may expend up to 6 mana of racial innates to regain a racial innate of up to 6 mana.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Draw on Magic innates may now use used to cure up to 24 points of damage.
- Gains a second Magic is Magic isn't it?
- Can now eat any lembas.

ADVANCED TIER

- Draw on Magic may now be used on self.
- Live to minus from Evade death is now magic only.
- Explosive Death 1/day - Upon death can expend X mana of racial innates (these are used) and cause their slayer to suffer TBLP damage equal to three times the mana expended (1 hit to monsters per 3 TBLP). MAC applies at 1 for 1 and the damage is of the colour of innates used. This is a dying effect.

ALL THE MAGIC – GUILD STATUS

Pure Magic - Stage 1: Cost 75 Table 5

- Live to minus from Evade Death now applies to critical locations as well.
- Draw on magic healing is now capped at 36 points.

Big ol magick - Stage 2: + 50 Table 7

- Instead of using Magic is Magic to regain a racial innate it may instead be used to cast a standard spell of the same colour as the racial innates used (still up to 6 mana).
- Live to minus from Evade Death now applies to all locations.

I am the magickest - Stage 3: + 125 Table 9

- Explosive death no longer uses the innates expended to fuel it, it is simply based on the amount of innates left at death.
- Gains a set of basic 8th level elven innates. Chosen at the start of the day. These may not be the opposite of any colour already owned, may not be "liquidated", or have the number increased. They may be the same as a set already owned.

Body of the Council: Vacant

PREREQUISITES

Must be an Oriental race/class. Upon entry the character must decide upon their clan (Dragon, Crane, or other clan that is a member). This must be written on card upon entry.

Members cannot belong to a Clan that is not part of the council (e.g. Panama or Snake)

ETHOS

Having tired of the almost lawless squabbling of the Clans, both Great and Low, the Dragon, Crane and Snake Clans came together with joint effort to form the Council of Jade, a coalition that is now a force for Law and Order in the Jade Empire. The Council acts as a place for the clans meet and train together and share techniques for the betterment of all. The Council works for the betterment of life in the Jade Empire for all that live there and fights tirelessly to keep the lands safe for its inhabitants. After recent events the Ox and Lion clans have joined and the Snake Clan has departed the council.

GUILD RESTRICTIONS

Modern Laws- No member of the Council of Jade may be outlawed, if they become so they no longer gain any benefits until the crime is resolved at which time they may appeal to the Council for full membership again (only by the Guild Sire's approval).

Unified Council - No member may attack or bring purposeful harm to another member, should this come to be they lose all benefits until the incident is resolved at which time they may appeal to the Council for full membership again (only by the Guild Sire's approval). Any disagreements will be civilly dealt with by the Leaders of the Council; their decision is final in every case. The only exception in this rule will be cases of Seppuku. All cases of this restriction can be judged and dealt with by the Council Leaders in the same fashion as the outlaw restriction

Once Clan always Clan - Once you have joined the Council you may never leave unless expelled by a unified vote of the council (rebirthing releases you also).

BASIC TIER

- The Councils Honour – Members cannot be supernatural forced to attack each other. Additionally while raging/similar they can identify fellow Council members and do not need to attack them.
- The families provide – Members are well equipped with either a suit of armour (this may be master crafted) of their choosing or a single apprentice crafted weapon. If lost a new one can be regained for the next dungeon.
- The Ways of the Families - Member may choose one ability from below. These are chosen at the start of each dungeon, though it may be that on extended lengths it is possible to select new benefits at the start of a new day.
    - The Teachings of the Crane – Members may call upon the family craftsmen and start with one of the following items: +6/2 item life, MAC 1, SAC 1. These require a phys rep and act as normal dungeon temp items. When higher tiers are gained an individual may choose this benefit multiple times for different items.
    - The Heart of the Dragon – Gains Immunity to fear.
    - The Honour of Jade – The member cannot be supernaturally forced to break the laws and codes of the Jade Empire or the council.
    - The Ox's Strength – Gains an innate Disciple.
    - The Lions Roar – Acts as per the Wolfs Howl evocation, but is physical not in EP in source.
- Blessing of the Fates – The first time a day it is needed the members gain a kick in live to minus 12 that stacks with other live to minus.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- The Ways of the Families - Members may now choose three (total) of the options from the basic tier.
- The Family Honours (from the family provides) – The member may now chose to be well equipped with armour and an apprentice crafted weapon as the basic tier, or a suit of apprentice crafted armour, or a journeyman crafted weapon.

ADVANCED TIER

- The Ways of the Families - Members may now choose five (total) of the options from the basic tier.
- The Family gifts (from the family Honours) – The member may now choose to be well equipped with apprentice crafted armour and a Journeyman crafted weapon as the basic tier, or a suit of journeyman crafted armour, or a journeyman crafted weapon.
- Dishonoured reveal themselves – Acts as a Mantic discern that reveals individuals that are Ostracised/enemies of the Jade Empire. Members of the Guild cannot be immune to this discern.

~ Earthsunder – July 2025 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Thane (Guild Head): Gavalar Earthsunder (Forum name = Edd)

Sire (Founder): Dagda (Forum name = Orlock)

PREREQUISITES

Be a non-evil dwarf, not outlawed or ostracised - evil dwarfs may join with the Thane's permission provided this is discussed first, and they are not chaotic in alignment. Duregars cannot under any circumstances join this guild (no exceptions). Werewolves regardless of race may be considered for lay membership due to the history between these races and the support, understanding and pacts which have been formed in the past. (As an OOC note – Werewolves DO NOT gain guild benefits).

ETHOS

To defend the Clan and its members and allies. We protect our home, families and each other. The Clan comes first, by working as one, we bring prosperity to all.

GUILD RESTRICTIONS

For the people: The people come first, we are the guardians and protectors above all. To bring destruction or wilful harm to the people will result in immediate and unequivocal exile from the clan, resulting in being ostracised when dealing with dwarves only.

For the clan: The clan home is always important and second only to the people. Wilful betrayal of the clan will result in exile as above.

A guild member that has been outlawed by the seers for party killing may remain with the Thane's permission.

BASIC TIER

- From ½ effect poison now gains immunity to poison.
- Strength of the Hearth – Members gain + 3/1 life.
- A Strange Sense – When using the racial evaluate members gain an instinct if there are supernatural qualities to an object, or something more than its grull value. They do not gain exact details just a sense that there is something there.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Strength of the Heart – Now gains +6/2 life.
- Locations are now calculated as half permanent TBLP.
- From ½ effect paralysis now gains immunity to paralysis.

