Introduction

Hello, and so we find the third version of the Druids Way.

Within you'll find details of the Druid Subclasses, those individuals that manipulate and control the natural world. Be it through speaking to the beasts, controlling the plants, or an array of other talents that all hold a common affinity with the natural world at heart.

A lot has been learnt from the first two versions as a forgotten class was brought up to date and mistakes were made. Hopefully things are better this time and preserve the Druids' versatility, while still making them a playable class. The key thing to remember about Druids is that they are versatile. They can fill several roles in a party, and as such do not often excel at any of them. While they can heal, they will not be as good as a Priest. They can bind creatures, destroy weapons and create walls, but never as well as a Wizard can. Too much time was, previously, spent trying to allow a Druid to be comparable to a different class in one area at the expense of their versatility, and not enough was spent on letting them be what they are; a solid back up to several other classes out there. Perhaps the area Druids should excel in, control over plants and animals, was the most ignored.

The changes within are a step away from the previous restrictive nature of fields and the attempt to try and bracket Druids into one area. They are designed to ensure that Druids can chose to specialise if they wish, but not force them to do so.

Often the word Druid will be used to refer to the bracket (so include Forest Guardians etc.) however on the post 8th tables classes will be referenced separately.

Hopefully what follows will address some of the previous issues, and provide a solid basis for Druids to be played from.

So happy tree hugging.

The Druid's Way

There are many theories as to where Earthpower comes from – some Druids believe that there is power within each living thing that can be brought to the fore. Others will tell you that the power is the fabric of Primus - if you know the secrets of the world then the power is yours. Some of the older Druids rely on deification; typically figureheads such as Mother Nature and the Horned Man, or ancient beliefs such as the Father of the World and Shadow of the Final Dawn. Others have expanded on the theory of Primus and suggest that the power specifically comes from the ley lines that criss-cross Primus, and other worlds. The truth behind this may forever remain a mystery, but what is certain is that the power exists and can be shaped. It is not, directly, a force for creation or destruction, rather a force for change. It can cause the possible to happen. In a world of the supernatural and mystical, the possible will often be seen as magical and unnatural, but in truth it is nothing that cannot occur on its own given time. Ancient trees within the deepest forests are capable of speech and movement, and so with the right understanding the latent powers in any tree can be awoken to be sent against their foes. Cuts heal naturally, yet with the right incantations this can be done instantly.

The nature of a Druid's belief often shapes how and why they call upon the powers of nature. The same is true of ley lines, one that runs through a volcano will be bound to the powers of fire, one that centres in a forest more closely with plants. It is because of these differences that Druids hold a wide variety of views and backgrounds. Some believe that civilisation is wrong and cities should be torn down, others run with animals and consider themselves one of the pack. It is not uncommon for people to shun the old ways and use the powers to hold back nature, to promote civilisation and strengthen the grip of urban lands on Primus.

Older Druids tended to be open to the views of other Druids, the bonds of nature providing a grudging respect at the very least, but as the power has spread this has changed. Now Druid will battle Druid, as both regard their own paths as true. No longer do the younger Druids see the ties to the world as importantly as their forbearers.

This progression has resulted in many changes in the way Druids pass on their teachings. Some are secretive loners, hiding away from society. Others seek to draw followers to them, almost as a priest gathers a flock, so they can gain more power and influence. Most however still follow the old ways, where one learns from nature itself, embracing it and gaining insight as it passes before them.

System Change: Druids no longer have to be partially neutral in alignment, any alignment is now acceptable. Additionally the previous state of Druidic Respect is completely removed.

EP Users Not Detailed in this Supplement

Samila

Details on the Samila can be found within the Evolution: Races supplement. Samila are a race of beings that are all very much in tune with the flow of Earthpower. They may be 'Druids' but cannot use weapons, armour or shields.

Leywalker

Details of the Leywalker character class can be found within the At the Sharp End supplement, which features classes within the Pathfinder Bracket. Leywalkers are a cross between Druids and Pathfinders, gaining several abilities from each class type.

DRUID

The Druid is the most common class for Earthpower users. There are many variations of Druid available which are detailed later in this book. They are all capable of bending and manipulating the natural environment and those in it, to aid them and their allies. Druids have 4 Earthpower per level.

Humans, Alfar, ½ Elves and ½ Draves, and Ratfolk may be Druids.

Should they multi-class to/from a class that can wear better armour they are still limited in this way. Druids gain the Utilise Shield skill. They may use any shield unless they multi-class to/from a class that has a restriction prohibiting shield use.

HIGH DRUID

High Druids are highly dedicated members of Druid society. In exchange for this dedication they have greater power available to them. They are often seen as wise and venerable and many Druids look towards them for advice and guidance. High Druids have 6 Earthpower per level.

Humans, Alfar, ½ Elves and ½ Draves, and Ratfolk may be High Druids.

FOREST GUARDIAN

The Forest Guardians are the bodyguards of the Druids, and are those trained to take a more martial role in defending the precepts of druidical beliefs. The armour and weapon limitations are the same as those for Druids. Forest Guardians have 2 Earthpower per level.

Humans, Alfar, ½ Elves and ½ Draves, and Ratfolk may be Forest Guardians.

They may use any shield unless they multi-class to/from a class that has a restriction prohibiting shield use.

Forest guardians may select from the following Warrior specialist skills:

WEAPON MASTERY

By means of training and practice the warrior may become more skilled with any one specific weapon e.g. Broadsword, Handmace, Battleaxe, Bastard Sword, Spear etc. This mastery means that one grade of damage is added to the normal base damage done by a weapon of this type. Any weapon usable by the Forest Guardian may be chosen, including 'B' class weapons.

UNARMED COMBAT

This skill allows the Forest Guardian to do damage per blow with his hands (and not any other part of his body), as if they were O class weapons. It should be remembered that a blow from any weapon must be a minimum of 12" long to be effective. Martial art skills must NOT be used. It is only necessary to gently touch the opponent anything stronger is unsafe and must be avoided. NOTE: Anyone abusing this skill will lose it.

ENHANCED REFLEXES

By means of rigorous training, the Forest Guardian may learn greater agility in combat, thus giving them a bonus of +1 Dexterity Armour Class. This replaces the first point of Dexterity Armour Class available post eighth on table one and may only be taken once. Note: If you are a class which naturally gains innate DAC this extra DAC will stack with the DAC that you already have. This skill is sometimes referred to as Dexterity Training.

+6/2 STAMINA

By means of rigorous exercise and training the Forest Guardian may become extremely fit. This fitness has the effect of giving him an extra 6 total body life points, and an extra 2 life points per location, it does not however increase his level for resisting magic or spirits. This skill may only be taken once by a character.

Druid Skills (1st to 8th)

The Druidic classes develop certain skills as they progress from 1st to 8th level.

Immunity to Blesses and Curses

All Druids, High Druids, and Forest Guardians from 1st level, are immune to any form of Bless or Curse. This includes those found at higher levels such as a Witches Curse to Pain.

Recognise Earthpower

This discern has a 1" range and will reveal whether something within that range has Earthpower or not. Yes/No answer.

Tell Direction

With 10 seconds looking at an open sky the druid can tell which way is North.

Tell Time

With 10 seconds looking at an open sky the druid can tell the time, to within the nearest ¼ hour.

Tell Plant Type

Recognises natural plants. User can identify the plant's type and receive some general information about that plant from the adventure's referee. This ability has a range of Line of Sight.

Tell Wounds

Requires 10 seconds examination of a target at 2" range or less. Only works on Flesh & Blood targets – this does not include elvenkind. Reveals the extent of any injury currently suffered by the target, to the degree where the numerical amount of damage will be ascertained, and the user will be able to identify which locations are "broken" (below zero life points).

Read Tracks

Exactly as Ranger skill - A Druid can tell what type of creature inhabits the area by the tracks left on the ground. Normal/common animals and races will be easily identifiable, but a Druid may have trouble recognising unusual races by their tracks.

Tell Disease

With 10 seconds examination can tell if an object/liquid is diseased or if a Flesh & Blood (as above) creature has been diseased. User will receive approximate information as to the potency/quantity/duration of the disease.

Stop Bleeding

Stops bleeding in one wound per use of the ability. Like "Tell Wounds" this ability only works on a Flesh & Blood target (not elves). A suitable piece of flora must be attached to the wound to make it work.

Tell Poison

With 10 seconds examination can tell if an object/liquid is poisonous or if a Flesh & Blood creature has been poisoned. User will receive approximate information as to the potency/quantity/duration of the poison. Has a 1" range.

Earthpower Talismans

Earthpower Talismans – In a change from previous rules all Druids, High Druids, and Forest Guardians gain the ability to manufacture Talismans at 8th level. They are similar to scrolls in that they are once ever use and are not considered to be items.

A “Druid” has a 70% chance of success per Talisman made. A talisman costs 250 grulls per EP point of the evocation being bound. Only standard evocations can be bound to Talismans.

A Druid can attempt to bind up to 8EP of Talismans per week.

A Talisman must be phys-repped by an appropriate object, a carved stick, a daisy chain etc. It should be as representative as a scroll is for spells or miracles. To activate a Talisman requires 10 seconds concentration holding the Talisman and the user suffers life as if casting the Evocations. Obviously Utilise Earthpower Item is required to do this.

Further details of the ‘making options’ available are to be found in ‘The Manufacturer’s Guide’.

Evocations

Druids can call upon the world around them to produce effects that often seem magical to those who witness them. The Druids though refer to their powers as Evocations.

Fields

In a change from previous publications the way Evocations are split has been changed, and the requirement to have the relevant Field has been altered.

There are now three paths of learning for Druids, and within each path a set of Fields. Evocations will fall into at least one (normally more) of these Fields. It should be clear that a Druid no longer needs to have “Chosen of” a Field to learn Evocations from it.

The Paths of Learning and Fields within them are:

~ Seasons ~

The Druid seeks to gain understanding of how the world works through the passage of the seasons. They study and learn how one season changes to the next, and observe what causes the changes within nature as a season progresses. Some consider this the purest form of Earthpower as it is what lies at the centre of the cycle of life.

The Fields within are:

Spring – The season of growth and vibrance. Often tied to healing and renewal it is also the period most closely attuned to plant life.

Summer – A season of two faces, the scorching blistering hot days found in deserts and at the same time the pleasant and balmy calm of the heartland summer breeze. It is perhaps the season most closely tied to animals, if any season can truly master them.

Autumn – The season of decay where the old begins to wilt and fade. The beginning of the end as it were.

Winter – The cold days and long nights. The frozen winds and bitter cold. The harshest of seasons, never forgiving and always constant.

~ Terrain ~

Tied to the environment around them and how plants and animals adapt and adjust to it. Be it Mountains or Forests, Sky or Desert, the methods of learning involve becoming one with the environment around you, not just looking and observing, but experiencing and feeling it. Some Druids have become so caught up in their desire that they have become lost and forget about their past lives living only for the terrain around them.

The Fields within are:

Deserts and Plains – The desolate wastes, where water is scarce and the sun beats down and leaves a blighted landscape in its wake. The rolling open fields and the savannah.

Mountains – The enduring strong peaks. Standing tall against the years, never bending or giving ground.

The Skies – Open and expansive. The winds and the storms, the place where the birds soar.

Forests – From the plush and verdant woodland of the heartlands, to the dark and harsh brutality of the Dark Forest.

Rivers and Lakes – Fast and ferocious waterfalls, calm serene lakes, even the seas themselves fall within the remit of this field.

Cities – An oddity amongst druids. A few use the powers tied to the cities, a very weak field as the powers of nature do not touch the cities themselves.

~ Nature Personified ~

Older teachings, held dear by many, these are where nature is given a form, a personality. Similar to the way the Priests revere Gods. Many Druids dispute these mythical figures even exist, instead claiming they are just charlatan's excuses to trick unsuspecting people.

The Fields within are:

The Horned Man – The hunter. He stalks the forests or mountains seeking out his prey.

Mother Nature – The caring, nurturing figure. She tends to the world to allow it to flourish and grow.

Keeper of the Winds – A powerful bird, often believed to be an Eagle, which creates the flow of the winds as it beats its wings.

Father of the World – The keeper of the world and its secrets. He observes and sees all, holding domain over that which sits beneath him, but never seeking to force it against its will.

Shadow of the Dawn – The ever lengthening shadow of the final dawn. More a concept than the others it is the end of things, the decay of power, the inevitable march to the end.

List Design

When starting a Druid has three options open to them in terms of their Evocations list. The choice for this is made upon starting and cannot normally be changed.

The Traditionalist – They follow the old ways, the paths laid down when Druids were found in small groups or forced to keep their powers hidden. The traditions passed along have provided the basis of many a powerful Druid's life. They gain the normal Evocation List including all "Standard" Evocations on it

Standard Evocation List

Control Animal	1	Invisibility to Animals	3	Neutrality to Plants	4
Create Water	1	Druidic Heal	3	Animate Small Tree	5
Predict Weather	1	Speak to Animals	3	Cure Disease	5
Warping	2	Speak to Plants	3	Gust of Wind	6
Barkskin	2	Resist Cold	4	Neutralise Poison	6
Ensnare	2	Wall of Thorns	4	Animate Medium Tree	6
Slow Poison	2	Cudgel	4	Forest Shift	7
Trip	2	Resist Fire	4	Animate Large Tree	8
Camouflage	3	Neutrality to Animals	4	Call Lightning	8

The Loner – They follow their own path. Be it one of solitude and their own learning, or the fact they simply shun the more conventional teachings.

This allows them to design their own Evocation List. It may contain 60 EP of evocations, 20 of them may be advanced. All Advanced Evocations must come from the same Field, but this does not have to be one the Druid later gains, though if it contains Advanced Evocations that are above 6 EP then they cannot be cast till the relevant Field is obtained.

Conclave – A new Druid may join an existing Conclave (see later for more details) and follow their teachings. They will then use the Evocation List of that Conclave.

It should be noted that even if a Druid leaves a Conclave later (via points app or by forming their own) their base list remains the same.

Conclaves

With the rise of druidic power over the Third Age groups of Druids have begun to band together to form their own Conclaves. Similar to a Priest's Church these follow a specific part of the natural cycle, or serve a specific aspect. While few at the minute their numbers are ever growing.

A Druid can only belong to one Conclave, and normally they will remain within it forever. However some may seek to leave and follow a different branch of the teaching, forming their own Conclave.

Details of Conclaves can be found on the Labyrinthe Forums, or within the Almanac. They will also be included in future versions of Divine Guidance. A few sample Conclaves are included at the end of this book.