ADVANCED TIER

- Well Armoured – When wearing Master crafter metal armour gains + 1 Max A/C and the armour grants an additional point of PAC.
- The Clan Defenders 1/day – If a member of the guild is unconscious or incapacitated the guild member gains +6/2 life and an innate war cry. This lasts 5 minutes or until the threat is resolved, even if the guild members becomes active again.

STRENGTH OF THE HEARTH – GUILD STATUS

Clan Defender - Stage One: Cost: 70 Table 5

- At One with the Armour - 1/day for 5 minutes all worn armour PAC counts as innate PAC.
- Gains Danger sense with regards to rockfalls, and similar subterranean dangers. This functions when close to others.

Hearth Protector - Stage Two: Cost: + 90 Table 7

- Eyes of the Deep 1/day for 5 minutes upgrades the Dwarves natural ability to see in the dark to act as per Senseless Vision.
- Even better armour ~ Well Armoured (from Advanced Tier) now grants +1 Max A/C and 2 additional points of PAC total.

Protector of Heart and Home - Stage Three: Cost: +130 Table 9

- Gains a second innate of At One with the Armour.

~ The Highborn Assembly – April 2024 (3 Tiers, Eternal) ~

Guild Head: Tristan De'Fontaine

PRE-REQUISITES

Must be a non-outlawed character prepared to work towards the greater good of all planes of existence and those in need. The greater good relates to the continuance of our existence, accepting that Primus does not exist in isolation, and that the bearing of other worlds impacts our own for good or ill, and often requires our intervention. A member of the Highborn Assembly should be prepared to lay down their lives in order to achieve the safety of all.

No evil characters, Undead or demons - Whilst this guild does not specifically discriminate against such individuals, so long as they continue to act in ways such that they defend Primus, its people and beyond, it is less likely that such individuals are able to adhere to the self-sacrificing and heroic nature of this organisation. Exceptions surely exist, but in the interests of keeping the Highborn Assembly as one that stands apart from others this restriction is now in place.

ETHOS

Primus sits at the centre of a tumultuous universe, with the power flowing through the Throne of Glass drawing the attention of multiple planes of existence for good and ill. History has shown many races seeking refuge here, and many other creatures seeking to control or destroy us. For our own part, we have ventured beyond our world to help others or defeat our enemies with strength and purpose for generations.

The Highborn Assembly seek to protect those that need it, regardless of place or even plane of origin. We do not exist in isolation; the death of another world impacts upon our own.

BASIC TIER

- Heroic Stand 1/day ~ Grants one member of the guild (does not have to be the person using the benefits) the benefits as per Illusions of Grandeur but it is physical in nature and not an insanity. Lasts 5 minutes as normal.
- Strength of Numbers ~ Gain Live to Minus equal to twice the number of the guild members on dungeon, max 12 points.

- The Greater Good 1/day ~ Acts as a lucky idea about a "plan" and if it is broadly beneficial or dis-beneficial to the greater good.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Lucky idea is now a full major prayer.
- Take Killing blow/effect for a peasant/innocent type at own resistances 1/day
- Discipline 1/day
- Live to minus from the guild now applies to critical locations

ADVANCED TIER

- Ref can now trigger the lucky idea.
- Take killing blow from lvl 2 can be used for guild members now.
- Can use lvl 2 discipline on someone else.

~ House D'treal – January 2024 (1 Tier, Eternal) ~

Guild Head: Kurten D'treal

Head of House: Lucius D'treal

PRE-REQUISITES

Must be a member of, or retainer to House D'treal. Other individuals can join by completing a guild special (or other relevant dungeon) to the satisfaction of the Guild head or Head of House.

ETHOS

The Guild is dedicated to the strengthening of the Empire of Glass, and through it House D'treal itself.

Members are expected to respect the ancient pacts and patrons the House has amassed over time, while embracing the modern world and the House's place within the Empire.

RESTRICTIONS

Those individuals with legal issues with the Empire (Outlaw, Wolfshead, Ostracised etc.) can only remain a member with the Guild Heads permission.

Individuals found to be acting against House D'treal or the Empire may be cast out of the guild by the Guild Head, and cannot re-join without the guild heads permission.

BASIC TIER

- Ancient Family Pacts: Once per day member of House D'treal can call on the House's extensive catalogue of pacts to announce a published ancient folk pact. They gain this pact for 5 minutes and if they do not have a level for pacts it is gained at 8 levels.
- Pact with the Dragons: The House has Pacts with all the Dragons and Drakes; this grants the house member one rune of a pact with a Dragon or Drake (4 Levels) of their choice (chosen at the start of the day) as per the published spell. To cast the rune requires 30 seconds invoking the dragons power.
- Power behind the Throne: The D'treals have a great deal of clout in the Empire due to their elevated status and large numbers of Nobles, 1/day acts as a Befriend versus any NPC Imperial Official as they realise that getting in with House D'treal may help their career.

~ Khaniabad Archaeologist and Cartographers Association – October 2025 (3 Tiers) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Unknown

PRE-REQUISITES

Have some skeletons in your closet! No fascist goodly types except Reast. We know your type and you'll be turned away. If in doubt, turn up, be judged. Goodly people must be signed in to join.

ETHOS

The charismatic face of a bunch of lowdown, scum of the earth types with a penchant for robbing tombs, breaking skulls and casual murder. Whereas more upstanding guilds are in it for clan or country, or "defending the land", or similar weak, easily subverted ideals, there's none of that nonsense in the Society. People are in the Society because they want power or riches or a place to hide from whatever dirt is in their past. And frankly it's much easier to be the one giving out the beats if you have a bunch of other nasty pieces of work at your back.

Sometimes the Society works for other people but mostly it works for itself, capitalising on opportunities members might find.

RESTRICTIONS

Only available to people interested in the myth of Khaniabhad, sharing tales of the city if they have briefly managed to see it, hopeful of meeting a Khazak or just wanting to emulate a notorious Denizen!

No middlers. Contribute or get kicked out.

Being part of this Society is a criminal offence in the eyes of the Confederecy. This doesn't result in outlawhood or ostracism, but it does come up on relevant criminal discerns.

BASIC TIER

- Are you sure this is a good idea? 1/day – Gains a ref triggered lucky idea if a fellow guild member is about to do something that could have bad consequences.
- We're in this together 1/day – Acts as per war cry but can be used on other guild members at 20ft range.
- What did we all bring to the party – At the start of the day gains an item of a 1st to 3rd level handbook miracle, or 1st to 4th level standard spell. These are chosen by the ref and should be useful on the dungeon. The items can only be used a member of the guild, who requires the relevant utilise skill. Additionally the item cannot be used by the person that arrives on dungeon with it.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- We're in this together can instead be used as a Discipline.
- There's a short cut in this ward 1/day – Acts as a mantic evasion vs one warding. If already has similar (EG Ghost and the relevant immunities) then can use this innate on a fellow guild member at touch range.
- Is aware of where Khanibad is, but this information is immune to all informational effects. It can be used as a known "teleport" location, though the person arrives in caves nearby not in the city. If leaves the guild this information is mystically lost even if immune to forget.

ADVANCED TIER

- We're in this together now effects all guild members within 20ft of the user, but not self.
- Knowledge of the Cults – If in Khannibad gains a major prayers worth of broad info if meets a new Cult, Sect, or group. This is public knowledge about their aims, and it might be nothing, and it is likely all guild members will gain the same information.
- Look Reast Trusts Me 1/day – For 5 minutes counts as being Neutral rather than evil for effects that target the guild member based on alignment (EG immune to repel evil, answers neutral to auric colour, is effected by soul lance).
- I'm on my own!!!! If on dungeon without any other guild members can use we're in this together and What did we bring to the party on self/use the item.

CARTOGRAPHIC - GUILD STATUS

You Can Count On Me! - Stage One: Cost 75 Table 5

- Gains a second "What did we all bring to the party" innate
- Ties to the cults of the city – Gains 6 ISP of dungeon temp ISP, chosen at start of day personalised to self. Items cannot be goodly spirit or Jade

Team Player - Stage Two: Cost +100 Table 8

- Gain a second "Look Reast trusts me" innate. If uses both innates at same time can count as goodly (not usable when dead).
- Ties to the cults of the city is increased to 12ISP.

Totally Legit - Stage Three: Cost +120 Table 9

- There's a short cut! 1/day can either be used to allow crossing wards without triggering any effects for 30 seconds or it can be used to apply vs a single ward for the day.
- Knowledge of cults can, at refs discretion, apply to cults outside of Khaniabhad.
- Ties to the cults of the city is increased to 20ISP

~ Knights Errant – January 2026 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Sire: Albert (Under Threat)

PRE-REQUISITES

Open to any non-evil individual. Evil individuals must complete a guild special to the satisfaction of the guild master before being allowed to join.

ETHOS

Formed in Farrels Fall the Knights began their quest following in the footsteps of a ghostly wandering knight. He lead them on a great quest that revealed the hidden secrets of an ancient order of knights attuned to the spirits of light and the elements. The Knight Errants have taken up the quest of ensuring the Demonic masters called the Dark remain imprisoned and that the deeds of the four champions are not forgotten.

RESTRICTIONS

Never Act without reason – All things should be done with purpose and intention.
Everything has a value, but not always a price – All things hold value to someone, and this should be considered when acting. However just because something holds value does not mean it can be traded or have a price set to it.

If there has been a wrong, there can be no peace – The core of the heroisim for the order. Where they find wrongs have been done they will not rest until they have been righted, or those responsible dealt with.

BASIC TIER

- Standing against the darks ~ Members gain either + 1 MAC vs Red/Blue/Green/Brown magic or + 1 SAC vs Evil.
- Ward against the darks 1/day ~ Grants the user ½ effect one of: fire, Electricity, green mana, or brown mana for 5 minutes.
- Never act without reason – Acts as per a discipline innate, but only lasts for 30 seconds.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Standing against the darks can now grants MAC and SAC still as above.
- Empowered by the Forgotten knights ~ Allows the user to empower one weapon so it inflicts either magic (Red, Green, Blue, and brown at the same time) or spirit (Goodly) damage for 5 minutes. While active the weapon also inflicts Flaming, Electrical, Water, and Earth based damage (of the chosen power base). ~ 1/day
- Never act without reason now lasts the full 5 minutes.

ADVANCED TIER

- Shield against the Enemy 1/day ~ Acts as a mantic Shield against the dark but only applies vs damage from Red, Blue, Green, Brown or evil spirit damage. ~
- Gains a second never act without reason.
- Gains a second ward against the darks

BULWARK AGAINST THE DARK - GUILD STATUS

Radiant - Stage 1: Cost 75 Table 7

- Protection of the darks: Ward against the darks now grants 1/2 effect all four power elements, and acts as Elemental Resistance for those four colours.

Luminescent - Stage 2: + 50 Table 8

- Empowered by the Forgotten Knight can now inflict magic (of the four colours) and spirit damage at the same time, chosen when the innate it used.
- When using a Ward against the darks instead of normal benefit (and stage one enhancement) can instead gain 1/2 effect damage from Demonkind for 5 minutes.

Dazzling Defender - Stage 3: + 75 Table 9

- Shield against the dark gains benefits as per last line (CF Spiritual warden).
- Gains a second innate of Empowered by the Forgotten Knight.

~ Knights of The Land – January 2035 (3 Tiers) ~

Knights Stores and Crypt

On guild specials, every Knight of the Land's basic potion allowance (including additions for being spiritless or a neuronicist) is paid for out of the Knights stores.

Additionally, any Knight of the Land gains the benefit of a Crypt when/if they rebirth.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

Lord Knight: Kiwi

Lord of Unity: Tristan De Lac

Voice of the Knights: Kail

Lord Battle: Ezekiel

Lord of the Watch: Ace-Tren

Lord Seeker: Jasiah Blackheart

Lord Templar: Raziel

Lord Warmage: Tertius

Lord Arcanus: Malcolm

Custodian of Legend: Tai of Talthar

PRE-REQUISITES

In joining the knights you swear a vow never to attack another member of the guild. Should you break this vow, accidentally or otherwise, the Lord Knight or a majority vote of Lords of Orders can cast you out of the guild for treachery – thus it can be very important to be sure who you are hitting in the dark! It is rare that Tribal creatures can join as they normally cannot understand / keep to the vow. If they are able to and are willing to then they may join the Knights of the Land.