How is a Conclave formed? It is not as simple as gathering a set of Druids together and saying it is so. The Druids involved must seek out a place they can call home, and gain sufficient support to be recognised by other Druids. This is achieved via a CC contract (details of how these work are on the Labyrinthe forums) and the difficulty depends on the reputation of the founding Druid(s) and how many are involved.

Once completed the new Conclave can be formed with its own Evocation List. Additionally all Conclaves will have a Talisman that is unique to them and if an individual leaves the Conclave the Talisman is lost and the points wasted.

A Conclave can have up to 60 EP of Evocations on their list, 30 of which may be Advanced but they must all come from Fields in the same area of Learning and fit with the concept of the Conclave. If they are above 6EP then a Druid does NOT need the correct Field to cast them.

It is possible to join a Conclave at a point other than character creation via the ability Acceptance on table one.

Powerful Evocations

Only characters that are within the Druid Bracket may learn & cast Evocations that cost more than 8 EP to cast. These are all considered 8th level Evocations.

Additionally in order to cast an advanced Evocation above 6EP the Druid must hold the relevant Field, unless it is part of a Conclave's base list. This includes through the use of Draw on Earthpower or similar, but not from items.

Casting Evocations

Druid classes may only cast Evocations that are of their own level or lower. Despite having 4 EP, a 1st level Druid cannot cast Druidic Heal for example.

They may only cast those Evocations that are on their Evocation List.

They suffer 1 tblp "casting damage" for each point of EP cast.

If a Druid casts an Evocation which requires more EP, or tblp, than he has remaining he will die (though the Evocation will still take effect).

When casting an Evocation the verbals must be pronounced correctly and audibly, the appropriate gestures must be made and the target must be indicated or the Evocation will fail. Should this occur the EP and tblp will still be lost.

Total Heal Capping

Druidic classes have a total heal cap as a second class priest. Innates of the Druidic Total Heal Evocation counts as one innate, the Slow Healing Evocation counts as ½ a total heal for capping purposes.

Learning Evocations

All Druids are free to learn any Standard Evocation if it was not on their base list.

Druids may learn any published Evocation up to 6 EP regardless of the Field. Evocations above 6EP may only be learnt if a Druid holds a relevant Chosen Field.

Non-standard Evocations can only be learnt from Fields that the Druid holds.

Standard Evocations

The following are the basic Evocations known to most Druids. They form the basis of how druidic power works.

Control Animal
Level: 1	Range: 20'
Gesture: Point at target	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Forest, Father of the World
Verbal: “[Animal type] of the [terrain type] heed my call”
Notes: Stacking evocation, costing 1EP per level of resistance of the target animal. EP reductions apply to total EP cost. Can only be cast on a natural animal and then only effecting at most up to the caster’s level. The caster need not know the level of the target when casting, and if they choose to cast ‘open-ended’ they simply pay the EP cost according to the animal’s level. Note that most normal animals will have a much lower resistance level than adventurers and other intelligent beings!

Create Water
Level: 1	Range: Fingertips
Gesture: Open hand as verbal is said	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Spring, Rivers, Mother Nature
Verbal: “Purest Water come unto me.”
Notes: The evocation creates a pint of pure fresh drinking water which is seen to appear from the Druid’s fingertips.

Predict Weather
Level: 1	Range: Self
Gesture: Look to the sky	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Skies, Keeper of the Winds
Verbal: “Air and water reveal to me thy course”
Notes: Through the casting of this evocation the Druid is able to reasonably predict the weather over the next 24 hours in the area he is in at the time of casting. The Druid will get a feel as to whether this weather has been manipulated by some force or not, or any other system- or plot-relevant information at ref’s discretion.

Barkskin
Level: 2	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Summer, Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: “Oak and Elm I beseech thee, cover my/their skin with bark”
Notes: +2 PAC [innate], stacks with other AC but not self.

Ensnare
Level: 2	Range: 20'
Gesture: Grasping motion with hands	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Autumn, Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: "May the powers of Nature hold thee!"
Notes: This evocation animates nearby vegetation to entrap those within the area of effect (3' by 3'). The size of the vegetation available is proportional to the size of creature that may be entangled. Anything in excess of grass should be able to entangle a normal creature. It should be noted that normally only legs are entangled leaving the target free to use its arms etc. It is not magical, and cannot of course be dispelled. At the ref's discretion the target may be able to cut themselves out with a sharp blade .

Slow Poison
Level: 2	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Rivers, Mother Nature
Verbal: "May the power of water slow this poison"
Notes: Delays the effects of all poisons in a flesh and blood (non-elvenkind) target's system until this evocation expires. During this time healing in excess of the affected target's tblp will count against the poison damage- e.g. a character down 10 tblp who receives 18 points of curing, can reduce the poison damage they will take by 8 points when the evocation expires.

Trip
Level: 2	Range: 20'
Gesture: Point	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Autumn, Forest, Father of the World
Verbal: "By the power of Earth trip"
Notes: The target must be moving over a stone or earthen surface and the evocation will cause them to trip over.

Warping
Level: 2	Range: 20'
Gesture: Point	Duration: Permanent
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Autumn, Forest, Shadow of the Dawn
Verbal: "I bid that [wooden object] be warped"
Notes: This will warp a wooden object of less than 27 cubic feet in volume. The object becomes useless although it can be restored by a re-shaping effect.

Camouflage
Level: 3	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Autumn, Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: "Branches and leaves hide me/him/her from my/his/her foes"
Notes: As long as the recipient is standing against natural vegetation they become indiscernible to the naked eye. If they move or cast another evocation then they become visible. If they are observed casting the spell then they can be attacked since the observer still knows that they are there.

Druidic Heal
Level: 3	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Spring, Rivers, Mother Nature
Verbal: “Water heal and fire seal!”
Notes: Through the hand touch of the Druid a Flesh and Blood creature (not elvenkind) is cured 12tblp and 12pts of location damage, which may be split between the injured locations as desired by caster. No physical wound is required, and the evocation will still heal 12 tblp if there is no locational damage.

Invisibility to Animals
Level: 3	Range: Self
Gesture: None	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Spring, Autumn, Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: “Air shield me from the sight, smell and ear of all animals”
Notes: This evocation makes the caster undetectable by all normal and giant animals. The spell is negated if the caster attacks anything or uses any other power. It should be noted that this spell makes animals oblivious to the caster via sight, smell and sound abilities such as Acute Hearing or Sniff.

Speak With Animals
Level: 3	Range: Self
Gesture: None	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Forests, Father of the World
Verbal: “Powers of Nature allow me to converse with animals”
Notes: Allows the caster to speak to all animals for the duration. It does not however imbue those animals with extra intelligence or make them friendly although they will understand the caster’s words and he their responses.

Speak With Plants
Level: 3	Range: Self
Gesture: None	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Forest, Father of the World
Verbal: “Plants, speak with me and relate what thou knowest”
Notes: Allows the caster to speak with all plants. This does not imbue the plant with any extra senses although it may respond to the caster, normal plants will know very little beyond their own nature or things that immediately interact with them. Normal plants will always be friendly, other plants will act as they see fit.

Cudgel
Level: 4	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch weapon	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Summer, Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: “May Earthpower infuse this club”
Notes: Target wooden weapon is +1 in the hands of the caster, the weapon becomes empowered to the degree that it is immune to destruction effects such as Shatter but this evocation does not allow it to inflict supernatural damage. At 8 th level a Druid may spend 15 points to memorise a known tree not in line of sight so that he may shift there. If that tree is somehow destroyed those points are wasted. Advanced Evocations

Please see above on the rules changes for how Fields work. Also some Evocations may have a prerequisite, which is required before they may be learnt.

Joining
Level: 0	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: Adventure
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: All
Verbal: “May your ties to the world be reaffirmed by this act of joining”
Notes: An EP Mark Ally. Costs 1 tlp to cast, only works on willing targets that are not immune to beneficial Earthpower (Elves are not immune). Counts as a 1 EP evocation to buy/add to evocation list. There are various other evocations which EP users may only cast upon those who are under the effects of this evocation. Note though that you would need to be marked by a specific Druid in order for that Druid to be able to cast such evocations upon you, being “joined” by one Druid does not allow every Druid to cast these upon you.

Bandage Infusion
Level: 1	Range: Touch
Gesture: Special	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Druidic Heal	Fields: Autumn, Mother Nature
Verbal: “May the strength of the world abide here for a time and may its strength replenish thine own”
Notes: Caster must tie a bandage around the targets wounded location. After 30 seconds the target will receive 4/4 curing (1 HTK). The bandage must remain tied in place for a full 5 minutes, if removed before that the wound will re-open and the benefits of this evocation will be lost. The benefits of this evocation are cumulative with other published Bandaging abilities, where relevant. This curing is ‘physical’ and can benefit elves etc, but not creatures fully immune to flesh and blood such as Undead and Angelkind.

Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Forest, Father of the World

It can only be cast on a “natural plants” (though it may be used on animate versions of them, such as Animated Trees) and then only effecting up to the caster’s level. Handfire
Level: 1	Range: 10'
Gesture: Hold empty hand out flat	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Summer, Deserts
Verbal: "Fire come and light my way"
Notes: Creates a small pillar of mystic fire that cannot actually burn anything, but simply hovers near the caster, or can be 'held'. This can be moved around (though slowly and never more than 6' away from the caster), directed by the caster's will, but such movement requires concentration, and the evocation fails if the caster runs/fights/casts. .

Gesture: Cut palm	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Rivers, Horned Man
Verbal: "May poisons flow as raging rivers!"

Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Rivers, Horned Man
Verbal: "May this water be your undoing!"
Notes: Turns 50 ml of normal liquid into a single dose of BV 1 or IV 2, which lasts for 1 minute. evocation.

Aerie’s Foul Feast
Level: 5	Range: Touch
Gesture: Cut corpse apart	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Cause Disease	Fields: Deserts, Shadow of the Dawn
Verbal: “Let the remnants of life be drawn to the fore and this putrid flesh be as a pauper’s feast”
Notes: When cast on a recently dead (last 5 minutes) flesh and blood body of at least human in size this transforms their flesh into a feast. This has one of two effects (chosen when cast): An individual can over 5 minutes eat from the flesh and they will benefit as if they had eaten a good day’s worth of food allowing them to stave off starvation and the like. Alternatively the person eating the flesh draws the life into them healing their wounds. This grants them 36/36 healing at the end of 5 minutes of eating. It should be noted while this is Flesh and Blood healing it does effect elves. Whichever version is used the recipient of the meal suffers as per the 5 minute stage of a disease upon completion for the next 5 minutes, unless immune to disease.

Blessing of the City Spirit
Level: 5	Range: Self
Gesture: None	Duration: Until Sunrise
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Cities
Verbal: “I call to the city of (name) and the spirit that dwells within. Grant me the gifts that you bestow on the Kallah that serve you”
Notes: Grants the caster the Basic Kallah benefits of the chosen city until sunrise. This evocation may be cast a second time to gain Intermediate tier benefits, and a third time for Advanced tier benefits. Only one set of Kallah benefits may be active at a time. Used Kallah innates are NOT regained if the Evocation is released and recast. If cast within the relevant city then the base cost of the evocation is reduced to 4.

Conjure Cloud
Level: 5	Range: Caster
Gesture: Point to the sky	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Predict Weather	Fields: Spring, Skies, Keeper of the Winds
Verbal: “From the skies above I call forth a cloud to dwell below with me for a time!”
Notes: This evocation causes a small cloud to form and hover just over the head of the caster. This cloud may be used by any Druid within 20’ as a source of lightning for the evocation Call Lightning (or similar). If cast under an already cloudy sky any use of Call Lightning (not Spark or other abilities) cast within 20’ of the cloud will also act as a Knockdown and leave the target stunned for 5 seconds (as per non-level based Halt). Immunity to physical electricity grants immunity to these FX’s, or immunities to Halt and Knockdown may be applied separately.

Hail Storm
Level: 5	Range: As Gust of wind
Gesture: Form arms into a cone	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: Predict Weather, Resist Fire	Fields: Winter, Skies, Keeper of the Winds
Verbal: “Hail come and assail my foes”
Notes: Affects all targets within a 20’ 60° cone (cf. Neuronic Flare). All suffer 6/1 (2 HTK) natural cold damage (innate PAC 1 grants immunity) and are knocked back to the edge of the effect. Immunity to Natural Cold grants complete immunity to this evocation, Immunity to Repels to the knockback. A creature that suffers baneful effects for being in a cold environment will suffer from those effects for 5 minutes after being affected by this evocation.

Puma’s Speed
Level: 5	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: Cat’s Grace	Fields: Deserts, Horned Man

Notes: This evocation allows the beneficiary to take 7 paces in Time Freeze as he moves too fast for any to act. Those with Lightning Reactions may keep their eyes open and follow his progress. The beneficiary may perform no other action bar stepping. May only be cast upon self, or upon a recipient of the 0 EP evocation “ Joining ” that has been cast by self.

Soothe Wounds
Level: 5	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: Special
Pre Requisites: Greater Druidic Heal	Fields: Spring, Rivers, Mother Nature
Verbal: “Let the wounds that burn be soothed by the touch of pure water”
Notes: Cast on a flesh and blood target causes 36 points (tblp and Locational) of permanent wounds to become healable. If the individual has sleep off perm then all such damage is alleviated. This can only be used on the dungeon that the injuries are suffered.

Stout Branches
Level: 5	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch Tree	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Animate Medium Tree	Fields: Forest, Father of the World
Verbal: “Treant grow ye tall and strong!”
Notes: Target Animated Tree’s branches now strike as per O class weapons rather than U/C, with the damage inflicted increasing by 1 grade that is EP enhanced as per Cudgel.

Gesture: Point at area where wall will appear	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Wind Walk (Self)	Fields: Spring, Skies, Keeper of the Winds
Verbal: “Air rise up and keep my foes at bay!”
Notes: Raises a translucent wall of buffeting air. The wall will be 20’ long, 20’ high but only 1” thick. Cleansing Fire
Level: 6	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: 15 minutes
Pre Requisites: Cure Disease	Fields: Summer, Deserts, Mother Nature
Verbal: “May cleansing fires burn within [me/thee] and burn away plague”
Notes: Target becomes immune to Disease for the duration. If cast upon someone who is already afflicted by a disease, this will allow the target to function as if not diseased for the duration, but once the evocation ends the disease will continue from its previous point. May only be cast upon self, or upon a recipient of the 0 EP evocation “Joining”.