ETHOS

The Knights exist to protect the Land, now commonly referred to as Primus, and its people. In order to better function as an order, the Knights treat one another as brothers, seeking at all times to protect and nurture our fellows. This, however, does not hold more importance than the fundamental reason for our existence – the protection of the Land and its people. No cause, whether religious or political, can take precedence over this. Thus, whilst anyone is welcome to join the Knights, there will always be those whose views and (more importantly) activities are not compatible. It is not, for example, fitting behaviour for a Knight of the Land to sacrifice innocent peasants to dark gods. Furthermore, the Knight's brotherhood is not a hiding place for those who seek only safety for themselves.
~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

RESTRICTIONS

- You must not harm knights directly or indirectly and are required to help each other to the extent of sharing all equipment during an adventure, acting honourably and without treachery at any time.
- A knight will never hide his membership as it is a thing to be proud of.
- Anyone ostracised, outlawed or Wolfshead in any place (Empire, Amles, Ishma, Baronies etc) must have the current Lord Knight's permission to join – or remain a knight (must be signed on to character card).
- Any individual who is completely immune to comms/info effects must be signed in/have their membership of the Order's countersigned by the current Lord Knight, Lord Unity, or Lord Seeker.
- Members are no longer cast out for striking a Knight, only willing killing them.
- Treachery is defined as working against another Knight, or the oath.
- No level or points are earned from an adventure if a fellow knight is left behind on an adventure, dead or alive. If this does happen then the Lord Knight and the GSM must be notified by the referee. They will then discuss if this warrants casting out or not.
- It should be clear that once a Knight of the Land has been 'cast out' for whatever reason they may not rejoin the guild.
- At the beginning of each adventure each knight must announce their presence by clearly and audibly affirming their oath:

"Shield on arm, sword in hand,
Brothers together, we defend the land"

Failure to perform as above may result in the knight being ~ cast out ~ as detailed below:

- They may never again be Immune to Fear.
- All previous Knight of the Land abilities are applied in reverse.
- Any knight cast out for cowardice will never be able to use a sword or shield again. Cowardice involves leaving another Knight of the Land behind on an adventure (alive or dead)
- Any Knight who refused aid to another Knight or is cast out for for acts of treason will never again be able to use strength in combat.
- Any Knight cast out for acts of treason also suffers -6 max. AC to attacks to their back, from surprise or from range.

The Lord Knight has decreed that those outlawed for party-killing may not remain members of the guild. The only circumstances in which there may be clemency are if the killing occurred in defence of a Knight of the Land, even self. If you believe this to be the case for you, speak to the Lord Knight quickly, as unless your guild membership is countersigned by the Lord Knight or the Game System Manager you may not adventure while a party-killing outlaw and a Knight.

When an individual is cast out for whatever reason, the Lord Knight may choose to apply none, any or all of the "punishments" as he/she deems fit.

The Lord Knight can be removed by a majority decision of the Lords of Orders, if they deem him/her unfit. This does not mean the Lord Knight is cast out, just that they are not fit for the job. The Lord Unity will act as Lord Knight until a new Lord Knight is elected. The Lord Unity/Voice must begin the election process again.

BASIC TIER ~ KNIGHT SQUIRE

- Fearless: Grants Immunity to fear as per tables.

Neuronicists gain an innate of a published neuronic up to a TBLP cost of the power points they would have gained x3.
- Ritual understanding: 1/day acts as per the silver spell investigation, but is of the characters primary power base. Alternatively it can always be used on a ritual regardless of the number and type of power bases in it.

~ Lo-Thi – January 2025 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Chieftain: Running Bear – Under threat

Shaman: Slinking Thru

Witch Doctor: Pacing Worm

PREREQUISITES

Be a Non-Evil Barbarian. This is a tribe.

ETHOS

The Lo-Thi have many traditions and codes they follow closely and are thus almost always Lawful in their nature, rarely chaotic and never fickle. Their dislike of the Empire however means they have little respect for its laws. Apart from the one "Stalker" or Tribal Assassin the tribe have never been dark of heart.

BASIC TIER

- Bear's Skill: Gains either Tracking, Perception or Survival as per Ranger
- Owl's Wisdom: Minor Prayer 1/day.
- Totemic Boon: Grants a Primal Soul Minor or Medium talent from the Prey or Predator options. Chosen at the start of the dungeon.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Owls Wisdom is now a full major prayer.
- Totemic markings – If wearing tribal markings (made of white, red, and black make up) gains + 1 MAC and + 1 SAC.

ADVANCED TIER

- Gains a second Owl's Wisdom.
- Totemic Boon can now either grant a Minor and Medium talent or a Major talent as base tier.
- Totemic markings – now also grant +6/2 guild life.

DREAM STALKER - GUILD STATUS

Sleeping Youngling - Stage One: Cost 30 Table 1

- Spirit Quest; Can enter a meditative state for 1 minute (full eyes closed) and Major prayers from Guild and above become visionary with no limit on the words to helpfully convey what is required. This can also Comm the future.

Dreaming Slumberer - Stage Two: Cost +120 Table 5

- Watching of the Owl: One use of Owls Wisdom can be triggered by the referee.
- Totemic Scarring: From years of having their markings scored into their skin it now grants +1 Innate PAC and +1 Max AC.

Awakened Dreamer - Stage Three: Cost +200 Table 8

- Now gains Minor / Medium / Major talent from the advanced tier ability rather than Minor / Medium OR Major.
- Gains a 3rd Owls Wisdom

~ The Marauders – January 2024 (1 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Heads: Droppem, Porkpie & Shlucky

Advisor: Watching Owl

Mascot: Shank

PRE-REQUISITES

Must be a tribal creature, those that have buy as tribal somehow but are not tribal must get one of the guild heads permission to join.

ETHOS

We are here to give all the tribes a place to be safe and grow,

May also be a member of established tribes and still join, and work to regain lands to the north as our own homelands away from Imperial rule.

RESTRICTIONS

May not be a member of a pro Imperial guild.

We are tribal's – that's enough.

BASIC TIER

- Knowledge of the Tribes – After 30 seconds talking to a tribal creature can identify if they are not really a tribal creature (EG are in disguise). This is a physical informational effect and if a person is immune they appear as a genuine tribal creature.
- Free Will of the Tribes – Gains + 1 level of resistance to domination effects not from tribal creatures.
- Hardened by the world – Gains + 1 innate PAC, this is doubled against non-weapon blow attacks (e.g. Call Lightning).