Cobra Strike
Level: 6	Range: Self
Gesture: None	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: Puma’s Speed	Fields: Horned Man
Verbal: “Let my body and poise become as one so I may strike with the speed of the Cobra”
Notes: Allows the caster to strike a single blow within a time freeze. They may not move to deliver the blow, so the target must already be in range. Lightning Reactions grants complete immunity to this evocation and the damage that can be delivered is limited to Quad. Due to the strain on the body the evocation can only be cast once in a 5 minute period.

Dawn’s Light
Level: 6	Range: 20’
Gesture: Point at target	Duration: 30 seconds
Pre Requisites: Handfire	Fields: Summer, Deserts, Father of the World
Verbal: “May the light of dawn’s rays blind thee!”
Notes: Target is struck blind for the duration. May only be cast in bright daylight or within 5’ of a strong light source such as a bonfire or a Light Spell. A Handfire evocation is not sufficient.

Level: 6	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch target with both hands	Duration: Hangs on hands for 30 secs
Pre Requisites: Druidic Harm	Fields: Winter, Deserts, Shadow of the Dawn
Verbal: “May the world turn its hand against thee and may you suffer great harm”
Notes: The caster inflicts 36/6 points of damage (12 HTK) by touch (with both hands) in a manner similar to Druidic Harm. Innate PAC applies so 1 PAC negates 6/1 damage.

Greater Druidic Heal
Level: 6	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: Druidic Heal	Fields: Spring, Rivers, Mother Nature
Verbal: “Water heal and fire seal these mortal wounds that you may breathe easy once more”
Notes: This evocation cures a Flesh and Blood creature 36 tblp and 36pts locational damage, this healing may be split between as many locations as desired by caster. Should the target have the post 8 th tables ability Affinity with Nature then this spell instead cures 54/54 as long as the prerequisite time is spent in preparation.

Greater Ensnare
Level: 6	Range: 20'
Gesture: Grasping motion with hands	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Ensnare	Fields: Autumn, Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: “May the powers of nature hold thee”

Life Bloom
Level: 6	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: 1 hour
Pre Requisites: Slow Healing	Fields: Spring, Mother Nature
Verbal: “Let the essence of life within you flourish and blossom”
Notes: Creates a spark of life within the recipient. This results in them receiving the benefits of a Druidic Heal should they reach 0 or less tblp or a location falls to 0 or less. This healing occurs after the damage so unless live to minus is owned the person may die on tblp before it triggers. May only be cast upon self or a recipient of the 0 EP evocation “ Joining ”.

Oaken Spear
Level: 6	Range: 20'
Gesture: Point at target	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: Entangle	Fields: Summer, Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: “May the trees of the forest rise up against thee”
Notes: May only be cast on a target that is standing within 5' of a tree. A large branch shoots off the tree, inflicting a 24 point quad to a location chosen by the caster (8 HTK vs. monsters). This inflicts damage in the same way as a thrown weapon, so any abilities that would apply to a mundane thrown weapon applies, as does any reductions that specifically apply vs. H class weapons (Arrow Cutting, for example). Immunity to Call Loc. Shot grants complete immunity to this evocation.

Oak Nature
Level: 6	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Animate Large Tree	Fields: Summer, Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: “May the world grant [me/thee] the strength of the Oak”

Rising Sap
Level: 6	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: 1 hour
Pre Requisites: Druidic Heal	Fields: Spring, Forest, Mother Nature
Verbal: “May the world grant [me/thee] succour, quicken my blood and let the body heal as nature wishes”
Notes: This evocation works as a Regeneration Elixir, except is not a potion. Thusly for 1 hour - all cuts on the beneficiary seal up immediately, stopping any bleeding straight away, and the user regenerates 1tblp and 1pt to the worst location every 5 minutes. If the user relaxes and does nothing but rest during this time the regeneration is increased to 6tblp and 1pt to each location per 5 minutes. This will not benefit a creature that already has regeneration. For 1 hour after this evocation has worn off, the target takes ½ effect from all flesh and blood healing, e.g. Druidic Heal, Healing potions. This is a Flesh and Blood effect, as per Druidic Heal. May only be cast upon self or a recipient of the 0 EP evocation “ Joining ”.

Sloth’s Speed
Level: 6	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch target	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Spider’s Silk	Fields: Shadow of the Dawn
Verbal: “May the world grant thee the speed of a sloth”
Notes: This causes the recipient to be reduced to moving at half speed. The caster has 30 seconds within which to touch a target upon casting this evocation. Immunity to Slow applies.

Toughen Hide
Level: 6	Range: Self
Gesture: Touch armour	Duration: Until Next Dawn
Pre Requisites: Life’s Memories	Fields: Summer, Deserts, Horned Man
Verbal: “Hold firm and remain stalwart in my defence!”
Notes: This evocation empowers any leather armour worn by the caster such that it grants +1 PAC & +1 Max AC. The armour loses no uses that day [unless supernatural], and additionally becomes immune to accuracy vs. the first attack against which it is relevant, this immunity to accuracy may be re-powered after use for 1 EP, or with 30 seconds concentration.

Wall of Brambles
Level: 6	Range: 20'
Gesture: Indicate area the wall will grow	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Wall of Thorns	Fields: Spring, Forest, Father of the World
Verbal: "Powers of Earth grow for me a wall of brambles!"
Notes: As Wall of Thorns, but if pushed through inflicts not only 24/4 but also a dose of BV 6 to any transgressor. This wall has 300 sharp or fire only HTK. These poisons cannot ever heal damage or grant any other system benefit, unless their target has an ability that specifically mentions this evocation ~ this means that even if a target would normally be healed by poison they are not healed by this evocation.

Endurance of the Mountains
Level: 7	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Stoneskin (Self)	Fields: Mountain, Father of the World
Verbal: "May the world grant [me/thee] the endurance of the ancient peaks"
Notes: The target gains +36/12 temporary life. This life is not cumulative with any other evocation, spell, miracle or ability that grants additional temp life, and is broken should the recipient leave contact with the ground. May only be cast on self, or upon a recipient of the 0 EP evocation " Joining ".

Envenom
Level: 7	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch weapon	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Greater Water of Spite	Fields: Rivers, Horned Man
Verbal: "Water drip and linger here, the spite of this [weapon] my foes shall fear"
Notes: The first blow struck by target weapon every 30 seconds will inflict a dose of BV 6. These poisons cannot ever heal damage or grant any other system benefit, unless their target has an ability that specifically mentions this evocation ~ this means that even if a target would normally be healed by poison they are not healed by this evocation.

Grand Howl
Level: 8/8	Range: Hearing
Gesture: Howl	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Wolf's Howl	Fields: Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: "May the World give me its attention for a time- I call to the wolf pack!"
Notes: As Wolf's Howl, except causes fear in anyone who hears the howling of the caster. The caster may elect for this evocation to not affect any he has cast the " Joining " evocation upon. After the first Howl, the caster may Howl again at any point within this evocation's duration, for only 2 EP. Any affected by the fear caused by this evocation will only remain afraid as long as this evocation is active.

Greater Cudgel
Level: 7	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch weapon	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Cudgel	Fields: Summer, Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: "May Earthpower infuse this Club, may it strike hard and deep"
Notes: As per Cudgel, except the empowered weapon must be used in 2 hands, and can inflict any of Shatter, Knock Back or Knock Down on a blow but at most once per 10 seconds. If cast upon a weapon that already has a Cudgel evocation active upon it, this only costs 5 EP (not with any other reductions in casting cost).