~ The Order of Mercenaries – January 2026 (3 Tiers, Eternal) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Part of the Volkstraad

Guild Head: Emilio Drake

As an OOC restriction the player of the character that is head of the Order cannot be head of any other guild, and the guild restrictions/ethos cannot be changed.

PRE-REQUISITES

While open to all mercenaries, those with legal problems (Ostracised/Outlawed/Wolfshead) must have guild masters permission to join/remain a member. This open membership does not affect or apply to classes/races etc who are not permitted to join social guilds (or limited to those they can belong to).

ETHOS

While some gather to further a great cause, others to serve the Empire, and the most famous to protect the land, The Order of Mercenaries is formed to aid its members when conducting their daily business; adventuring. Members are expected to help each other out while on adventure together. This doesn't have to mean giving equipment away but in general they should work together as a unified mercenary company.

RESTRICTIONS

If a member kills another member the guild master may cast the individual from the guild, resulting in them being unable to join/benefit from a social guild for a year.

BASIC TIER

- +3/1 life

- Mercenary Problems 1/day – If has been stuck at a line/ward/puzzle or something similar for at least 5 minutes gains a major prayer about how to solve the situation.
- Mercenaries Defence 1/day – Acts as per War Cry, but only applies to the effect it was used against not for 5 minutes.
- Strength in numbers: Gains + 1 DAC if on dungeon with another guild member who is claiming guild benefits.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- +6/2 life (total)
- Mercenary Solutions – If has used mercenary problems then for every minute still trying to solve the problem gains an extra major prayer until the problem is solved, or it's tavern time.
- Mercenaries Defence now grants immunity to the stopping effect for 30 seconds.
- Strength in numbers now grants + 1 DAC or + 1 PAC if on dungeon with another guild member claiming guild benefits. If on dungeon with two other guild members claiming guild benefits gains both.

ADVANCED TIER

- +9/3 life (total)
- Mercenaries Defence now acts as per a full war cry.
- Mercenaries Return - Gains Fated Hero (as table 1). If already owned gains immunity to slayer and fortified spirit.
- Mercenaries Unite! 1/day can use a published self only ability on a guild member within 5ft. This could include a war cry, a cast spell, or similar. Must be to their benefit, to benefit from this must be claiming guild benefits.
- Strength in Numbers: Gains One of the following per other guild member claiming guild benefits on dungeon. Can only take each option once: +1 DAC, + 1 PAC, + 1 MAC, + 1 SAC.

The Mercenary Way – Guild Status

Junior Mercenary - Stage one: Cost 50 Table 1

- While on dungeon with at least two other member of the guild life gained from OoM is increased by 3/1.
- Mercenary Defence can be used as a Discipline innate, instead of a War cry.

Experienced Mercenary - Stage two: Cost + 75 Table 5

- Mercenary Problems (not solutions) may now to be used on "items" to determine what they do.
- Gains a Second innate of Mercenaries Unite

Jaded Mercenary - Stage three: Cost +125 Table 8

- Gains a second innate Mercenary Defence.
- Can now take each option from Strength in Numbers twice (guild members permitting).

~ Panama Clan – Timeless (3 Tiers) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Daimyo: Azriel Panama

Notes: The Panama Grand Guild Hall is slightly different, a classic Amlesian palace right in the centre of Lu-Chang, home to the Panama family. This counts as a Haven (as per CP benefit) for all Panama clan members, and a Blinkered Eye in specific strategic chambers for planning, and for the Gardeners, for all Panama clan members (again as per CP benefit).

PREREQUISITES

Must be a Lawful Amlesian character class, or character with Amlesian background. Non-humans may join if intelligent (able to follow law). May not belong to another Amlesian Clan. Oni are not permitted to join, or be associated with this clan, and must leave if somehow a member.

RESTRICTIONS

- Must always be Lawful of alignment.
- No insult which the offending person refuses to apologise for will ever go unavenged.
- Anyone who breaks one of these codes must report to the clan head for execution.

- No member may refuse to report to the clan head, by any means whatsoever.
- Must follow the code of the family's honour. If on adventure with guild Master failing to do so to their satisfaction means they may require execution as above. If not on adventure, character may refuse to report for execution on these grounds, in which case they are cast from the Clan as a Ronin, and may never use Forearm Parry, nor more than one mastery in a weapon. All members of Panama immediately recognise such a Ronin on sight unless the Ronin is immune to physical, magical and spiritual informational effects, and disguised.
- No contracts may be sought by any member of the clan without the authorisation of the guildmaster.
- May not become immune to the guilds disbenefits (as is true for any guild disbenefits – if you choose to join a guild you accept their disadvantages).
- In order to leave the guild in ANY fashion must have guild leaders permission to do so which must be signed on character card. If this is not done then becomes a Ronin as above.

Note: Woodrow Panama has Spirit Link to all Panama members, and others loyal to the Jade Empire. If you die you are free to contact him and inform him.

BASIC TIER

- Talk To Ancestors: 1/day. When at least one other member is present on adventure, gains an innate Speak with Ancestors, as per a Communication II of whatever power-base (including physical) the character has. If the character is not with another family-member, this is reduced to two Major Prayers of the same power-base as above. In either case the prayer requires 30 seconds calm contemplation.

OR

- Forearm Parry: Attained at 8th level, and only if the character is a Warrior Subclass. May be learnt pre-8th level if the teaching of Forearm Parry is done on adventure with Khyrhym personally (and signed onto the character by Khyrym and countersigned by the desk)

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Spiritual Defence: Gains + 1 SAC
- Awareness: 6th Sense, as per tables BUT no DAC requirement.
- Mind Block: As per Monk ability.
- Coldrage: 1/day as per published tables ability.
- Minor Prayer: 1/day asking the Panama Ancestors, same powerbase as ability above.
- Panama: 1/day as per Warcry

ADVANCED TIER

- Magical Defence: Gains + 1MAC
- Minor Prayer: Extra innate as above (2/day in total)
- Major Prayer: 1/Day asking the Panama Ancestors, same powerbase as ability above.
- Potion Tolerance: If has a potion restriction may now drink 10 extra potions per day

CALL OF THE ANCESTORS - GUILD STATUS

Sight Beyond all Sight - Stage one: Cost 50 Table 5

- If spends 30 seconds in calm perpetration before using a Panama related Talk to Ancestor ability (Guild benefit, or from this status) gains the benefits of injunction (as priest ability) and visionary.