Meld With Earth
Level: 7	Range: Caster
Gesture: None	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Stoneskin (Self)	Fields: Autumn, Mountain, Father of the World
Verbal: “Powers of earth embrace me and grant me shelter”
Notes: The caster is drawn into the earth he is standing on for the duration of the spell. Whilst active the Druid is deemed not to exist for any purpose bar observation, the Druid may perceive during this time but cannot prematurely end the evocation. Recognise Earthpower ability will reveal the presence of the Druid.

Regrowth
Level: 7	Range: Touch
Gesture: Attach severed limb	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Greater Druidic or Slow Heal	Fields: Spring, Rivers, Mother Nature
Verbal: “Water purify this severed stump, earth form bone and flesh anew”
Notes: This evocation will re-attach a severed body part to the recipient. The part is held back in its original location and after 5 minutes full use is returned. This evocation only works on Flesh and Blood targets.

Stumbling Tread
Level: 7	Range: 20’
Gesture: Point at target	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Trip	Fields: Autumn, Forest, Father of the World
Verbal: “May the ground tremble and quake beneath thee!”
Notes: Every time target tries to take a step or stand up they suffer as per the Trip evocation.

Winter’s Touch
Level: 7	Range: 20’
Gesture: Point at target	Duration: 30 seconds
Pre Requisites: Resist Fire	Fields: Winter, Shadow of the Dawn
Verbal: “May you feel the chill of winter biting deep!”
Notes: Target is frozen still for the duration. This is a Listed Stopping Effect and only works on targets with a resistance level to physical effects which is equal to or lower than the caster’s own level. Immunity to natural cold grants complete immunity to this evocation. A creature that suffers baneful effects for being in a cold environment will suffer from those effects for 5 minutes after this evocation wears off.

Creeping Swarm
Level: 8/8	Range: 20’
Gesture: Point at target	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Control Animal	Fields: Autumn, Deserts, Shadow of the Dawn
Verbal: “And so they come gathered by my call, a flowing torrent of creatures small, ever creeping over frail skin, clawing biting digging in, feasting upon your flesh so warm, arises here the creeping swarm!”
Notes: A swarm of tiny biting insects will crawl all over a Flesh & Blood target. These inflict 6/1 (2 HTK to monsters) physical damage every 15 seconds for the duration. The swarm will only remain in place as long as the caster concentrates on maintaining this evocation. Caster may move at a slow walk and talk slowly and still maintain this, but if the caster runs, fights, casts or suffers harm this evocation will end. Innate PAC 1 grants complete immunity to this.

Deluge's Uplifting Gust

Level: 8/8	Range: 20'
Gesture: Indicate target and cast hand upwards	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Gust of Wind	Fields: Skies, Keeper of the Winds
Verbal: "To the azure realms of the clouds I cast you skyward "
Notes: Causes the target to be thrown high (To the High height) in the sky and held there. The target can act freely but cannot move from the spot unless they are able to walk on air or shift away. At the end of evocation (even if ended early by some means) they return safely to the ground (in a similar manner to snowflake). Immunity to repels applies.

Ironskin

Level: 8/8	Range: Caster
Gesture: Touch own head with both hands	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Stoneskin (Self)	Fields: Mountains, Horned Man
Verbal: "May the strength of the greatest mountains be upon me now, may my body be armoured in the toughest rock, my muscles be hard as diamond and my skin as strong as iron. The natural power fills me and defends me."
Notes: This evocation armours the recipient such that they take only 1pt of damage per damage grade. Thus 1 point from a single, 3 from a triple 5 from a quin. This defence only applies against blows with no supernatural component however. Whilst this evocation is active, the caster may only travel at ½ speed and may not run, but may still fight at full speed. It is not standardly possible to benefit from this evocation and any form of active parry ability –since this evocation clearly does not allow 'free movement'.

Slow Death

Level: 8/8	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch target with both hands	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Druidic Harm	Fields: Winter, Deserts, Shadow of the Dawn
Verbal: "May the world turn its hand against thee and may you suffer in lingering agony"
Notes: This evocation causes the target to suffer a Druidic Harm to the locations touched when this evocation was cast upon them, and then again at the end of every 30 seconds for the duration of this evocation. If the target receives a Druidic Heal whilst this evocation is upon them then this will be removed from them. If a target should be suffering from multiple castings of this evocation, each requires a separate Druidic Heal to remove. This evocation hangs for 30 seconds on the caster's hands.

Slow Healing

Level: 8/8	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Druidic Heal	Fields: Spring, Rivers, Mother Nature
Verbal: "Water heal and fire seal as the world holds you in its embrace"
Notes: Target is healed 12/12 in a similar manner to Druidic Heal, for every 30 seconds within the duration. This evocation is broken if target moves from the point of casting in any significant way, casts or fights, i.e. the recipient could sit down, talk & generally be relaxed, but could not do anything that isn't "restful".

The Crowd Fades
Level: 8/8	Range: 20'
Gesture: None	Duration: 1 hour
Pre Requisites: Lost in the Crowd	Fields: Cities
Verbal: “As we walk these streets let the city forget us as we become as nothing”
Notes: Acts as the Lost in the Crowd Evocation except it effects the caster and everyone that is under a joining evocation as long as they remain within 20ft of the caster.

Tiger’s Prowl
Level: 8/8	Range: Caster
Gesture: None	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Camouflage	Fields: Forest, Horned Man
Verbal: “May the world grant me the guise of the Prowling Tiger”
Notes: Whilst in a natural/woodland environment the caster becomes invisible, he can move at a normal walk, or talk quietly and still maintain this evocation. This evocation will go down if the caster runs, fights, casts or suffers harm.

Wither
Level: 8/8	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch target	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Greater Druidic Harm	Fields: Autumn, Deserts, Shadow of the Dawn
Verbal: “Flesh rot and bone crumble, flames dance within this limb”
Notes: Only works on non-critical locations of Flesh & Blood targets. Target limb rots and withers away becoming unusable for the duration. This can instead be removed instantly by a Regeneration miracle or a Regrowth evocation. Immunity to Wither applies and the evocation hangs on the hand for 30 seconds after casting.

Breath of Life
Level: 8/10	Range: Touch
Gesture: 5 minute ritual ending with the set verbals	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: Druidic Total Heal	Fields: Spring, Rivers, Mother Nature
Verbal: “Powers of Nature breathe thy life giving essence into this creatures mortal form, let it arise and walk free in your world, Primus has taken its toll but this soul of..[target’s res name]... needs to return. By my power and rites thou art called back to this place. Your body takes its first breath...the Breath of Life”
Notes: This acts in a similar manner to the miracle restore life, costing 10% res chance if cast on the adventure the death happened on, and 20% if later. It requires a 5 minute ritual ending with the verbal above. If the recipient remains restful in the area of the resurrection for 5 minutes after being returned to life they are then completely healed. This miracle only works on flesh and blood creatures, but functions regardless of alignment.