Clear Thoughts Bring a Focused Mind - Stage two: Cost +150 Table 7

- Enlightened by the Ancestors; 1/day - Acts as per a Commune with the Gods, but the powerbase is as per the guild Talk to Ancestors. However cannot vocalise the answers to questions nor may they relay answers received until the comm is ended.
- Panthers Surge 1/day - When using the Panama War Cry benefit can choose to gain immunity to a second listed stopping effect at the time of use.

Family gives Strength - Stage Three: Cost +150 Table 9

- When on dungeon with another member of the Panama Family, Spiritual and Magical defence is now increased to grant + 2 MAC and + 2 SAC. These are still considered guild benefit AC.

~ Spider Tribe – Timeless (3 Tiers) ~

Chieftain: Squim

PREREQUISITES

Be a Goblin or Hobgoblin.

ETHOS

Spider tribe goblins were once renowned for cowardice, however the prevailing side of their goblin instinct has switched. They are now nasty, stabby, sneaky lovers of ambushes (and cowards....).

RESTRICTIONS

May only ever attack from a position of perceived strength; in most cases this will mean a helpless opponent, attacking from behind, or outnumbering the enemy.

May not leave the tribe without the permission of the chieftain.

BASIC TIER

- Stabby: Gains E skill in daggers
- Sneaky: Gains +1 DAC
- Camouflage: 1/day as druidic evocation but does not require a verbal or need woodland setting and may not be done in sight of foes.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Web: 1/day as bind but is physical and doesn't require footwear. A webbed target may be cut free after 30 seconds of doing nothing else with a sharp weapon (but it is too sticky to break with bare hands or brute strength)
- Camouflage: 2nd use of above innate

ADVANCED TIER

- Camouflage: 3rd use of above innate
- Web: 2nd use of above innate
- Vicious Goblin: +1 cumulative Weapon Mastery with daggers.

SPIDER GOBLIN - GUILD STATUS

Stabby Git - Stage one: Cost 60 Table 1

- 1/day Spiders Caress – Gains immunity to poison for 5 minutes. This can be used while poisoned but before it kicks in.
- 1/day Panic – Gains 12 points of combat wary vs the blow that just struck them, but they must immediately flee the person they used this versus and cannot engage them for at least 30 seconds. Must be declared within 2 seconds of the blow, and only applies to one blow.

Sneaky Git - Stage two: Cost +80 Table 5

- 1/day Sneaky Goblin – Can enhance a guild benefit camouflage to allow movement, as per an invisibility.
- Panic now grants combat wary vs 3 blows from the target, but the user is feared of them for 5 minutes (even if normally immune to fear).

Flaky Git - Stage Three: Cost +110 Table 7

- Panic now allows the goblin to count as in full retreat vs the attacks, but no longer grants combat wary. However the goblin is fear of the target for the rest of the day.
- 1/day Massive Web!!! Enhances a spider tribe webs innate to effect all within a 3ft by 3ft square.
- Spiders love – If the Spider tribe member is already immune to poison (but not flesh and blood) then while the spiders caress is in use any poison heals ½ the damage it would inflict. This does not include supernaturally generated poisons. If receives any healing that isn't from poison during this time the innate ends.

~ The Swarm – January 2024 (1 Tier) ~

Guild Head (Chieftain): Wyntermourne Spiritual Advisor: Lark Arcane Advisor: Okkram Sedeth

PRE-REQUISITES

Be a Ratfolk.

ETHOS

The Swarm is a group of rats from all clans and breeds who for one reason or another have gathered together under the banner of Slavik, treating its nine tails and teachings as a totem to be respected and worshipped in their many rat ways - trying to make their mark in the world of humankind.

The tribe (for that's what it undoubtedly is) is made up of rural nomadic rats, a mix of those pro-Thimon, and also those who do not find or accept the sewers of Thimon as the fitting "city" that they were promised.

They roam Labyrinthia gathering strength and numbers from pockets of isolated rats. Offering them protection and the feeling of the swarm - for every child of Slavik knows safety is best found in numbers.

It is through this understanding, and network of contacts, rather than gathering in the open under a large banner, or other such shows of force that these few become the many, the powerless the powerful - this is the strength and power of the Swarm.

BASIC TIER

- Scurry 1/day – Acts as per a physical lightstep.
- Sneaky rat 1/day – Acts in a similar manner to Evasion, but works regardless of the wards power base.
- Feed on the Plague 1/day – If struck by a disease then can feed on it acting as a 12/12 cure of the same power base as the disease.

~ The White Wind – April 2024 (3 Tiers) – Grand Guild Hall ~

Guild Head: Radiant

GUILD MOTTO:

"Into the light the good are welcomed, and with the light the evil are banished"

PRE-REQUISITES

Be goodly aligned and not an Undead or Demonkind. Guild membership must be signed on by the guild head.

May not be an existing member of an imperial organisation/guild such as the Department of Collections & Recoveries or an Imperial Legion, nor join one without the express permission of the guild head.

ETHOS

The White Wind is a small and select group of mercenaries dedicated to the furtherment of good as and where they are needed. Willing to go bravely into the darkness and seek to triumph for the forces of light. Many members possess faith or wield powers of light but not being dedicated to a power or wielding such does not preclude one from joining their ranks.

Members of The White Wind are expected to support each other and work together to vanquish evil and strengthen to power of the Heavens.

RESTRICTIONS

All members are expected to carry their guild marker with them on all mercenary missions.

No guild member may return or aid in the return of an evil being to life, the only exception being those who are redeemed at the point of their resurrection (OOC definition: No to anyone who remains evilly aligned).

A member of The White Wind that knowingly leaves behind another member be they unconscious or dead where they or their body was retrievable receives no points for the adventure.

No guild member is able to deceive or interfere with communications by guild members although being protected from communications is not an issue.

Any member that is "Black Marked" by their own actions has their membership immediately suspended and cannot claim guild benefits until the Guild Sire has reviewed the situation and countersigned their membership once more.

The Guild Sire may de-list any member he believes has not acted or does not act in the true spirit of The White Wind and need not be on adventure to do so.