Druidic Total Heal
Level: 8/10	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch recipient	Duration: Instant
Pre Requisites: Greater Druidic or Slow Heal	Fields: Spring, Rivers, Mother Nature
Verbal: “Child of the World how badly you fare, but you may rest easy in my care. Water heal this ravaged one, Earth regrow the shattered bone, Fire seal the wounds of strife, and Air flow in and renew life”
Notes: This evocation cures the target Flesh & Blood creature 72tblp and 72pts of location damage, or fully if prepped for 30 seconds [cf. Total Heal miracle].

Natural Death
Level: 8/10	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch target	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Greater Druidic Harm	Fields: Winter, Deserts, Shadow of the Dawn
Verbal: “May the world turn its hand against thee and may you suffer and die, the natural forces gather at my call and the end comes near...!”
Notes: As this evocation is cast upon a target Flesh & Blood creature they will collapse into a cataleptic state. At the end of the evocation’s duration the target will die. If the target has 1 resistance to Touch of Death they will not die, but will come round. If the victim receives 36 points of EP healing while unconscious they will come round (and thus not die at the end of the duration). If the target is immune to Catalepsy, uses a War-Cry or has Determination they can keep moving for the 5 minutes but will still die at the end of the duration unless they possess at least 1 resistance to Touch of Death or receive 36 points of Druidic Healing. This evocation will hang for 30secs.

Remus’ Tremors
Level: 8/10	Range: Self
Gesture: Stamp foot	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Quake	Fields: Mountains
Verbal: “May the earth tremble beneath my step. Let the ground shake and quake.”
Notes: Causes the ground within 10ft of the caster to tremble and shake. Anyone walking on the ground that is not benefitting from a Walk on Earth (or similar) is unable to stand (this does not include the caster). Neuro-Balance or Stability grant immunity to this. Should the caster leave the ground for any reason the evocation ends. At the ref’s discretion this may be used to cause damage to weak structures.

Shroud of Halgar
Level: 8/10	Range: Self
Gesture: None	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: None	Fields: Cities
Verbal: “Let my presence in this world be touched by the throne and become one with nature”
Notes: Grants the caster Immunity to Magic and Spirit for the duration. This evocation can only be cast while on Primus.

Swarm of Flies
Level: 8/10	Range: 20'
Gesture: Point at target	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Control Animal	Fields: Summer, Deserts, Horned Man
Verbal: “Flies rise up and engulf thee!”
Notes: This evocation causes flies and other insects to swarm around the target in a distracting fashion. The victim cannot use any melee skill based abilities (weapon masteries, back stab, counter mastery etc) while under this effect unless they have Insensitive Skin or Immunity to Loss of Weapon Masteries due to Visual Environment, or do not have physical hits at all. Any ‘blast’ style damage to the target ends the spell – e.g. a Fireblast, or Call Lightning spell as this will kill the flies.

Travel the Hidden Paths
Level: 8/12	Range: Same Plane
Gesture: Trace along the gate/arch	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: The City Speaks	Fields: Cities
Verbal: “Let this path before me pass from [Here] to the city of [Name]. Allow those that travel with me to pass along these hidden paths.”
Notes: The evocation may only be cast while in a large city, and must be cast on a large gate or archway. It mystically enchants the gate so that when walked through those under a joining evocation are transported to the chosen city. The entrance to the path closes as soon as the caster steps on it. The journey between cities takes 5 minutes to complete.

Verdant Flesh
Level: 8/10	Range: Self
Gesture: None	Duration: 3 Hours
Pre Requisites: Slow Healing	Fields: Mother Nature
Verbal: “Let the touch of nature be upon me and come to my aid as it is needed”
Notes: The evocation infuses the caster with exceptional healing powers. This results in the next 3 times they are struck they instantly receive a Druidic Heal (regardless of the damage suffered). An individual can only be under one such evocation at a time.

Walk Through Earth
Level: 8/10	Range: Caster
Gesture: None	Duration: 5 minutes
Pre Requisites: Meld With Earth	Fields: Mountains, Father of the World
Verbal: “Powers of Earth embrace me and let me pass unhindered”
Notes: :Upon casting this evocation the caster truly becomes one with the earth itself allowing him to simply pass through any non-supernatural earth or stone wall at will, with a 2 seconds disorientation emerging as normal (cf. Walk Through Walls).

Well of Knowledge
Level: 8/10	Range: Caster
Gesture: Drink	Duration: 2 minutes
Pre Requisites: Font of Knowledge	Fields: Rivers, Father of the World
Verbal: “As I drink from the Well of Knowledge I abjure thee, open my eyes and let me see the truth of all things!”
Notes: Gains three questions as a Communication II miracle – with up to a 7 word answer but must be about something with a physical or natural aspect. Questions about subjects that are specifically magical and/or spiritual in nature will remain unanswered. Before asking each question must drink some water representing taking knowledge from the well, taking 10 seconds to give the act the ritual respect it deserves.

Travelling the World Tree
Level: 8/12+N	Range: Touch
Gesture: Touch tree	Duration: 30 seconds
Pre Requisites: Forest Shift	Fields: Forest, Father of the World
Verbal: “From here to there we wish to travel! May the pathways open! Each must pay a toll, which the World Tree seeks”
Notes: This evocation allows the Druid to open a portal from one tree to another over any distance (and will cross planes) and for 30 seconds anyone can walk from that tree to the other. This works in a manner similar to the Forest Shift evocation, and can only travel to a tree within line of sight, or to a tree that has been memorised by the caster. The journey takes 15 minutes regardless of distance. Beings travelling via this method all take 12 tblp damage (non-reducible by any means) as the World Tree takes its payment for allowing the travellers to walk its branches. This evocation costs 12 EP to open the portal (to which any applicable EP reductions may be applied), then 1 EP per person transported. The gateway closes should the caster enter. This evocation is learnt as a 12EP spell. Note that this evocation may only be purchased by a Druid who has a Talisman ability (see the post 8 th ability section of this book) that is a tree.

Spring’s Soothing Rain
Level: 8/20	Range: Caster
Gesture: None	Duration: 24 hours
Pre Requisites: Slow Healing	Fields: Spring, Mother Nature

Druidic Talismans

Talismans act as a source of strength to Druids; they are symbols of and links to the world around them through which their power flows.

Various Post 8th Druidic abilities are listed as being Talismans.

Any 1st Class Druidic bracket character may have 1 Talisman on table 1 and a second on table 9. Ley Walkers are the exception to this and do not gain Talisman slots, instead they may fill their Tendency slots with Talismans if desired.

Any 2nd Class Druidic bracket or Alfar character [if not 1st class Druidic bracket as above] may buy one such Talisman on table 9.

Once a Talisman ability is purchased the character must wear something indicative of the link as a part of their costume. This could be a badge with an eagle head to indicate an Eagle Talisman, a feather, twig, small rock, bag of sand or similar.

If the object that is representing the Talisman is not carried/worn by the Druid its benefits are lost until it is retrieved, but disadvantages are still suffered. If a Talisman is lost permanently any benefits of the Talisman are also lost until it can be replaced (typically off adventure).

Certain Talismans are tied to conclaves. A person may only ever benefit from one Talisman that is tied to a Conclave, and if they leave the Conclave then the benefits of the Talisman are lost.

Post-8th Abilities

Below are listed various post-8th level abilities for Druid classes which may be bought post-8th. The list below supersedes any previous lists – some abilities have been removed – others updated.