BASIC TIER

- Ward against Sin 1/day – Declared as per a war cry and lasts for 5 minutes gains + 1 MAC, + 1 SAC, and + 1 Level of Resistance vs effects from someone evil, or that by their nature are evil (i.e. evil miracles).
- The White Ribbon – Requires a white ribbon with the guild motto on it in red spirit runes to use. 1/day with 30 seconds prep acts as either a mantic slayer or a mantic fire blade.

INTERMEDIATE TIER

- Gains a second ward against sin, and can use both at the same time.
- Gains a second the White Ribbon innate.
- Can use a white ribbon innate to turn a protection vs evil Mantic at the point it is cast.
- Can use 2 white ribbon innates (taking one minute prep total) to act as a mantic (white/red/good spirit) heal.

ADVANCED TIER

- Gains a 3rd innate ward against sin; can use all 3 at the same time if desired.
- Gains a 3rd White Ribbon innate
- If uses a White Ribbon to slayer an evil person on dungeon then they (the target) can choose to have their alignment changed to goodly (they must then see the GSM for appropriate respending) instead of being slayered. A person redeemed in this way will perm die if they ever cease to be goodly.
- If a person has a White Ribbon innate left and is slain they can choose to unleash one (max) as a mantic (goodly spirit, red mana) disruption dying effect. This uses the innate.

Other Churches

The following churches are not listed in Divine Guidance, but individuals can be members as normal. Also listed below are changes to the details in Divine Guidance (such as changes to High Priest or similar).

~ The Forge ~

Guild Sire (High Forger): None at this time

PRE-REQUISITE

Anyone eligible for membership of a Church may join regardless of their alignment.

This guild was created by Jander Sunstar (The Forge), and is supported by his actions

ETHOS

"You do fine work? It would be good if you remember that a smith does not turn down work. You seem to be goodly fellow but you do a neutral craft. It is good to have things grounded a little." - The Spirit of Primus

MIRACLE LIST

1st	Detect Spirit's Nature, Remove Rune of Power, Spirit of Seeing, Halt, Power Meld
2nd	Spirit of Seeing and Hearing
3rd	Protection From Spirits, Spirit Shield, Talk To Spirits
4th	Rune of Power, Communication I, Spirit Bolt, Control Ghoul
5th	Minor Ward of Power, Spiritual Invisibility, Remove Voice of Power, Control Wraith
6th	Bind Weapon Spirit
8th	Major Ward of Power

Individuals may add extra miracles to their miracle list as normal appropriate to their actual alignment. E.g. NN may only add neutral miracles to the base list; LG, NG, CG & LN may add goodly miracles to the base list and CN, LE, NE & CE may add evil miracles to the base list.

~ The Church of Glass ~

High Priest: Ruatha, Duke Stoneheart

Symbol: A stylised Gem or The Imperial Eagle

ETHOS

The Church serves and reflects the Throne. Its over-riding tenet is Duty - to the Mistress of Primus, the Empire and its people, more or less in that order. Members of the Church will do what needs to be done for the good of the Empire and not for their own personal gain. Priests are often militant - paladins or spirit warriors – and lay members are welcomed into the faith.

DISADVANTAGES

Those performing chaotic acts suffer disadvantages as if those acts had been evil, up to and including excommunication by the Throne (Desk). As a balance, the Throne is less morally strict when considering lawful acts that are required for the greater good.

MIRACLE LIST

1st	Cure Wound, Dismiss Zombie, Remove Rune of Power
2nd	Cure Serious, Halt Undead
3rd	Cure Disease, Bless, Dismiss Ghoul, Protection from Spirits, Talk to Spirits, Spirit Shield

4th	Heal, Spirit Bolt, Wound Staunch
5th	5th: Spiritual Invisibility
6th	Total Heal, Spiritual Freedom, Dismiss Vampire
8th	Restore Life

~ Church of Tsu-Ling ~

High Priest: Sol

Ethos

The Lingists follow the Ling Chan the teachings of Tsu-Ling, Oceanic god of Peace and Tranquillity. They believe in promoting the cause of peace and aiding the lives of the common folk of Primus, protecting them from the ravages of war.

Restrictions

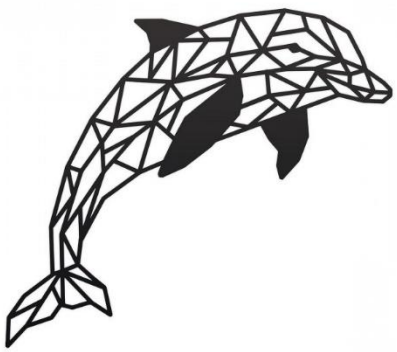

May never use rages, May only attack in self defence. Suffers Item restrictions as Paladin. May only kill living creatures as a last resort.

Miracle List

1st	Cure Wound, Summon Spiritual Candles, Halt
2nd	Cure Serious Wounds
3rd	Cure Disease, Healing Hand, Bless, Talk To Spirits, Spirit Shield, Protection From Spirits
4th	Heal
5th	Remove Fear And Paralysis, Remove Voice of Power, Spiritual Invisibility
6th	Total Heal, Spiritual Freedom, Stronghold of Goodness
8th	Restore Life

Benefits

Peaceful Gathering: Hermit Priests, Vivomancers and Friars may align to the guild and retain their own miracle lists.

~ The Church of Levity ~

High Priest: Mallerstang Laght

Pre-requisites

The church is open to priests of any evil alignment (despite its list below). Additionally neutral priests may join, but may not battle board the benefits of any other professional guild and may only cast neutral or evil miracles regardless of their alignment.

Ethos

The Church/Faith of Levity is one of knowledge that seeks to recover and harness the power of the secrets and knowledge lost within the Night of Levity for the good of the Empire. It believes that through knowledge comes wisdom and through wisdom comes power and understanding. In understanding comes the power to defend those who cannot defend themselves; in knowledge can the powerless become empowered, and so the Empire grows stronger.

The faith believes that knowledge, lore & secrets lost in ages past should be recovered and once more shared with the world, and that in doing so the Empress and Empire will grow stronger. It believes that it is far better to know and understand, than to simply hide or imprison something away from the world.

The church is strongly opposed to the Cult of Thanatar and its members who would seek to steal knowledge and memories rather than learn, investigate and understand. Knowledge is to be learned and understood not stolen by desecrating the souls of the dead.