Some abilities are listed as being on Table 0. Such abilities must be selected at 1st level and must be recorded on the character's card. These abilities may ONLY be selected when the character is created; it is not possible to acquire them at a later point in the character's development. With this in mind it is not possible for a character who multi-classes to a class that could buy any of these abilities to acquire any of them.

It is possible to select more than one such ability, but if so then no other post 8th abilities may be purchased until the character has purchased all of the required abilities. This applies equally to such abilities purchased from this list as to such abilities from elsewhere (Noble by Blood, Imperial Yeoman etc)

Availability

Those abilities listed here as being available to Any may be purchased by a Druid, High Druid, Forest Guardian or Leywalker.

Where Druid is stated in the post 8th options it solely applies to the Druid character class.

Despite some abilities in this book being available to Rangers, a Ranger may not buy abilities listed as available to Any using their Ranger "buy as".

Notes

References to flesh-and-blood within this book generally exclude elvenkind and faeries etc, unless they are specifically mentioned in the ability.

For the purposes of abilities within this book, 'elemental' includes fire, air, earth and water but not light or dark.

No Earthpower cost reduction within this book allows an Evocation to be reduced below one Earthpower.

Table 0

Militant	Cost: 40pts*	T: 0
Available To: Forest Guardian
Buys additionally as Warrior Subclass, is within the Warrior Bracket, but does not gain a tradition. May now wear any armour/use any weapons. All Druid abilities are now considered to be on 2 tables higher. Casts EP in a similar manner to a Leywalker (requirement to find Ley-Lines etc).
Tribal	Cost: 0pts	T: 0
Available To: Druid, High Druid
Is a Barbarian rather than a Human. If a High Druid now calculates EP in the same manner as a Shaman calculates Spirits, if a Druid then at a Shaman's rate but never benefiting from more than at most 6 tribe members (including self). Thus – Four members of the tribe on dungeon with their 8 th level Tribal High Druid would generate $4+1 \times 8 = 40\text{EP}$ May not be of the same alignment as either the Tribe's Witch Doctor or Shaman. If a tribe member has an ability that prohibits them contributing power to either the Shaman or the Witch Doctor, they will not provide any EP to the Tribal Druid either unless that ability specifically says otherwise. A tribe member who counts as additional tribe members for both the Shaman and Witch Doctor also provides additional power to the Tribal Druid unless that ability specifically says otherwise. No tribe may have more than 1 Druid, be it a Druid or High Druid. Tribes do not have Forest Guardians, as each tribe has only one 'Druid' role accepted - any with talent for EP are either encouraged to become a Druid, or are given no teaching and instead take more normal tribal paths.

If an evocation falls into two Fields that Chosen is owned in then the EP reductions do not stack. A Druid can take all three Chosen Fields within the same Learning or all three must be from different Learnings (So taking three Fields from the Seasons Learning is fine, but it would not be possible take Summer, Spring and then a Field from a different Learning).

Appendix One: Conclaves

Below are a small number of Conclaves (as detailed earlier) with their associated lists. Hopefully these simple ideas will provide a basis for others to start and build on their own. Players are free to join these Conclaves as they would any that start in the future.

Beast Within

Based in the Shedeft forest this group are dedicated to mastering the inner animal, the ties that all people have to the beasts of the world. While others seek to control their anger or compassion the Druids of this Conclave embrace it freely, even calling to it when needed.

Many eventually twist and become more akin to the beasts they drawn upon.

This is not to say they seek to defend all animals, though some might, since the role of predator and prey is important in the cycle of life.

Wardens of the Seasons

A nomadic group of Druids they travel across Labyrinthia, and sometimes beyond, ensuring that the seasons are held in check. Their teachings say that the seasons were once powerful forces of nature, wild and angry, seeking to dominate the world rather than work in harmony. One day the heroes of the time stood against the Seasons and forced them to accept defeat, and submission. The cycle of the seasons was formed, with each gaining their time for dominance and their time for weakness. Unwilling agreement however cannot be relied upon and the Wardens of the Seasons ensure that the natural order is maintained. They ensure that not one of the seasons can break from its place, and that no man can change the course of the year so far it would throw the age old agreement into chaos.

Hunters and stalkers. They move through the forests using their powers to hunt their foes and kill them. Some work on a Noble's land leading the hunt, others stalk the forests seeking to kill those that would bring harm to nature. The order is a secretive one; while its existence is common knowledge its members often hide this fact. When meeting they come with their faces veiled so none present are aware of the others identity.

Harbingers of the Dawn

This Conclave feels it is their sacred duty to usher in the Final Dawn. As the year moves on they seek out those things that would cause problems, or weaken the year's passing. They also ensure that others are prepared for the Dawn, sometimes counselling on how much food will be needed or offering advice on if the elderly will survive the Dawn. Their message is always the same though, prepare for the Dawn and embrace the cleansing touch it brings, but never seek to bar its progress for it is a force of the world

The Blood Sacrificed

A harsh and evil group. Born from the Dark Forest they are slowly spreading across the Empire and beyond. They believe in blood sacrifice and the offering of human life to nature to further its growth. They believe that humans should serve the world around them not master it, and those that cannot accept this are heretics and their blood should feed the world they refuse to bend the knee to. This extreme view has resulted in their group being Ostracised by the Empire, but they do not care.

Trip	2	Forest Shift	7
		Natural Death	10

The Protectors

Much as their name sounds a pretentious group that are dedicated to defending nature and ensuring that man and beast live in harmony, and city and forest can co-exist. They seek to slow the cultivation of farm land, and stop the explosion of population saying the world is not ready for it. They rally against the expansion of guilds because of their need for sacred ancient wood from the deepest parts of the forest. They rise up against needless hunting or over fishing saying that if man does not care for the world then one day the world will turn on them.

Some of the group have taken even more extreme measures, attacking those seeking to expand farms, or disrupting the building of Guild Halls when they can.

Imperial Nature

Founding Druid: Crepitus

As the Empress rose to be the Realm Spirit of the Empire so was she empowered by the elemental strength of the Empire itself and the creatures within. Now she can, if she so desires, influence and direct this strength. It is this facet of the Empress or personification of Nature that is revered by the Druids of the Legions and some of those Druids residing within the Empire itself.

This Conclave was founded by the High Druid Crepitus as a home for those fellow Druids who were loyal to the Empire. Following many years service in the 28th Imperial Legion and time spent serving as Inquisitorial Gaius he sought to establish a means to help strengthen Nature's place within the Empire itself.

Appendix Three: Druidic Script

The knowledge that Druids hold is passed on through oral tradition, often stories and legends recall great Druidic tales, the lesson learnt and the power awakened. Druidical script does however exist, though little survives into the 3rd Age. It takes the form of Ogham – a series of horizontal and vertical marks. Various internet sites have downloadable fonts available.

Capital letters are represented by turning the letter through ninety degrees but these are often not used.

‘The Horned Man’ would be The Horned Man with capitals or the horned man without.

Likewise ‘Powers of Nature’ is rendered as Powers of Nature with capitals and powers of nature without.

Acknowledgements and Thanks

First thank you to everyone that has endured the continual re-spends and changing nature of the Druid class over the years. Hopefully this will be the last time.

I'd also like to thank everyone that helped with this version for their hard work in coming up with new ideas and different ways to make Druids interesting and playable.

And finally a special thank you to the hard working formatting team that has helped with this, and every other book, it hasn't been a small task but your efforts are massively appreciated.