At present the faith is small though growing and would welcome further priests to join its ranks. The high priest is Mallerstang Laght, a noble, librarian, historian and member of the 13th Imperial Legion. The primary temple of the faith is a grand library in Halgar, within the grounds of the Raven Manor of House Laght.

Miracle List

Please note while the list is N/N members can learn Neutral and Evil miracles post 8th/via scriptures.

1st	Spirit of Seeing, Detect Spirits Nature, Halt
2nd	Spirit of Seeing & Hearing, Stasis, Control Zombie
3rd	Talk to Spirit, Spirit Shield, Protection from Spirits, Detect Lie
4th	Communication, Spirit Bolt, Reveal Undead name, Control Ghoul
5th	Spiritual Invisibility, Remove Voice of Power, Voice of Power, Identify Spirit
6th	Control Wight
8th	Greater Communication.

~ The Church of Condesecration ~

High Priest: Flock

All other details are as per Divine Guidance.

Note: The High priest has Spirit Link to all Guild Members. Additionally he can choose to summon dead members to his side if he wishes, with his Animate life having additional benefit.

~ The Church of Cenric ~

High Priest: Letholdas of Rodanne

Ethos

The Guardian, also known as the watchful one, the unsleeping, or the towering guard. Most often depicted in a suit of plate armour with a closed helm, with a shield on his left arm and then either a hammer or a book in his right. Sometimes he is depicted holding his shield flat before him with the book and the hammer upon it. Cenric is a god of law, and of pacts and treaties, priests are expected to be consistent and just in their verdicts as well as fair in their negotiations.

MEMBERSHIP

Priests may be of any neutral alignment. While the churches base list is neutral members may align to either the spirits of Light, or Darkness, as any other neutral priest. Once chosen the person cannot change this.

There are four orders within the church, priests of the shield tend to cast goodly miracles and specialise in warding miracles. Priests of the book are a diverse group and tend to specialise in communication. Priests of the hammer tend to choose evil miracles and their path varies.

The fourth order – that of the sentinels is there to keep the three main orders in check, and to ensure that no order comes to dominate the others. They are mainly comprised of grey knights, however; rarely priests may join the sentinels and would use the below miracle list choosing goodly or evil miracles, their major sphere and major ward of power or greater communication as their free 8th level miracle.

MIRACLE LIST

1st	Halt, Detect Spirits Nature, Spirit of Seeing, Remove rune of power
2nd	Stasis, Spirit of Seeing and Hearing, Halt Undead
3rd	Protection from Spirits, Talk to Spirit, Enhanced Stasis, Detect Lie
4th	Spirit Bolt, Communication, Spirit Shift, Rune of Power, Control Ghoul
5th	Minor Ward of Power, Spiritual Invisibility, Voice of Power
8th	Greater Communication

DENOMINATIONAL MIRACLE

This miracle may be learnt by priests of the church post 8th. Deliberate abuse and breaking of it could be considered an excommunicable offence.

Pact of the Guardian
Level: 5sp	Alignment: Neutral	Duration: 15 minutes	Range: Self
Gesture: Scribe the pact
Verbal: "By the power vested in me I invoke the watchful one, protect me from all (insert name of targets here eg. Undead) you are compelled to negotiate!"
Description: The caster must spend at least 2 minutes scribing the pact immediately before casting. This miracle grants the caster a temporary wardpact as per the ancient folk racial ability (see Evolution – Races). This pact cannot be vs Elements, Elves or Supernatural minions of Dragons/Drakes. While active the caster cannot attack those he has the pact with except in purest self-defence, even if it has not been announced, doing so is considered breaking the pact. If the priest breaks the pact they may never cast this miracle again, nor may they ever benefit from any form of Ward Pact. This miracle may be cast for 10 spirits without the need to spend 2 minutes to scribe the pact.

Druid Conclaves

~ Imperial Nature~

Founding Druid: Crepitus

As the Empress rose to be the Realm Spirit of the Empire so was she empowered by the elemental strength of the Empire itself and the creatures within. Now she can, if she so desires, influence and direct this strength. It is this facet of the Empress or personification of Nature that is revered by the Druids of the Legions and some of those Druids residing within the Empire itself.

This Conclave was founded by the High Druid Crepitus as a home for those fellow Druids who were loyal to the Empire. Following many years service in the 28th Imperial Legion and time spent serving as Inquisitorial Gaius he sought to provide a place to help strengthen Nature's place within the Empire itself.

EVOCATION LIST

1st	Control Animals, Control Plants
2nd	Barkskin, Entangle, Life's memories, Slow Poison, Stoneskin (s)
3rd	Druidic Heal
4th	Cudgel, Owl's Vision, Resist Cold, Resist Fire, Wall of Thorns
6th	Neutralise Poison, Petrification, Toughen Hide
7th	Endurance of the Mountains

Talisman: Imperial Nature

Notes: This talisman may be purchased by druids of the Imperial Nature Conclave.

Description: When casting a city field evocation can choose to count as if in any city of the Empire where relevant (eg. for EP reductions in Blessing of the City, counts as in the city, or could cast The City Speaks as if in a different city. Everywhere in the Empire is considered a Natural Environment (NB. This wouldn't include the Mittlenacht, a Fey Realm in the Empire or similar).

Cost: 40 points

~ The Verdant Grove ~

Founding Druid: Triek Marrowmud

Triek believes that the power of the Verdant Grove, that of mother nature, the rivers, and spring is ready to flow forth into Primus in the form of a druid's circle, which any druid can call upon. Druids of this conclave focus on drawing upon the healing powers of nature to heal their companions to aid them in their tasks.

EVOCATION LIST

1st	Control Animals, Joining
2nd	Slow Poison
3rd	Druidic Heal
4th	Cudgel, Neutrality to Animals, Neutrality to Plants, Resist Cold, Resist Fire
5th	Cure Disease
8th	Slow Healing
10th	Druidic Total Heal, Breath of Life

Talisman: Acorn of the Grove

Notes: This talisman may be purchased by druids of the Verdant Grove Conclave.

Description: Can empower an acorn with an unenhanced druidic “healing” evocation. The EP for this evocation cannot be regained while active, and this takes 1 minutes concentration.

If the druid falls unconscious due to damage while the Acorn is in their possession the evocation kicks in. Evocations remain in the acorn for a max of 15 minutes.

Cost: 75 points
